SUPREME COURT REFUSES TO HALT INVESTIGATION OF SIDENER'S OFFICE

Circuit Attorney Loses Fight to Exclude Himself From Scope of Rutherford Case Inquiry.

GENTRY GOES AHEAD WITH CASE IN CITY

First Witnesses Called Before Grand Jury of Present Term, "Missing" Man Among Them.

The Missouri Supreme Court today denied Circuit Attorney Sidener's petition for a writ of prohibition to stop the grand jury inquiry under the direction of Attorney-General Gentry into the settlement of the Rutherford murder case by payment of a $500 fine, and into the general conduct of the Circuit Attorney's office.

No written opinion was given by the Court. The Justices concurring in the decision were Chief Justice Blair and Judges Ragland, Walker and White. Judge Graves dissented, and Judges Atwood and Otto were not present.

The court's decision means that the inquiry, which was begun with this morning's session of the grand jury, can go on without interference through the life of the present grand jury, which continues through next week. After that, it is the Attorney-General's purpose to carry on the inquiry through the next, or June, grand jury.

The order issued yesterday by Circuit Judge Mix, under which the inquiry is proceeding, and which was based on Gov. Baker's order for an inquiry into the Rutherford case, called for an inquiry not only into that case, but into the Circuit Attorney's office generally.

Had Been Overruled by Mix.

Sidener, in his petition against the inquiry, which was overruled by the Supreme Court, set forth that Judge Mix, who accepted W. S. Rutherford's plea of guilty to manslaughter, and imposed the $500 fine on Sidener's recommendation, is an interested party in the inquiry, and therefore has no legal right to issue any order concerning it.

The Circuit Attorney went to Jefferson City on a late train last night, and spent the early morning hours on a cot in the hallway of a crowded hotel. He was at the Supreme Court building at 8 a. m., accompanied by his attorney, Thomas J. Rowe, who filed the petition.

Chief Justice Blair appeared at the building soon afterward, and called a conference of the court en banc for 10:15 a. m. The usual procedure, in such a case, would have been for the Chief Justice to take up the matter himself, and either to deny consideration, or to issue a preliminary rule, restraining action temporarily, and then call a session of the court to consider a permanent order.

Judge Blair, it appeared, thought it not best to take either of these courses of action in the present case, independently of the rest of the court, and therefore called the other justices into immediate conference.

It was recognized that, if a preliminary restraining order were issued, and the matter went over for several days, Sidener would gain his point, as he was seeking only to have the matter go over to the next grand jury.

The Attorney-General and his special assistant, Arthur V. Lashly, began their work with the grand jury this morning, without waiting for the Supreme Court's ruling.

Previous Jury Members Called.

The witnesses summoned for the morning session, with one exception, were members of the present or one of the two preceding grand juries.

The one person aside from present and former grand jury members who appeared was R. L. Steinkoff, one of the witnesses in the Rutherford case. Steinkoff was an employe of the Majestic Hotel, where the shooting of Jack Tucker, a bellboy, by Rutherford, occurred. He heard statements made by Tucker after the shooting. Steinkoff was one of the witnesses who were spoken of, at the time the case was settled, as "missing," but he has since said he was in court ready to testify.

Steinkoff was examined for about half an hour. Witnesses heard before him were Circuit Judge Landwehr and Craig Macdonald, president of the United

SIR CHARLES WALPOLE, JURIST, FOUND DEAD; PISTOL AT SIDE

Had Held Important Posts in British Colonies and Was Author of Several Books.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 25.—Sir Charles Walpole, jurist and author, was found dead in the smoking room of his house in Kensington Court, late last night. Death was due to a bullet wound. A revolver lay beside the body.

Sir Charles, who was born in 1848, held several important judicial posts in Great Britain's colonial possessions. He was president of the District Court of Larkana, Cyprus, in 1889, and was chief justice at Gibraltar in 1892, becoming Chief Justice in the Bahamas a year later. He retired in 1897 and returned to England where he devoted himself to local affairs. He was the author of several books on the common law and of a history of the Kingdom of Ireland.

THYROID GRAFTING A SUCCESS

Girl Improves After Receiving Gland of Executed Slayer.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, May 25.—The grafting of the thyroid gland of an executed murderer named Olivier on a girl of Roubaix, as recently reported, has proved a complete success, according to the surgeon who performed the operation.

The girl was physically and mentally undeveloped. The first signs of improvement were observed three months after the operation, and today her medical attendants report that her mental and physical powers are up to the average, and she is considered as perfectly normal.

SHOWGIRL TELLS COURT ALL ABOUT CARROLL PARTY

Joyce Hawley, Testifying at Perjury Trial of Producer, Says She Was in the Tub, Drunk.

TELLS OF ATTEMPT TO CHANGE STORY

Declares She Was Offered $350 to Modify Statement—Comes to Court 90 Minutes Late.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Joyce Hawley testified today in the perjury trial of Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, that she not only occupied a bathtub on the stage of the Earl Carroll Theater on the morning of Feb. 23, but that she was drunk when she got into it from liquor served her in the theater.

She also testified that she had been offered $350 by an associate of Carroll if she would appear before the grand jury and say there was no champagne or wine served at the party.

The trial was delayed somewhat today when Miss Hawley, who was scheduled to be the first witness, failed to appear. United States Attorney Buckner put Irvin S. Cobb, writer and guest at the party, on the stand and then requested a recess because of Miss Hawley's absence.

She strolled into the court an hour and a half late, offering the explanation that she had read in a newspaper that she was to be the fourth witness of the day and not the first. The trial immediately was resumed with Miss Hawley on the stand.

Witness Nervous on Stand.

Dressed in a mauve gown with hat to match and a gray coat, Miss Hawley was plainly nervous and excited as she gave her first testimony, shifting in the witness stand and twisting her gloves in her hands.

Before testifying about the details of the bathtub party the witness said that Joyce Hawley was not her right name, that she was born in Chicago 17 years ago and came to this city last August. She said that her occupation was that of a chorus girl.

She testified that she attended the bathtub party at Carroll's invitation, arriving about midnight. Asked what happened after her arrival, she said: "Mr. Carroll told me to go behind the curtain until the bathtub was moved out on the stage. It was on the left-hand side of the stage, looking toward the audience."

"Did you look in it?" she was asked. "Yes."

"Any liquid in it?" Yes, there was a red liquid in it."

Had 3 or 4 Drinks.

"Did you drink from it?" "I had three or four drinks."

"Did you have any other drinks aside from what was in the tub?" "Yes, Chris Scaife or Jimmy Carroll gave me some from the table on the stage."

"What effect did these drinks have on you?"

Counsel for Carroll interposed an objection but Judge Goddard permitted the question to be answered, remarking that the witness should perhaps know better than anyone else.

"It got me drunk," Miss Hawley answered.

The witness was then asked what happened after the bath tub was moved to the center of the stage.

"Mr. Carroll said, 'Baby, all right, go behind the curtain,'" she testified "So you went there?" "Yes."

"Then what happened?" Miss Hawley replied that she had on one small garment and her shoes and Carroll came up with an opera cloak and led her to the bath tub.

"Did you see them put anything in the tub?" "Yes, they pored in some liquid from green bottles."

"How much was in the tub?" "Oh, about an inch and a half."

"Did you get into the tub?" "Yes, I did. I stayed about 5 minutes."

After she got into the tub, Miss Hawley testified, Carroll called out to the guests to come up on the stage and about 15 men did so.

"Some of them drank from the tub and some did not," she said. "I began to cry and they moved the tub off the stage, and Mr. Carroll bawled me out and gave me two Turkish towels."

Left Party at 5:30 A. M.

The witness said that she left the party about 5:30 in the morning. She saw Carroll at his theater two days later when she went to claim $700 she said he had promised her. She said she was asked whether she would rather

Amateur Detective Trails Pom Dogs, Beats Police of Several Cities to Big Catch

New York Business Man Tells How J. V. Wiedemeier, Confidence Man, Was Found in Atlantic City and Trailed to Philadelphia.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A short, chunky, young business man with a bundle of nerve decided to wind up a week of fun in Atlantic City by playing amateur detective, and the result was the capture in Philadelphia yesterday of a man said by police to be the bogus Baron Beaverbrook, a notorious confidence man, for many years evader of police of London, New York, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago and San Francisco.

In St. Louis "Baron Beaverbrook" was known as John V. Wiedemeier. Detectives caught him there last Oct. 12 after he had eloped with Mrs. Margaretta Hoffman, wife of a wealthy Chicago fur dealer. Before charges could be brought against him he jumped $10,000 bond, left $25,000 cash behind and vanished from St. Louis.

The "Baron," who has 49 aliases, is alleged to have victimized 20 women, old and young, of nearly $1,000,000; to be a bigamist, a bail jumper, an ex-convict, violator of the Mann act, and to have many times escaped the best detectives. But he was just a sucker for William A. Reunzeler, manager of the unwired building department of the New York Edison Co., and a couple of friends.

Held Without Bail.

The "Baron" was arraigned in Philadelphia yesterday and held without bail on a charge of larceny of $60,000 in Philadelphia and for extradition to this city where, Mrs. Ray Burken, 128 West Eleventh street, says he swindled her out of $125,000 in jewelry.

Philadelphia police said the man they held was the bogus Baron without doubt and Capt. Wood of the Philadelphia police said he had confessed to an amazing series of crimes.

Reunzeler introduced several new things in h isamateur detecting, notably the idea of flirting with every woman on the Atlantic City board walk who had a Pomeranian pup as a means of getting clews. This really located the "baron." According to Reunzeler, the New York Detective Bureau was notified at 8 p. m. Saturday that the "baron" had been found, but Detective Curtin, assigned to the case, was not sent down until 8 p. m. Sunday. The "baron" fled to Philadelphia and the amateurs followed him there, where Curtin made the arrest in the barber shop of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel.

Story of Amateur Detective.

The real work was done by Reunzeler, aided by Harry Brand, son-in-law of Mrs. Burken, and Russell Goldman, brother of Al Goldman, Commissioner of Plant and Structures, and this is the way Reunzeler told the story here last night—confirmed in Atlantic City by Goldman and Brand:

"I had been in Atlantic City for the National Electric Light convention, and my wife and I were walking down the board walk Saturday afternoon when we met Goldman and he introduced us to Mr. and Mrs. Brand and a friend of theirs named Miss Stevens. I invited them all to dinner at the Ritz and Brand told me all about how his mother-in-law was swindled out of her jewelry, and then said he thought he saw the man that day in the Ritz. He'd never seen him before, but remembered the description given by his mother-in-law.

"Well, I took the description down and telephoned the Fourteenth Precinct in New York and got a merry laugh. They thought I was a nut. Finally they confirmed the description as that of John V. Wiedemeier with a dozen aliases. I told them the man was around Atlantic City and to send a detective but they laughed.

"Well, Brand said the man was with a woman with a Pom pup, so we checked over all the people at the Ritz with Poms. I told them that any time they saw a woman with a Pom to go flirt with her and find out who she was. Then I went to Captain Yates of the Atlantic City detective force but he just laughed at me and refused to help. He said he'd arrest me for kidnaping if I tried to hold anyone there.

Part Played by Pom Pups.

"Well, next morning (Sunday) I was looking out of my window and I saw a woman with a Pom pup. 'Wait a minute,' I yelled to my wife and rushed down. I strolled up to the woman, swinging my cane. 'That's a swell pup you got,' I said. 'How long do they live?' [illegible]

Recall- the- Mayor Score 81,756; Days's Gain 600

THE smallest number of signatures added to the petitions for the recall of Mayor Miller in any one day since the canvass started, April 15, was announced today by the Miller Recall Committee. It was 602, making the total 81,756. This is the first time that fewer than 1000 new signatures have been obtained in a day. A minimum of 60,456 is required, but a large margin is being obtained and 120,000 remains as the goal.

John J. Heil, chairman of the committee, explained the decline by saying the force of canvassers had been reduced.

GIRL READY FOR COLLEGE AT 12

Wrote Stories When 5 Years Old and At 9 Had Mental Age of 19.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Ellen Elizabeth Benson, just turned 12, will graduate from the Gardner School Friday evening with the highest honors in the class. The other members are all past 18.

A writer of tales at 5 years, an admirer at 9 of Kipling, Shakspeare and Thomas Harty, she is now ready to enter college. So far as can be ascertained, her record has never been surpassed by a girl in this country.

To the public Ellen Elizabeth is quite unknown. Her family and teachers have seen to that, intending that her precocity should not make her unduly self-conscious. But in view of her approaching graduation, they consented yesterday to tell a reporter her story.

Exclusive of her mental achievements, her life at the school the last three years has been the normal one of a girl of 12. While surpassing girls six and seven years older than herself in the classroom, she prefers to play with girls her own age and enjoys their recreations. She likes sports, although she does not excel in them.

Elizabeth is large for her age and has fine, intelligent eyes, but with her childish face framed in a bell-shaped bob, she looks not a whit more than her 12 years. She is robustly healthy.

She is well known to psychologists and educators who have been watching and recording her development. Dr. Ulum Stedman, organizer of the opportunity room in the University of California, described Elizabeth's earliest exploits in her book, "Education of Gifted Children." The chapter devoted to her history is entitled, "The child possessing the highest intelligence quotient yet reported." The Stanford-Binet test, given her on Sept. 13, 1922, when she was not quite 9, showed her mental age to be 19, and her intelligent quotient 214.

COP MUST STAND TRIAL FOR KILLING INNOCENT MAN

Coroner's Verdict of Homicide Against John Gerdes Who Fired at Motorist and Shot Walter Sisler.

IS HELD UNDER BOND OF $5000

Former Traffic Officer Identified as "Bernie" Gerdes Whose Auto Killed Woman at Christmas.

A Coroner's verdict of homicide, holding John B. Gerdes, a former traffic policeman, under $5000 bond, was returned today in the case of Walter Sisler, 37 years old, of 4707 Nebraska avenue, who was killed by a stray bullet fired by Gerdes at a motorist.

On advice of the police department's counsel, Assistant City Counselor Fittge, Gerdes did not testify as to the shooting. He was nervous on the witness stand and stuttered as he gave his name and address. Gerdes, who is 25 years old and resides at 3418 North Eleventh street, was discharged from the police force last Friday, after being on for five months.

Sisler died Saturday of a bullet wound suffered Wednesday as he waited for a street car at Grand boulevard and Windsor place. Five shots were fired by Gerdes at a motorist, Andre wWright, 60, of 3939 Utah street, as he drove south in Grand from Page boulevard, three blocks north of Windsor place. Gerdes charged Wright with driving past a "stop" signal, but Wright denies the charge.

Witnesses Blame Gerdes.

Lon Sanders of Webster Groves, president of the American Security Credit Co. and vice chairman of the membership conference of the Chamber of Commerce, was one of the witnesses when the inquest, started yesterday, was resumed today. He was in his automobile at Grand and Page boulevards when he observed Wright in the center of the intersection, his car jerking as if from engine trouble. About this time, Sanders said, the traffic signals changed and Wright drove south slowly.

"The officer (Gerdes), who was sitting on his motor cycle at the corner, ran across the street and tried to stop the driver of the auto," Sanders testified. "The man apparently did not see or hear the officer and went on. The officer pulled out his revolver, appeared to hesitate a moment and then fired the shots."

One of these shots struck Sisler, Gerdes has said he aimed at the tires of Wright's car.

Richard Jacobsmeyer of 1448 East Prairie avenue, testified similarly. He said the policeman shot straight down Grand boulevard, although traffic was heavy. Jacobsmeyer testified that Gerdes, after arresting Wright, who stopped upon hearing the shots, cursed Wright. Jacobsmeyer was accompanied at the time by his wife, Agnes, who also heard Gerdes.

Another witness, John Shea of 3542 Henrietta street, said he did not hear Gerdes tell Wright to halt before the shots were fired.

The case in which Wright is charged with driving past the stop signal came up before Police Judge Beck today and was continued until June 8, because of the absence of Wright and Gerdes, who were attending the inquest. Witnesses at the inquest were not certain as to how the signals read.

Investigation by the Post-Dispatch today disclosed that Gerdes is the same "Bernie" Gerdes who was the driver of a rented automobile which struck and killed Mrs. Ella Connor, 40, of 2920 North Twelfth street, at Broadway and Palm street, last Christmas eve. The car did not stop.

Several hours later, while police were tracing the license number of the car, Gerdes surrendered, saying he had driven a car past Broadway and Palm at that time and believed from a newspaper account of Mrs. Connor's death that he must have hit her. [illegible]

GEN. PETLURA IS ASSASSINATED IN PARIS BOULEVARD

Former Anti-Bolshevik Army Leader in the Ukraine Shot Down by a Russian Jew.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 25.—Gen. Simon Petlura, former anti-Bolshevik military leader in the Ukraine, was shot by a Russian Jew here today and died shortly afterward in a hospital.

The shooting occurred in Boulevard St. Michel this afternoon. Schwarsbar, the assassin, had reproached Gen. Petlura for his treatment of Jews during his administration as Governor of Ukrainia in 1917.

Petlura's forces were reported to be fighting the Bolsheviki in the Ukraine as late as November, 1921. He was repeatedly charged with grave atrocities against the Jews during his campaigns.

He was the acknowledged leader of that element in the Ukraine favoring separation of the province from Russia proper. While given the title of "General," he was not a trained military man.

He disappeared from Ukrania in 1902 after a series of uprisings against the imperial regime and went to Galicia, across the Austrian border, where he remained until the Russian revolution of 1905, when he returned to Kiev. He was soon forced to leave Ukrania again, however.

At the outbreak of the World War he became connected with the Zemstvo Union, a relief organization, with which he served in Galicia up to the time of the Bolshevik revolution. After the overthrow of the Kerensky Government he became openly an advocate of complete separation of the Ukraine.

When, in 1918, the National Ukranian Union was formed, Petlura, who had been imprisoned by the Rada Government, was charged with forming an army to oppose the regime in power. He entered Kiev on March 2, 1921, and executed the Bolshevik commissaries.

Abandonment of his anti-Soviet military campaign was announced in the latter part of November, 1921.

PRESIDENT READY TO MODIFY HIS DRY ORDER

White House Statement Follows Outburst in Congress Against Federal Use of State Officers.

DENIES INTERFERING WITH STATE'S RIGHTS

House Receives Bill to Nullify His Order—Senator Walsh, Montana, Democrat Defends Him.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Coincident with a new outburst in Congress against the President's order authorizing Federal employment of State officers in prohibition enforcement, the White House today said the President was ready to modify the proposal if it proved oppressive.

The White House maintained, however, that the President saw no cause for alarm in the order, and was certain it did not constitute an invasion of State sovereignty, but was rather an aid to states.

Bill to Nullify Coolidge's Order.

At the same time the President's views were being set forth Representative Hill (Rep.) of Maryland, a leader of the House wets, introduced a resolution to prohibit State officers from simultaneously holding of any Federal position and at the same to forbid Federal officials from holding any position under a State.

Meanwhile, in the Senate, a Democrat, Walsh of Montana, came to the defense of the legality of the President's order.

Telling how the President came to issue the order, the White House spokesman said it was intended primarily to meet a situation in California, where authority had been requested by Federal and county officers to give deputy sheriffs Federal power in the enforcement of the prohibition law.

It was added that Mr. Coolidge understands that the Treasury has no intention of making nationwide use of the order to enroll thousands of city police and sheriffs as Federal agents.

The White House commentator also said:

"Not only does the President consider it no invasion of State rights for the Federal Government to hire State and local officers, but he considers such action by the Federal Government most considerate of the rights of the States, since it thereby chooses as its representatives to enforce the law the same agents which the State has entrusted with enforcement."

President Grant's Position.

It was this, the President believes, which President Grant had in mind when he issued an order forbidding double employment of officials by State and Federal Governments, but excepting Deputy Marshals.

So far as State's rights are concerned in the enforcement of prohibition, the President holds that the Eighteenth Amendment [illegible]

OIL STATION MAN KILLED IN UPSET OF OFFICER'S AUTO

LATTER USES BRAKE TO AVOID COLLISION

Machine in Turning Over Strikes One Driven by Miss Hazel A. Burrow, a Visiting Nurse.

A speeding automobile, driven by Special Deputy Constable Jack Ryan, 25 years old, of 2100 Bellevue avenue, Maplewood, upset on Clayton road yesterday afternoon, injuring Ryan and killing a companion, Jack Davis, 33, of 4001 Washington boulevard.

Miss Hazel A. Burrow, 24, a visiting nurse, of 5660 Kingsbury avenue, whose machine was struck by Ryan's car as it turned over, and who suffered minor injuries, said she was driving east and started to pass a truck moving in the same direction. As she turned out, she said, another machine approached from the east at high speed. She said the driver applied his brakes so sharply in an effort to avoid a collision that his car overturned, striking her machine.

Davis, an oil filling station manager, died of internal injuries and a skull fracture at St. Mary's Hospital. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Alta Davis, and a daughter, Marian, 5. Witnesses told county authorities Ryan's automobile was traveling about 50 miles an hour.

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the case of Robert H. Beckley, 64, a restaurant proprietor, of 4201A Hartford street, who died yesterday of a fractured spine and internal injuries suffered when he was knocked down by an automobile driven by Edward Detjen, 17, of 2633 Clifton avenue.

Witnesses testified Beckley stepped into the path of Detjen's machine as he was walking across Arsenal street, near Morganford road. Detjen did not testify on advice of his father, Gustaf Detjen, an attorney.

Two men were pinioned beneath an automobile when it went over an embankment at Warson and Clayton roads, late yesterday. One of them was extricated and taken to St. Mary's Hospital. He said he was William O'Brien of Ninth and Carr streets. He suffered cuts and bruises. The other occupant driver of the car, left the scene.

GEORGE S. ELDER, FORMER ST. LOUIS BUSINESS MAN, DIES

George S. Elder, 46 years old, founder of the Elder Manufacturing Co., died suddenly of heart disease at his home near Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Mr. Elder was born in Chattanooga and came to St. Louis when 20 years old, entering the employ of the Ferguson-McKinney Dry Goods Co. as a clerk. Eight years later he became connected with the Ely-Walker Dry Goods Co. and continued with that firm eight years as manager of the manufacturing department. In 1916 he organized the Elder Manufacturing Co., makers of men's and children's wear, and was made president. In 1921 he sold his interests in the company, because of ill health, and moved with his family to Chattanooga. The residence here had been on the Clayton road near the Ballas road.

Upon his return to his birthplace, Mr. Elder purchased 2500 acres of Raccoon Mountain, which he renamed Elder Mountain, and there he built a large residence. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Hazel Garrison of St. Louis, and two children, Oliver Garrison Elder and Mary Garrison Elder.

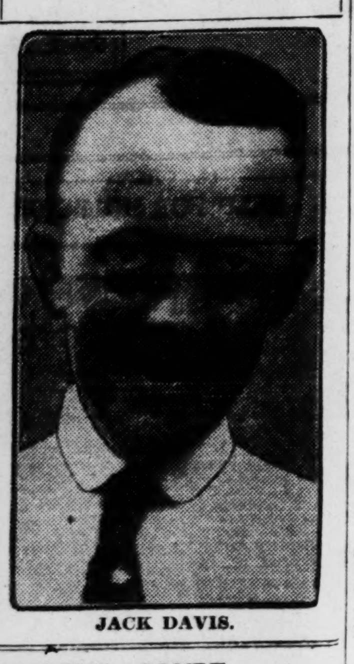
ACCIDENT VICTIM



JACK DAVIS.

SUPREME COURT DENIES SIDENER'S PLEA FOR DELAY

States Bank of St. Louis, and member of the previous, or February, grand jury.

Other witnesses summoned, former grand jury members, were excused without being heard.

Tells of Ferguson-McKinney Case.

During the noon recess, Eugene H. Angert, receiver of the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co., called on Gentry. Angert laid before Gentry matters connected with the affairs of the bankrupt concern, whose president, Forrest Ferguson, was recently under indictment on charges of embezzlement and of making a false affidavit to obtain credit. The embezzlement chage resuted in an instruted verdict of acquittal, and the next day Sidener dismissed the other indictments.

Gentry said he would not at this time take up the matter submitted by Angert.

Sidener's petition, after citing the order issued by Judge Mix, contended that the order is illegal and void. The order, he charged, was made by Judge Mix "secretly," in the absence of the Circuit Attorney, and with no notice to him.

No charge of crime has been filed in any court against him, Sidener stated, and no affidavit has been filed with the clerk of the court, as provided by the statute relating to action against prosecuting attorneys.

He declared that he had never been willfully guilty of any corrupt or fraudulent violation of the law, by neglect of any official duty, and had never been interested, or employed as counsel, in any case where employment was inconsistent with his official duties.

The Court's order, he declared, was based on Gov. Baker's letter to the Attorney-General, which letter calls for an inquiry into the disposition of the Rutherford case.

Declares Judge Is Interested.

"The disposition referred to," he continued, 'was the acceptance of a plea of guilty to the offense of manslaughter, by George E. Mix, as Judge of the court, and the imposition of a fine of $500 and costs.

"Since the investigation is for the purpose of inquiring into the Rutherford case, Judge Mix is interested in the inquiry, and under the state law is disqualified from issuing any order relating to the investigation of it."

Sidener contended also that the order is illegal, in that it would exclude the Circuit Attorney and his assistants from the grand jury. He alleged that Attorney-General Gentry acted without authority of law in appointing Lashly as his assistant, and Elsie L. Wallace as stenographer, and declared that the appearance of either of these in the grand jury room would invalidate the proceeding.

"The effect of said unlawful order of court, if enforced," Sidener stated "would result in denying the petitioner the valuable right of performing his duty to the public as a sworn officer of the law."

Lashly's Position Validated.

In the argument before the Supreme Court, Assistant Attorney-General Potter announced that he had resigned his position, thus leaving a vacancy in the office of Assistant Attorney-General. This was intended to meet the argument, made in behalf of Sidener, that the appointment of Lashly was irregular, as no vacancy existed.

Rowe, in his argument in behalf of Sidener, argued that nothing had been shown which warranted the exclusion of the Circuit Attorney from the grand jury room.

Rowe objected also on the ground that no affidavit had been filed. Potter replied that the mere fact that the Circuit Attorney and his office were under investigation was a sufficient showing of cause why the Circuit Attorney himself should not conduct the investigation.

DECISION RESERVED IN BLEWETT STOCK SUIT

Ownership of Shares Valued At $250,000 Is Claimed by Sister Under Will.

Suit to determine ownership of 6785 shares of the St. Joseph Lead Co. stock, valued at approximately $250,000, was taken under advisement today by Circuit Judge Calhoun. The controversy is between Miss Lucy H. Blewett and her sister, Miss Avis Blewett, on one side, and the Board of Education, on the other.

The Blewett sisters claim the stock as their absolute property under the will of their brother, the late Ben Blewett, former Superintendent of Instruction of the Board of Education.

The Board of Education contends that the sisters are entitled to only the income from the stock, the board being ultimate beneficiary of the whole estate, which is now held in trust by his brother, Scotto F. Blewett, for the benefit of the sisters.

Created Trusteeship.

'When Supt. Blewett died nine years ago it was found that his will created a trusteeship for his sisters. He provided that they were to have the income from the trust estate as long as they lived and that if their brother Scotto survived them he was to receive the income.

At the death of the last beneficiary, the will provides, the trust is to end and the property is to be turned over to the Board of Education to be administered for the benefit of a foundation created by testator. This is known as the St. Louis Public Schools Foundation for the Relief of Distress and Advancement of Professional Training.

Stock Dividend.

Evidence introduced before Judge Calhoun in the suit, which was filed by the trustee, shows that in 1920 two stock dividends were paid by the St. Joseph Lead Co. to its stockholders and from which the Blewett estate realized an additional 6785 shares on its original holdings of 18,098 shares. It is the contention of the Blewett sisters, as made by their attorney, Daniel N. Kirby, that stock dividends constituted income and should be paid to them the same as if a cash dividend had been declared. But the Board of Education, through Attorney Robert Burkham, argued that the stock dividends should be applied to the principal or corpus of the estate, with only cash income therefrom going to the Blewetts. Pending adjudication of the suit the trustee has been holding the stock involved.

Blewett's wife, who died in 1914, was a daughter of the late Charles Parsons, president of the St. Joseph Lead Co. The foundation created by her husband is a memorial to her and her parents.

FIGHT FOR PERMITS BEFORE ZONING LAW IS EFFECTIVE

Erection of Three Buildings Hinges on Decision of Mandamus Suit.

Upon refusal of Building Commissioner Christopher and Director of Public Safety Brod yesterday to issue a permit for a $250,000 automobile sales and service building for the Oliver Cadillac Co. at the southwest corner of Sarah street and Lindell boulevard, J. L. Mauran, architect for the company, and an attorney who accompanied him in making the application, spoke of the possibility of a mandamus suit today to force the issuance.

The refusal was based on the fact that such a structure would violate the new zoning ordinance, which becomes effective tomorrow, also that it would violate the ordinance passed a year ago forbidding garages and the like on Lindell. In a mandamus suit to force the issuance of a permit to Louis Goldstein to erect an apartment house at 5535 Bartmer avenue, Circuit Judge Ittner yesterday ruled out the city's contention that this would violate the zoning law, because the law is not effective yet. This suit is still in court, though, for decision on the city's plea that the application was faulty otherwise.

City Counselor Muench has told the Building Commissioner that permits should not be issued for buildings violating the zoning provisions unless they could be completed or nearly so by tomorrow.

Applications for a permit to erect a $250,000 apartment at the northwest corner of Delmar and Union boulevards, which would violate zoning ordinance in having stores, is awaiting the result of the mandamus proceedings.

Engineer Blames Failure of Signals; Firemen Work All Night Rescuing Injured From Wreck.

By the Associated Press.

MUNICH, Bavaria, May 25.—Munich's fire brigade and first aid organizations toiled all night extricating the victims of the wreck in the East station, where a passenger train crashed into a standing train at the Kirchstein gas works. The latest official report early this afternoon says 25 persons were killed and 83 injured.

The engineer of the passenger train says he had no warning of the train in front of him, but railroad officials declare the signals were set.

CHICKEN HAS BECOME TOO DEAR FOR FRENCH PURSES

Only Wealthiest Families Able to Purchase It as Franc Slumps.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 25. — The Paris press has discovered another grievance against owners of foreign exchange in that they prevent the French from eating chicken.

The price of chicken has reached heights that prohibit any but the wealthiest French housewife from putting it on the table, even on Sundays. A 40-franc chicken is a poor little thing and even 60 francs does not purchase anything more than a fairly decent bird.

TO INVESTIGATE BUS TRAFFIC

I. C. C. Acts on Own Motion to Recommend Regulations.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered an investigation into the operation of motor busses and trucks by or in connection or competition with common carriers subject to the Interstate Commerce act.

Calling attention to the fact that motor bus and truck operation has been steadily increasing and that questions have arisen concerning the legality and propriety of arrangements under which they are operated, the commission said it would investigate, on its own motion, in order that it may make recommendations regarding ergulation of such carriers.

NICKY ARNSTEIN IN AGAIN

Arrested on 1920 Indictment Over Wall Street Bond Thefts.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Jules (Nicky) Arnstein, recently released from Leavenworth prison, was back in a cell in the Tombs today, committed in default of $5000 bail after being arraigned on a 1920 indictment, charging him with grand larceny and receiving stolen goods.

At the time the indictment was returned, it was alleged Arnstein and Nicky Cohen had been the master minds of a series of Wall Street bond thefts. Counsel for Arnstein, said his client had been living quietly with his wife, Fannie Brice, actress, and his family, and that he was now leading "an honorable life and working steadily." He characterized Arnstein's arrest as a "play for cheap notoriety" on the part of the District Attorney. Arnstein arrived from Chicago last night.

Coolidge Ready to Modify Dry Order

the theory that the President overstepped his authority in issuing the order.

He found justification for it in the action of Congress or expressed in the Volstead Act provision for the employments of agents and others to enforce the national dry law.

"I have no warrant to speak for the President," he continued, "but I cannot remain silent while it is asserted from this floor that he has been guilty of usurpation of power."

The Montana Senator was subjected to considerable questioning. When he said the order simply declared State and other officers "may" be employed, Senator Borah (Rep.), Idaho, asked whether it did anything but express a policy. Walsh replied that that was all.

"What was the necessity for making the order at all?" asked Borah. The Montanan replied there seemed to be none, and from that point the discussion drifted into a general debate, involving many senators on both sides of the chamber and on both sides of the prohibition question.

The outburst in the House was of much shorter duration. Representative Hill spoke for one minute in explanation of his resolution, but no one understood him. He explained that he had a cold, and was unable to speak except in an undertone; and the House gave him permission to extend his remarks in the record. He then sent to the clerk this declaration:

"In view of the statements contained in the second Republican platform, and in view of the declaration of local self-government and separation of the powers of the judiciary of the Federal Government and of the states, repeatedly enunciated by the leaders of the Republican party, and in further view of the statement of local salf-government by President Coolidge at Williamsburg, Va., I feel that the recent order authorizing the appointment of state policemen, sheriffs and deputy sheriffs as Federal prohibition enforcement officers was issued without due consideration and undoubtedly will be revoked within the next few days.

"If such an order is not revoked within the next few days I shall ask for immediate consideration of the resolution I have just introduced, which I consider to be a privileged resolution since it deals with a matter relating to fundamental rights of the Federal Government and of the states under the Constitution, and thus presents a constitutional question of the highest privilege."

Answers the White House.

Representative Curry (Rep.) of California, denounced the President's order as "unconstitutional, unjust, vicious, wrong and contrary to the fundamental principles of American Government." Taking note of the White House explanation that the order was issued to take care of a specific situation in California, he told the House his State was "getting along very well, thank you, without outside interference."

"If this is not repealed by the executive branch of the Government," he said, "steps must be taken to throw it out, hook, line and sinker, a prohibition officer is not a local Federal officer, who has the right to cross city, county and state lines and make arrests in the name of the Federal Government.

"California is a full fledged state. We have in California a very strict State prohibition enforcement act. Our State officers diligently perform their duties in this respect, but they work within the confines of their own jurisdiction.

Objects to "Smug Bureaucrat.

"We are getting along very well, thank you, without the interference or unsolicited, unconstitutional supervisory power of a smug bureaucrat from the State of New York. It might be less objectionable to Californians if Gen. Andrews would impose this militaristic, bureaucratic order on his own State of New York, and the President's State of Massachusetts.

"I do not believe for a minute that the President had been informed that he had placed before him anything more than a routine paper when he was induced to sign the document. Certainly it is a complete contradiction of his statesmanlike Williamsburg speech."

During the Senate debate Senator George (Dem.) of Georgia, asked what agency would control an officer in the case of a conflict. Walsh said that possibility of a conflict was remote, but George insisted that "ultimately they will conflict."

Senator Bruce (Dem.) of Maryland, a wet leader, then cited the hypothetical case of "a Maryland policeman whose duty it is to arrest a murderer caught red-handed, but who was ordered at the same time by the Federal prohibition agent to arrest a violator of the Volstead Act."

"That would be foolish on the part of the prohibition director," replied Walsh.

"Well," replied the Maryland Senator, "so far as I can see, the prohibition directors have never done anything wise."

Walsh argued that the President's order did not violate the civil service act, since the Congress could not control him in his appointments.

"The only significance of this order," he continued, "is that it has been the custom for State and Federal authorities to co-operate in the detection of crime and the arrest of criminals. Everybody hopes that they will continue to co-operate."

Senator Heflin (Dem.) of Alabama, inquired whether if a State officer killed a man while making a raid as a Federal officer he would be tried in the State or Federal courts.

"That's a subject which need give us little concern at this time," said Walsh.

Upholding President's View.

"Let this order stand," said Senator George, "and it will never be accepted by the common people. If carried to a logical conclusion it would utterly destroy the agencies of the state. No man can come at the dictates of one master and go at the order of another master."

Senator Goff (Rep.) of West Virginia, a former Assistant Attorney-General, took the position that the order did not violate the Constitution, but might constructively violate the Constitutions of some states. Senator Harreld (Rep.) of Oklahoma cited the appointment of Oklahoma State Judges to act in an administrative capacity over Indian affairs as justification for the order, and Walsh said thousands of State officers had been cloaked with Federal authority during the war.

BOOST FOR JUDGES HELD UP

House Delays Action on Two Bills From Senate.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The House today deferred action on two Senate bills, one proposing salary increases for the Federal judiciary and the other to authorize appointment of 12 additional Federal Judges.

House leaders said the membership was in a "bad temper" for such legislation, wounds not having healed from last week when the Haugen farm relief bill was defeated. It was said a number of Western members were opposed to any salary increases for some judicial offices because it would make the salary out of line with that paid by states to Judges.

ILLINOIS GOVERNOR ACCEPTS RESPONSIBILITY FOR PARDONS

Defends Prison Releases Since He Took Office in Written Statement to Grand Jury.

By the Associated Press.

JOLIET, Ill., May 24.—Full responsibility for all pardons and commutations issued to convicts since he became Governor of Illinois in 1921 was accepted today by Gov. Len Small in a prepared statement read before the Will County grand jury investigating conditions at the State prison here.

Declaring himself "the only person accountable for the pardons issued," the Governor presented figures to show that only two Governors since 1869 have granted fewer pardons.

"I never have permitted wealth, politics or any other motive to influence me, and have never granted a pardon or commutation of sentence until the case has been carefully investigated by the pardon board as well as myself, and until I felt it my duty to issue the pardon," said the statement which the Governor carried into the grand jury room.

The Governor said he did not believe "that any person connected with this State administration has ever accepted any money or other emoluments for paroling or recommending the pardon of any convicts."

Gov. Small's statement said he had issued 116 pardons in his first term as Governor and 16 in the year and five months which have elapsed in his second term.

After testifying, the Governor indicated he planned removing Warden Whitman.

"It seems to me," he said, "that such terrible tragedies as the murder of a warden's wife about [illegible] years ago, and the killing of Deputy Warden Klein are inexcusable and would not have happened had there been proper discipline.

"The escapes from the penitentiary, including the so-called honor farm, are wrong and in violation of law, and I shall insist that they be stopped.

4 CONVICTS SHOT DOWN IN BREAK AT PRISON FARM

WARDEN SAYS PLOT INCLUDED OTHERS

Members of "Hard Gang" Fake Illness to Get Chance to Run—Guards Promptly Open Fire.

By the Associated Press.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., May 25.—Four convicts making a break from the State prison farm at Tucker, Ark., yesterday, were shot to death by two trusties.

The dead:

Benny Casey, life-termer, convicted of the murder of David W. Burns, record clerk of the Kansas penitentiary near Alicia, early last year.

Boyd Jewell of Chicago, life-termer for the robbery of a bank at Sulphur Springs, Ark., early last year. During the robbery, L. M. Stout, president of the bank, was killed.

William Bishop, alias Jack Wade of Crawford County, Arkansas, serving a 10-year sentence for robbery. This was his third prison term.

John Birchfield, Benton County, Arkansas, serving a 49-year sentence in connection with the Sulphur Srpings bank robbery.

Warden Dee Horton, who was in Pine Bluff attending a funeral when the break occurred, declined to make public the names of the guards who killed the men, but he said he had reason to believe other prisoners besides the four were in on the plan to escape.

The attempt was made late in the afternoon. The four men were working in a cotton field with [illegible]ers in what is known as the "hard gang" over which special guards are placed. They had complained of being sick and were being returned to the stockade a mile away, under the guard of the two trusties. When they came abreast of a neck of woods extending into the field, signals were passed and the break made. The guards promptly shot them down.

Casey will be buried at Texarkana, Tex. The other bodies are being held by an undertaker at England, Ark., pending instructions from relatives.

Warden Horton stated last night that it was the twelfth attempt made in the past year by the four men to escape.

CRIMINAL COSTS FUND GONE

Deficit of $150,000 Expected by End of the Year.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 25.—The State appropriation for payment of costs in criminal cases virtually was exhausted this week and claims from the counties are being held up, including a bill of approximately $10,000 from St. Louis. The deficit in payment of criminal costs that will be incurred by the end of the year is estimated at $150,000 to $180,000. About $1000 is left in the criminal costs fund, which will be used in paying fees of special Judges and small claims that are presented.

A deficit usually occurs in payment of criminal costs during the latter half of each biennial period, as the Legislature has failed to increase the biennial appropriation to take care of the mounting costs of criminal cases. The appropriation for 1925 and 1926 was $350,000, with an additional $65,000 for transportation of convicts. The transportation appropriation also is exhausted. The $700,000 appropriation for payment of the State's share of the cost of assessing and collecting the revenue is running low, and State officials estimate the deficit in this fund will be about $100,000 at the end of the year.

"Well, we eliminated some more women with Poms and then a swell blonde came down the walk. Russell dropped his cane, thinking she'd pick it up and he could get acquainted. She tried to, but a boy beat her to it. But we followed her and soon along came the fellow we were looking for, and into the hotel they went. We got House Detective Klein and found they were registered as uncle and niece under some name like Thayer. Then they went over to the Ambassador and House Detective Jenkins told us thy were registered there as father and daughter and under the name of Kruger.

Trailed to Philadelphia.

"We kept telephoning New York, but it was no use. Then the fellow checked out of the Ambassador and had his two trunks and six bags taken to the station on a special truck. He valued each trunk at $2000. I rushed for New York and Brand and Goldman followed him to Philadelphia. We got the check numbers and left them with Jenkins for Curtin, who, we learned had finally left New York with instructions to look up Brand and Goldman in Philadelphia at headquarters.

"When Curtin got to Philadelphia, Brand and Goldman had the fellow located in a hotel, and when he came down to the barber shop Monday morning they arrested him. Say, all those house detectives and hotel managers and Brand and Goldman are the ones to give credit to. They did anything I asked of them, and if we'd turned out to be wrong they'd been in a devil of a fix."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25. — John V. Wiedemeier was taken into custody in the barber shop of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel here yesterday just after a barber had finished exercising his art, and just after Wiedemeier had deposited a crisp $20 bank note in the not at all reluctant hand of a charming blond manicure.

A detective from New York, who made the arrest, volunteered to explain how the 51-year-old Don Juan, who looks somewhat younger, had succeeded in marrying so many wealthy women during the later years of his career.

His Methods of Wooing.

He left them, it seems, sadder but wiser—and poorer—women who will not perhaps in the future lend such attentive ears to the subtle flatteries of a man who possesses a charming English accent, and who strews the way for his courtship with bank notes and banks of flowers.

New York detectives have traced Wiedemeier from New York to the Pacific Coast and back again to Palm Beach. Always they found in his wake, women who lamented the departure of their most prized jewelry, in value ranging from $50,000 to $150,000. And always they found blond manicures in possession of tips, ranging from $10 to larger sums, and by that sign they knew that "Lord" Robert had passed in the night and was in quest of other and gullible matrons.

"Lord" Robert, it seems, was a regular chameleon when it came to exchanging his disguises. At one time he was a titled, worldly wise and slightly bored Englishman, with a baronial castle, and a family crest, a hunting lodge and the annuity of an Indian Maharajah. Again he was secretly attached to the British diplomatic corps, concerned greatly with portentous matters of state, and striding silently and a little menacingly through the sub-stratum of Washington diplomatic circles.

Studied Disguises Cracked.

But the studied veneer of his many disguises cracked all to pieces yesterday, when Curtin, the poker-faced detective from New York, and Detectives Brown, Clegg and Osterholdt of the City Hall detective force here, routed him from the intriguing scents of hotel barber shop and bade him "come up to the hall and talk it over."

"Now, now, boys," he chided, moving his arm restlessly in the vise-like grasp of the detectives. "I've gotten my share out of this. How would you chappies like to split $10,000 between you?"

"Come on, fellow, this is no sight seeing," was the response of one of those who had $2500 dangled before his eyes. And so in this undignified manner, "Lord" Beaverbrook was placed in the City Hall cells' room.

In the hotel at the time of his arrest, the dapper dressed "Lord" had a charming feminine companion awaiting him., so detectives learned later.

Held Without Bond.

The young woman, who also is a decided blonde, made rapid strides to the office of Congressman John R. K. Scott, who was waiting for the detectives and their prisoner when the party reached City Hall. The Congressman made strenuous efforts to secure the release of Wildemeier on bail, but was unsuccessful, as Magistrate Pennock in Central Station harkened to the plea of the New York detective and held the prisoner without bail to await extradition.

Wildemeier also was held without bond on a charge by the Philadelphia police, who assert the man is wanted here for the theft of $80,000 in jewelry from Mrs. Frances B. Kamp, Fifty-seventh street and Baltimore avenue, the widow of a diamond merchant, in July, 1922. The prisoner also is alleged to have obtained $2000 by fraud from Mrs. Kamp's sister, Mrs. J. W. McDevitt, of Wayne avenue, Germantown.

BEHIND BARS AGAIN

JOHN V. WIEDEMEIER.

Tells of Losing to Gamblers.

After breakfast today Wiedemeier became talkative and boastfully told detectives that Atlantic City gamblers had taken between $75,000 and $100,000 from him in the last six months.

"I've fooled a lot of people by playing the 'rube,'" he said, according to the detectives. "And quite a lot of them wanted to be fooled. Others thought they were fooling me. My 'nobility' played upon their conceit. The gamblers were the only ones who fooled me.

"I've been an actor all my life, but my roles were hard to essay when I went up against them. They were too smart for me.

"I recognized you men the minute you walked into the barber shop. I was looking in the mirror. Immediately I began looking over the exits and figuring on a possible way of escape. I saw you had them all covered and I knew the game was up."

Mrs. Burken of New York, whom the prisoner is charged with swindling, called at City Hall last night and identified him.

U. S. Authorities Here Not to Ask for Return of Wiedemeier.

Federal authorities here announced today they would not ask for the return of Wiedemeier to St. Louis for trial under a pending Mann Act charge, which he evaded by jumping a $10,000 cash bond. They prefer to leave the prosecution to Eastern authorities.

He was arrested here on Oct. 12 last with Mrs. Margaretta Hoffman, pretty wife of a Chicago fur dealer, whom he lured away by promising her a career in the movies. After giving bond, he disappeared leaving the remainder of his bankroll, $15,000, in the hands of the police.

He was scarcely out of sight when four other women came forward to tell how he had married and swindled them. In all, nine women have complained against him, although the actual number of his victims is believed to be much larger.

There was Miss Carrie Hyman of St. Louis, Miss Esther Wexler of Chicago, Mrs. Virginia Martin Beaverbrook of Washington, Miss Rose Burken of New York, and Miss Ada Frank of Detroit.

His $15,000 bankroll is still held by the Police Board here with several attachments obtained by his victims against it.

Students Fined for Bonfire.

By the Associated Press.

LANSING, Mich., May 25.—Ten students of Michigan State College, seven of whom spent last night in jail, were fined $40 each and placed on probation today as the result of celebrating a baseball victory by building a bonfire opposite the State Capitol here and burning the bleachers on their campus at East Lansing. The police had issued an order barring similar occurrences in the future.

MILLION-A-YEAR LEFT BY ECCENTRIC BANKER

McEvers B. Brown Executed Testament in 1878 and Never Changed It.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The will of McEvers Bayard Brown, wealthy and eccentric banker, who died April 8 aboard his yacht off the coast of England, has been filed in Surrogate's Court. It was executed Feb. 15, 1878, and its provisions disposing of an annual income estimated at $1,000,000 had not been changed since then. Mr. Brown lived for 36 years aboard his yacht anchored off the coast of Essex, England, never putting to sea.

He left his entire estate to his cousins, William Bayard Cutting, who died in 1912, and Robert Fulton Cutting, both of New York. One-half share which would have gone to William Cutting will be divided among his children, Mrs. Justine Ward of Washington, Bronson M. Cutting of Santa Fe, N. M., Mrs. Iris Origo, a resident of Italy, and Mrs. Oliver James of New York.

SHOWGIRL TELLS COURT ALL ABOUT CARROLL'S PARTY have the $700 or a steady job on the stage, but that as a matter of fact she had never received anything.

She went back to the theater later, she said, and saw Chris Scaife, an associate of Carroll's, whom she asked for the money. She said that he offered to let her have $350, if she "would go before the grand jury and deny the whole business."

Miss Hawley said she had started suit against Carroll for the $700, but did not know whether the action was pending or not.

"You say you were intoxicated?" she was asked on cross-examination. "Well, I had to be feeling pretty good to do a thing like that," she answered.

"Are you very bitter against Mr. Carroll?" No, but it was not a very nice thing for him to do."

Defense counsel then tried to show by questions, which were emphatically denied, that Miss Hawley had attempted to force Carroll to give her money by threatening to testify against him before the Grand jury. Testimony brought out that the girl's suit against Carroll had been in the hands of four lawyers since she began action two months ago.

"What a Dope I Was."

"Why was it you dropped these different lawyers?" she was asked.

"Well, I realized what a dope I was and decided to get a good lawyer."

The court was then adjourned for a delayed noon recess and Miss Hawley left the building after Judge Goddard had forbidden photographers to take pictures of witnesses anywhere in the building.

Irvin Cobb Put on Stand.

Irvin S. Cobb, writer, first witness today testified that as he was about to leave the Earl Carroll Theater early on the morning of last Feb. 23, Carroll urged him to remain as he was "going to put on a stunt of a girl in a tub."

On cross examination by defense counsel, Cobb said that he was a close personal acquaintance of the theatrical man and that so far as he knew Carroll's reputation for veracity was excellent.

Cobb testified that he saw a "rosy" liquid in the bathtub, but in response to a question whether he drank any of it, he answered "I did not." Other answers to questions smacked of his profession as a humorist.

Asked if he had any talks with Carroll, he answered, "Yes, several talks."

"Do you recall the substance of your last talk?" "I do."

"What was it?" "I was about to leave the theater and had started to get my hat and coat and stick. Mr. Carroll asked why I was leaving so soon, as he was going to have a little stunt of a girl in a bathtub."

"What did you do then?" "I left the theater by the stage dor, but I returned about half an hour later."

Cobb already had testified that he had seen the tub on the stage, but on his return he said it was nearer the center.

At one point he was asked: "You are one of the foremost writers in New York?" "In my own opinion," was the reply, "I am."

The witness stumbled on the spelling of Pol Roger champagne, spelling it "Paul," but later corrected himself. He said the liquid in the tub, however, did not resemble any liquor with which he was familiar. The witness reiterated that all he had to drink was near beer and mineral water, but admitted he saw bottles which usually are associated with wine. Under cross-examination he said that he had seen nonintoxicating beverages in the same type of bottles.

"Do you drink, Mr. Cobb?" Assistant United States Attorney Harland asked him. "I never drink brandy or whisky except for medicinal purposes, and that rarely," he replied.

"And champagne?" I never drink it any more."

"And cocktails?" "I take a cocktail occasionally when I am reasonably certain that the alcoholic content is not immediately fatal."

"You were offered a drink from the tub?" "Yes, but I did not accept."

Nudity a Relevant Point.

Whether Miss Hawley was nude when she bathed in champagne is just as relevant as the alcoholic content of the champagne, in the opinion of Federal Judge Goddard.

Herbert C. Smyth, defense attorney, yesterday asked that testimony of Miss Dorothy Gordon be struck from the record as immaterial. Miss Gordon was a member of the Earl Carroll's "Vanities" chorus at the time of the party. She testified that she lent Carroll a green cloak, behind which Miss Hawley disrobed before getting into the tub.

"She stayed in the tub about two minutes," said Miss Gordon. "I could just see her head and shoulders."

District Attorney Buckner argued that this testimony might be irrelevant as to violation of the prohibition law, but that Carroll was charged with having perjured himself by telling a grand jury there had been no nudity and no alcoholic liquor at the party. Judge Goddard upheld him. Carroll told the grand jury that the champagne was ginger ale, and his counsel have indicated it might have been a dry law brand of champagne containing less than one-half of one per cent.

3 BOOTLEG SALESMEN HELD IN MURDER CASE

Police Think Negroes May Disclose Motive for de Luca Killing.

Three Negro salesmen for backyard bootleggers in the neighborhood of Eighth and Carr streets are held by police for questioning in the murder of Mariano de Luca, who was assassinated last Wednesday as he sat on his front steps at 811 Carr street.

The Negroes, one of whom worked for De Luca as a whisky salesman, have told Police Capt. Nally they knew nothing about the murder, but their statements indicate they may know something about De Luca's bootleg activities, for which his death is believed to have been plotted. They will be taken to the inquest tomorrow as witnesses. A friend of De Luca is also held for the inquest, but denies any knowledge of the shooting.

NATIONAL INCOME IN YEAR ESTIMATED AT 70 BILLION

Total Wealth of United States Figured by Trade Commission at $353,000,000,000 — Railroads the Richest Industry.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—American national wealth in 1922 was placed at $353,000,000,000 and national income for 1923 at $70,000,000,000 in a special report by the Federal Trade Commission, made public in response to a Senate resolution.

While the incerase in wealth between 1912 and 1922 measured in dollars amounted to 72 per cent, the commission said, the real increase would be 16 per cent, allowing for changes in purchasing power of the dollar, and would compare with about 15 per cent incerase in population.

Some 35 per cent of the total wealth was in land values and the aggregate of real estate, land and improvements, was $230,000,000,000, of which $43,000,000,000 was tax exempt as Government owned, Federal, State or municipal.

More than one-fourth of the total was in dwellings "and other goods used for personal necessities and enjoyment," the summary added. Agriculture accounted for 18 per cent mining and manufacturing 14 per cent and railroads and other public utilities, 12 per cent.

In estimating the distribution of wealth among individuals, the commission examined 43,000 probate records in 24 typical counties and also estimated unprobated estates.

"On this basis," the summary said, "about 1 per cent of the number of decedents owned 59 per cent of the estimated wealth and 13 per cent of the number of decedents owned over 90 per cent."

During the period under consideration, 1912 to 1922, the commission found diminished concentration of wealth in the later years.

As to ownership of natural resources in 1922, the summary said that "six companies controlled about one-third of the developed water power; eight companies, three-fourths of the unmined anthracite coal; two companies, over one-half of the iron ore reserves; four companies, nearly one-half of the copper reserves, and 30 companies, about one-eighth of the petroleum reserves."

"The railroad companies had a greater amount of wealth than any other single industry and much the largest average amount per company," it was added.

Of corporate capital stock of $9,000,000,000, the commission found that there were 1,074,851 holdings of common, 90 per cent of which was in the hands of individuals.

KANSAS CITY, May 25.—John T. Tuttle, 85 years old, who served under Gen. Price at the battle of Lexington in the Civil War, died at the home of his son here yesterday.

MIDGET LAYS ROBBER LOW WITH BRICKBAT

Then Runs for Police—Holdup Man Thinks House Fell on Him.

"Shorty," whose diminutive 3-foot figure is often seen on the driver's seat of advertising pony carts, last night played David to the Goliath of Harry Geluck, a strapping 6-foot plumber's helper. His missile was a paving brick.

Shorty was in the White Castle Restaurant, 1124 Chouteau avenue, reading a newspaper, when Geluck walked in with a revolver. Geluck pointed his revolver at the proprietor and three other customers, not giving Shorty so much as a glance.

He was demanding money when Shorty slipped out the rear door. Picking up a brick in the yard Shorty came around to the front. As he peeked in the plate glass window, Geluck was taking a purse from Mrs. Anna Molz of 1015 South Twelfth street. Geluck backed out of the restaurant and as he reached the pavement, Shorty threw his brick.

It struck Geluck a stunning blow full on the left ear. While the robber staggered to regain his balance, Shorty ran, as fast as his short legs would carry him, to Twelfth boulevard, where he found four policemen. The officers caught Geluck near the restaurant still dazed. Mrs. Molz's purse and a loaded revolver were in his pockets.

Shorty, in private life, is Ray J. Foster, 32 years old, and lives alone at 1008 Fry avenue, with his four ponies. He conducts the Midget Advertising Co.

At the holdover today, Geluck's memory had failed him.

"I was full of moonshine," he said. "Maybe a house fell on me." He gave his address as 1922 Hickory street.

$12,000,000 in Ohio "Gas" Tax.

By the Associated Press.

COULMBUS, O., May 25.—Ohio's 2-cent gasoline tax produced a net revenue of approximately $12,000,000, or $1,000,000 a month, for the first year of its operation, the State Tax Commission said today. The approximate net receipts to April 18, the year's end, was $11,945,346.54.

TWO LARGE ASBESTOS PLANTS FOR ST. LOUIS

Eastern Firms Obtain Sites for Factories to Be Built Soon.

Two large manufacturers of asbestos products in Pennsylvania have acquired tracts of unimproved ground on the northern outskirts of St. Louis, on which they plan soon to erect branch plants.

Their coming to St. Louis adds another industry not previously represented here, bringing the total of different lines of industry here to 218.

The American Insulation Co. of Philadelphia has purchased 30 acres on Riverview drive along the Burlington Railroad tracks, east of Bellefontaine road, and the Asbestos Shingle Slate and Sheathing Co. of Ambler, has acquired 16 acres west of the Burlington tracks and between St. Cyr road and Riverview drive.

The insulation company purchased the 30-acre tract from the J. H. Gundlach estate, and the other concern obtained its tract from the Missouri Portland Cement Co. The consideration was not announced in either instance. Cost of construction of the two plants has not been made known.

Decision of the two concerns to locate in St. Louis was reached because of its central location and proximity to raw materials. Both companies plan to purchase cement from the nearby plant of the Missouri Portland Cement Co. for use in the manufacture of their products.

FUND FOR FIRST SENIOR CHILD

Carleton Students in 1914 Collected Unique Purse.

By the Associated Press.

NORTHFIELD, Minn., May 25.—Back in 1914 a group of students at Carleton College here collected a fund and turned it over to the college for investment until a son or daughter of one of their number is a senior at Carleton. Meanwhile the fund is growing as interest on the investment accumulates and the originators of the fund, scattered throughout the country, are vying in a good-natured contest to see whose son or daughter shall win the prize.

If two seniors qualify for the fund at the same time, the sum will be divided. Sponsors of the fund now are scattered from Washington State to Washington, D. C. One of the number is a missionary in Transvaal, South Africa.

$430,000 WORTH OF PELTS SOLD AT GOVERNMENT AUCTION

About $430,000 worth of skins were sold yesterday at the semiannual Government fur auction held at the Fouke Fur Co., Second and Elm streets. The market was steady, according to P. B. Fouke, who was auctioneer, and the bidding was spirited.

About 11,000 black Alaskan sealskins were sold at prices comparing favorably with those of last year. The brown sealskins, about 2000, went for approximately 25 per cent less than last September, when they were first offered for sale in the United States. Fourteen silver and 14 red fox of inferior quality averaged $22 and $12 each, respectively. Sixty-seven Peruvian sealskins brought only $1 each. This fur is not considered of good quality.

Henry O'Malley, United States Commissioner of Fisheries, and Lawrence Richey, assistant to Secretary of Commerce Hoover, were present. More than 75 buyers, including representatives from European and American houses, attended.

How to make TEA correctly

Firstly

Be sure you use India Tea, or a blend containing India Tea.

Secondly

Use an earthenware teapot, and put into it one good teaspoonful of India Tea for each cup of tea required.

Thirdly

Be sure you pour the water into the teapot the moment it boils. Only fresh boiling water can bring out the true flavour of the tea. Hot water is no use. Water that has been boiling for some time does not give the best results This is important if you want a really good cup of tea.

Fourthly

Allow the tea to stand 5 minutes to infuse. Put a little cream or milk into each cup before pouring out the tea. It greatly improves the flavour. Then add sugar to taste.

Any retailer or store can supply you with India Tea or blends containing India Tea. He has no difficulty in getting it, as practically every wholesale distributor of tea in this district supplies India Tea. He will gladly get it for you — but —

Be sure you use INDIA TEA or a blend containing India Tea

HELD UP STORES ON HIS WAY TO WORK

J. T. Walsh Discloses Secret of Alibis in Pleading Guilty, Gets 5 Years.

John T. Walsh, 26 years old, charged with eight Kroger store holdups, was sentenced to five years in prison yesterday when he pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge Frey. In pleading he revealed the secret of his alibi which consisted of shoe factory time tickets which showed that he was at work on the days that the robberies occurred.

The stores were on the route he took in walking to work, he explained, and he held up the managers immediately before reporting at the factory or immediately after leaving.

Champ Spotswood, manager of a store at 1408 North Garrison avenue, asserted that Walsh held him up five times between July and December, last; Walter Egan, 2326 Cass avenue, complained of two robberies; and Louis Frankenberg, 4200 W. Ashland avenue complained of one.

Walsh pleaded guilty to one robbery each at the stores of Frankenberg and Spotswood. He was tried last week in connection with a theft at Egan's store, but the jury could not agree, because of his alibi, and a mistrial was declared.

REPUBLICANS TO POSTPONE PLAN TO REDISTRICT STATE

Scheme to Control Senate Expected to Be Tabled for at Least Two Years.

An initiative proposition to rearrange the State senatorial districts and give the Republicans a chance to control the Senate, which has been under consideration by the Republican State Committee, is expected to be dropped for the time being, as a result of a meeting of the committee at the American Hotel yesterday.

A detailed report setting forth a scheme of redistricting was submitted to the committee by Samuel W. James of Sedalia and R. J. Grover of Warrensburg, Max Aber of Warrensburg appearing as a proxy for Grover. It would give St. Louis eight instead of six Senators and Jackson County four instead of two. The representation from interior Missouri would be reduced accordingly. The present arrangement was made in a Democratic gerrymander years ago.

Chairman W. H. Phares of Maryville was directed to appoint a committee of five to discuss the initiative proposition with the Governor and other State officials, but Phares indicated it was likely the decision would be to lay the idea aside for at least two years. The cost, estimated at $65,000, and lack of time are reasons entering into the opposition to the matter now.

Besides discussing the political situation, the committee heard an address by Senator Williams on his activities at Washington.

PETITIONS FILED FOR VOTE ON POLICE PENSIONS MEASURE

Committee Presents 58,145 Signatures on Plea to Put Proposal on Ballot.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 25.—The Police Pension Committee yesterday filed initiative petitions to place on the November ballots a proposition for a constitutional amendment authorizing any municipality in Missouri to provide police pensions. The petitions filed bear 58,145 signatures.

Official count of the signatures will be started today by Secretary of State Becker. Pensioning of policemen is barred now under a section of the Constitution, but pensioning of firemen is authorized under an amendment. The proposed amendment to permit the pensioning of policemen does not fix a scale of pensions, but merely provides the authority for the passage of legislation to permit municipalities to establish a pension system by ordinance.

SWITCHMAN SAVES CHILD

Swoops Tot From Under Wheels in True Melodramatic Style.

Eugene Haney, 34 years old, foreman of the switching crew of the Alton & Southern Railroad, was standing on top of a boxcar on a train backing into the Davis yards near the eastern approach of the Free Bridge, last Friday, when he saw a child walking in the tracks several hundred feet ahead. He signaled the engineer to stop, and applied the airbrakes, but saw that the heavy train, although going only 15 miles an hour, would be unable to stop in time. Haney then ran over the tops of the cars to the end one, climbed off, and picked up the child just in time to save its life. The child was Leo Hadin, 3 years old, who lived with his parents in a shack in the yards. Haney lives at 727 North Eighty-fifth street, East St. Louis.

GERMAN WETS CITE U. S. AS DRY FAILURE

Local Option Gaining Ground—Two Million Names on Petitions.

By Radio to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1926.

BERLIN, May 25.—Two delivery vans have brought to the Reichstag 200 enormous volumes containing the signatures of 2,000,000 Germans who favor local option, notwithstanding the fact that the Reichstag recently voted down the local option law.

The battle of wets and drys, after being a matter of humor, now is on in dead earnest.

The Social Democratic party last year sponsored a bill for limitation of liquor licenses. National dry headquarters now has thousands of branches and seems to be making progress in all parts of the country except in beer-drinking Bavaria and the wine-growing Rhineland. The prohibitionists are found chiefly among the women and the youth movement. Women hate to see money spent on drink. The younger sport-enamored generation regards alcohol as an obstacle to physical and mental fitness.

Recently the Cardinal Bishop of Breslau requested that anti-alcohol sermons be preached in all churches.

The German Cabinet is not absolutely set against local option, although it considers the moment inopportune to raise the question. The prohibitionists hope, if the Cabinet remains hostile, to obtain the requisite 4,000,000 signatures to force a popular referendum.

Meanwhile, the wets have awakened to the danger, amassed large sums of money, and have begun to cover the country with posters and pamphlets. The greatest weapon for alcohol in Germany is the so-called failure of prohibition in the United States.

The fight already is serious and promises to become hot. Both sides hope for financial and moral help from the United States.

JARDINE HOPEFUL CONGRESS WILL PASS TINCHER BILL

Tells Credit Men Farmers' Chief Anxiety Is Marketing, Not Raising Crops.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Speaking before the National Association of Credit Men, Secretary Jardine declared today the recent defeat of the Haugen farm relief bill had not changed the agricultural situation nor the need for sound legislative assistance to the farmer.

He said the Tincher bill would be a long step toward the solution of the farm relief problem and that he was hopeful of action on it by the present Congress.

Legislative relief for the farmers is needed, Jardine said, because, as the result of agricultural expansion and the increased use of machinery, the farmer has greatly increased his output at a time of a world-wide slump in the prices of farm products, which has made marketing, rather than production of crops, his chief anxiety.

R. F. Nathan of New York Fled After Shooting Son.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Confirming the belief of his family that he had killed himself, the body of Robert F. Nathan, 66 years old, a retired broker, was identified by his brother, Harold Nathan. It had been picked up Saturday from the Hudson by a dredge.

Nathan fled from his home April 3, after a row over finances with his son, Robert Norton, who was shot twice in the neck. The son has changed his name from Nathan to Norton.

NO-MO-NOX

TRADE MARK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The Safe Way to Improve Gasoline!

Kills carbon! Saves lives!

Both the damage of carbon troubles in combustion engines and the danger of carbon monoxide from exhaust gases have been conquered fully and finally by this 5-year tested No-Mo-Nox.

No More Engine Knocks
No More Carbon Troubles
No More Fouled Plugs
No More Exhaust Poison
More Power, More Mileage

These are the results of pouring 2 ozs. of No-Mo-Nox in every 5 gallons of gasoline.

Five years of exhaustive tests in both laboratories and in hundreds of motors have not only proved these No-Mo-Nox results, but have also proved that No-Mo-Nox is the one safe way to get these results with gasoline.

It is non-poisonous! Non-inflammable! Non-injurious to metal or skin!

And it positively will make exhaust gases harmless. No life will ever be lost in a closed garage where No-Mo-Nox is used.

No-Mo-Nox results are due to the fact that it eliminates incomplete combustion, which is the cause of carbon troubles in the engine and the cause of deadly monoxide gases in the exhaust.

Imagine such results as these for the cost of 2c or less per gallon of gasoline treated! Surely, no motorist will delay proving such a product that does so much for himself and his motor.

Buy a can on a guaranteed trial basis. Money back if you are not satisfied.

Professor of Mechanical Engineering, says:

"The petty and annoying troubles that grow out of fouled spark plugs, overheated engine, etc., have become unknown to me since I began using No-Mo-Nox. I have had absolutely no carbon trouble. You are at liberty to refer to me."

F. A. Berger,
Prof. of Mechanical Engineering

SERVICE BOARD APPROVES $1,360,000 FOR NEW LIGHTS

Sends to Aldermen Measures Calling for Erection of 7000 Electric Standards.

Proposed ordinances authorizing the expenditure of $1,360,000 of bond issue funds to install new electric street lighting equipment in various parts of the city were approved by the Board of Public Service today, and will be sent to the Board of Aldermen. About 7000 standards are provided for in the ordinances.

One ordinance authorizes the expenditure of $1,250,000 in the district bounded by Grand boulevard, Chouteau, Natural Bridge and Newstead avenues, and in the district bounded by Lindell and Union boulevards, Newstead and Natural Bridge avenues. Another ordinance provides for the district bounded by St. Louis, Vandeventer, Natural Bridge and Newstead avenues, and still another for the district bounded by Sarah street, Chouteau and Newstead avenues and Lindell boulevard.

The districts will be served by a substation now under construction at 3100 Franklin avenue, and another new substation at Cote Brilliante avenue and Kingshighway.

BEIDLEMAN APPEALS COUNT

Court Order Issued to Vare Candidate in Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 25.—Edward E. Beidleman, Vare candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at last week's primary, has been granted an appeal from the official count in 271 Allegheny County districts by Judge Shafer.

A bill in equity was filed asking that the County Commissioners, who are in charge of the official count now in progress, be directed to permit Beidleman's representatives to examine the return sheets after the vote is tabulated.

Unofficial returns from the primary gave John S. Fisher, who was backed by Senator Pepper and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, a lead of 14,000 votes over Beidleman.

DIVORCE FOR BANKER'S WIFE

Mrs. Mary B. Hicks Files Suit Today and Obtains Decree.

Mrs. Mary B. Hicks was granted a divorce today from Frank O. Hicks, vice president of the First National Bank in St. Louis. The suit was filed today and given immediate hearing by Circuit Judge Pearcy, there being no contest, Hicks merely filing an appearance.

Mrs. Hicks charged general indignities, specifically that her husband refused to speak to her for months, refused to dine with her and would not visit their mutual friends in her company. They married in 1916 and separated May 10 last, according to her petition.

First Case of Heat Prostration.

The first case of heat prostration treated at City Hospital this year was that of Julius Mueller, 86 years old, a street cleaner, who became exhausted while working in the 1200 block of South Broadway yesterday afternoon. J. HUGO GRIMM MADE GENERAL COUNSEL OF BOATMEN'S BANK

Former Circuit Judge to Have Charge of the Trust and Fiduciary Departments.

J. Hugo Grimm, former Circuit Judge, will begin next Tuesday his work as vice president and general counsel of the Boatmen's Bank, to which position he was elected yesterday by the bank's directors. He will have charge of the organization of the trust and fiduciary department. He will retire from private practice and devote his entire time to the bank.

Judge Grimm, after serving 16 years on the Circuit bench, resigned early in 1925, to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor. He recently announced his decision not to be a candidate either for the Supreme Court or for the Circuit Court in this year's preliminaries, as he considers himself out of politics.

$1000-a-Minute Fire Loss in U. S.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Fire losses in the United States amount to more than $1000 every minute, Wilfred Kurth, president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, said in an address here yesterday. He said that losses, increased by carelessness and crome are so great that the fire insurance business has shown no profit for five years.

Man Slain at Prosecutor's Home.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., May 25.—John Fechter, 47 years old, of Cincinnati, was killed last night when he attempted to force his way into the home of his brother-in-law, Arthur Fix, Assistant Prosecutor of this county, at Newtown, near here, to see his estranged wife. At first Fix told Mayor Kinney of Newtown that he killed his sister's husband, but under questioning admitted that Mrs. Fix did the shooting.

HEARING IN PLUMBERS' SUIT IS POSTPONED

Illness of Son of Assistant Attorney-General Interrupts Proceeding.

The hearing on the State's suit against 18 members of the Association of Master Plumbers of St. Louis was interrupted yesterday shortly after it had begun before former Supreme Court Judge James T. Blair as commissioner for the Missouri Supreme Court, in which quo warranto proceedings have been brought under the State antitrust statute.

The sudden illness at Bolivar, Mo., of Charles A. Crowder, son of Assistant Attorney-General Crowder, who was appearing for the State, caused indefinite postponement. The hearing was being held in the court room of the St. Louis Court of Appeals.

Crowder had called Eugene Blake, for 22 years general secretary of the Association, and through him was laying the foundation of the State's case by the identification of constitution, by-laws and practices of the Association. Blake testified that the Association, comprising 176 individuals, represented 75 per cent of the master plumbers of the St. Louis district. Later he corrected this to state that the percentage was "under 50."

The State alleges that, under its rules, the Association requires that all bids be submitted to it and that the Association then determines the successful bidder, requiring a 2 per cent "kitty" on the amount of the bid, which is distributed at regular intervals among all members.

Counsel for the master plumbers raised the legal point yesterday that the State's action is directed against corporations and that no corporations have membership in the Association, but are represented by their officers.

1925 DEATH RATE SHOWED DECLINE IN 30 CITIES

Vermont Was High With 14.6 Deaths Per Thousand; North Carolina Had Most Births.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Birth rates of 1925 were lower in 26 of 30 states for which figures are available in the Commerce Department and death rates were higher in 16 states. On the whole, however, the death rate declined very slightly. The area surveyed is known as the registration area used by the department in compiling vital statistics.

The highest birth rate for 1925 was 28.8 per 1000 population in North Carolina. The lowest, was 15.1 in Montana. Vermont had the highest death rate, 14.6 per 1000, while Montana and North Dakota had the lowest, 7.7.

Infant mortality rates for the year were generally higher than those for 1924, the figures show, with 19 of the 30 states registering an increase. Maryland, where the infant death rate was 90.4 per 1000 births, had the highest figures. Oregon, with a rate of 51.2 had the lowest.

Among the cities of more than 100,000 population, Norfolk had the highest infant mortality rate with 96.7. Seattle had the lowest with 44.9.

For the area the number of births in 1825 was 1,727,467 and the deaths were 955,074. Of these deaths 123,512 wer under one year of age. The birth rate for the area was 21.2 per 1000 population while the death rate was 11.7. These figures compared with a birth rate of 22.6 in 1924 and a death rate of 11.8. Deaths under one year of age in the area were 71.5 per 1000 births against 71 in 1924.

BOOTLEGGERS NEED NOT FILE SALES RECORD, COURT HOLDS

Government Can't Prosecute Them for Failing to Disclose Names of Customers.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Supreme Court has ruled that bootleggers are not required to furnish the Government with sales records and the names of customers. In deciding two cases from Pennsylvania yesterday, the Court, in a ruling read by Justice Stone, held that the whisky sales records required by law apply only to those persons holding Government permits to sell intoxicating liquor. The ruling were in the cases of Jacob Katz, George Senn and Herman Feuerstein, and it denied the right of the Government to prosecute bootleggers and their customers for failure to provide lists of illegal transactions.

Action of the trial court in quashing indictments against the men charging conspiracy to violate the law in the sale of whisky for the Stewart Distilling Co. without making a permanent record was sustained.

Bail Forfeited in Bigamy Case.

By the Associated Press.

TRENTON, N. J., May 25.—Ten thousand dollars cash bail, posted by the wealthy widow of Adolph Goebel, former Brooklyn meat packing magnate, for the appearance of her present husband, Dr. Sigwart J. Reed, New York architect, on extradition proceedings arising from a bigamy charge against him, has been ordered forfeited by United States Commissioner Wilson. Reed, who is wanted in Washington, D. C., on charges that he has a wife in Germany and another in Chicago, is said to have jumped his bail. He was originally arrested on a warrant sent here from Washington and was arraigned before Wilson April 11.

Reduce Weight —AS I DID

Says Claire Swanner,

Hollywood, California.

"It is just as necessary for the motion picture actress to keep trim and fit as it is for an athlete. Contracts are cancelled if we allow our weight to increase too much. The wonderful climate of Hollywood tends to put on weight, and so I keep my figure trim and normal by taking VERONICA Water. It is astonishing how simple and easy it is. And I don't have to bother about diet or exercise. I feel better, too, than I have ever felt before."—CLAIRE SWANNER.

Thousands of delighted users have lost excess weight by drinking daily a few glasses of this Pure Natural Mineral Water, bottled just as it comes from the famous springs in California. It is harmless, effective. No starving diet, no tiring exercises. Does not weaken or leave flabbiness, lines or wrinkles. It is based on the now recognized scientific principle of normalizing weight by perfecting the assimilation of food and eliminating the fat-forming elements. Start the treatment today and watch the excess fat disappear. You will note an almost immediate improvement in your general health, too. VERONICA is recommended and sold by all drug stores everywhere.

MATÉO

Mah-tay-oh

The Stimulating Drink of Unusual Merit

A carbonated and sweetened beverage, prepared from the leaves of the Yerba Mate (Ilex Paraguariensis,) a wonderful herb of South America, and flavored with ginger.

Gives Pep, Vigor and Endurance

Mate has been used for centuries by the South American natives and our own Southern Indians as a wonderful stimulant and restorative.

Rev. Dr. Zahm, C.S.C., Ph. D., companion to the late Col. Roosevelt through South America, writes: "It is the most invigorating beverage imaginable. Where Mate is used, drunkenness is practically unknown. Give a native Mate and he will run or work all day with no other food."

"In the southeastern republics it is a much prized article of luxury, and is the first thing offered to visitors." —Encyclopaedia Britannica.

FLIES OVER JAVA WILDS IN QUEST OF PYGMIES

Stirling Expedition Finds Two Lakes in Hills Where Seaplane May Land.

By the Associated Press.

BATAVIA, Java, May 25.—An airplane flight by members of the Stirling expedition, which is seeking pygmies in New Guinea was described in a radio dispatch received from the expedition today. Pilot H. H. Hoyte of New York and Prof. Matthew W. Stirling of Berkeley, Cal., flew in 2 hours and 20 minutes from their camp to the foothills of the Nassau Mountains, carrying 220 kilograms of food. They observed many native villages and looked for a landing place but the Rouffaer River, along their course was too shallow and crooked for the seaplane to descend.

They discovered two lakes in the hills near the river on which a landing would be possible, then returned to Splitsings camp. Many natives gathered about the plane, shouting with excitement. Because of the number of natives and what seemed to be their menacing attitude, the flyers immediately hopped back to Albatross camp, their starting point.

The food taken by the plane was hidden in a jungle near Splitsings camp for future use. Owing to the fact that the seaplane was unable to carry safely a load of more than 220 kilograms at a time to Splitsings camp, as compared with the load of more than 400 kilos in its test flight in Surabeya, Prof. Stirling feels that American participation in the expedition will be less that called for in the plans. He, therefore, thinks it only fair that the expedition should be regarded as American-Dutch rather than Dutch-American, and that leadership should be transferred to Dr. Van Leeuwen, the Dutch member.

PAROLE FOR W. J. KINNEY FAVORED BY PRISON BOARD

His Release on July 4 Will Follow Approval of Recommendation by Attorney-General.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., May 25—The application of William J. Kinney, one of the convicted St. Louis Jack Daniel conspirators, for parole from the Federal penitentiary here has been favorably reported to the Attorney-General by the prison parole board.

If the Attorney-General approves—in only rare cases does he overrule the prison board—Kinney will be released July 4, six months after his commitment on an 18-months sentence.

The application of Arnold J. Hellmich, former Collector of Internal Revenue in St. Louis, was presented also, but the board deferred action until September. Hellmich's sentence was two years, so that he would not be eligible for parole until September whatever action the board might have taken at this time. Kinney was a deputy under Hellmich.

PRESSES DEBATE CHALLENGE

W. H. Meredith Insists Harry B. Hawes Accept Invitation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., May 25.—William H. Meredith, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate, has written to Congressman Harry B. Hawes of St. Louis, also a senatorial candidate, insisting on his challenge for a debate. Hawes, in a letter to Meredith, suggested that the debate idea be dropped in the interest of party harmony.

Meredith, in his letter, says that Hawes challenged former Gov. Gardner last fall to a debate, and he argues that a Meredith-Hawes debate would not impair party harmony any more seriously than a Gardner-Hawes debate would have done. "Since you must have had party harmony in mind when you challenged Gov. Gardner," Meredith wrote "I insist that you accept my invitation." Meredith plans to open his campaign Friday at Kennett.

JUDGE SPANKS GROWN MAN

Suspends Sentence of Five Days in Jail After Punishment.

By the Associated Press.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., May 25.—Judge Anthony Johnson, who boasts some 200 pounds of brawn and muscle, took George Goutcher, 42 years old, over his knee in his private office yesterday and spanked him. Goutcher was before the court for disorderly conduct on complaint of his wife. Judge Johnson then sentenced the prisoner to five days in jail, but later suspended sentence on the plea of Goutcher's wife.

The spanking was in the nature of punishment for contempt of court, as before his arrest, officers told the court, Goutcher had referred to Judge Johnson and the arresting officers in uncomplimentary terms.

No Pardon for Chicago Jailer.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 25.—A plea to President Coolidge to pardon Wesley Westbrook, former Chicago jailer, sentenced to four months in jail for extra favors granted Terry Druggan, beer king, has been unsuccessful. A Spanish war veterans' camp, which sought the executive clemency, was told that no action would be taken.

GIVES FINANCIAL PLAN FOR WET REFERENDUM

W. H. Stayton Tells St. Louis Committee of Centralized Budget System.

Reorganization plans whereby the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment may concentrate finances gathered in the 48 states to back campaigns in six, including Missouri, against the state dry laws by referendum vote next November, were laid before members of the Executive Committee of the Missouri branch of the association yesterday by the national president, W. H. Stayton of Baltimore.

The plans described by Stayton were indorsed by those who attended a conference at the Noonday Club. The full committee is to be gathered June 11 or 12, when Stayton will be in St. Louis again, and it is considered certain that the plans, which are being advanced in every state, will be finally accepted then.

Under the proposed relations, the state bodies, which have been units to themselves with full financial and political functions, would drop their financial duties. They would send annual budgets to the national body, which would meet the budgets from a general fund gathered by national representatives in each state.

Wet leaders here regard this as a brightening of the prospects for the Missouri referendum. They had hoped for some arrangement for financial aid from the national organization. In addition to financial assistance, the national body offers the service of a corps of speakers and a radio broadcasting campaign. Other states where referendums are planned are New York, Wisconsin, Montana, Colorado and Nevada.

"President Coolidge did a great thing for states' rights in his order disregarding state lines," Stayton remarked, referring to the much-criticised executive order authorizing appointment of Sheriffs, policemen and Constables as dollar-a-year prohibition agents. "There is no question that he has aroused tremendous feeling."

INQUEST IN EAST SIDE MURDER CASE POSTPONED

Proceeding Delayed to Thursday to Permit Attendance of Husband of Slain Woman.

The inquest in the case of Mrs. Elsie Barnhouse, East St. Louis dance hall cashier, who was shot to death last Friday night near Horseshoe Lake, east of Granite City, has been postponed until Thursday afternoon to permit the attendance of her husband, Theron, who, with their daughter, is attending the funeral services at Flora, Ill., today.

The public will be excluded from the inquest, which will be conducted by Coroner Bauer and Deputy Coroner Tate at Tate's funeral parlor in Granite City.

Herman Gerking, East St. Louis traffic policeman, is still in jail at Edwardsville, the only person arrested so far in the investigation. Two young women, sisters, will testify at the inquest that they saw Gerking and Mrs. Barnhouse get in Gerking's automobile and drive away from Seventh and St. Clair avenues about 7:45 p. m., Friday, shortly before she was killed. One of the sisters was a friend of William Ragan, police character, who was shot and killed by Gerking in a brawl at Yociss Hall, Jan. 24. Mrs. Barnhouse was cashier at the hall, operated by her husband, and Gerking was "bouncer."

Gerking has said he last saw Mrs. Barnhouse alive Friday evening when he entered an automobile occupied by two men. Earlier in the evening, Gerking said, he had seen Mrs. Barnhouse in conversation with the two sisters who are to testify at the inquest.

Woman Wounded in Roadhouse.

St. Clair County authorities and East St. Louis police are investigating the shooting of Mrs. Ella Carey, 20 years old, of the Savoy Hotel, East St. Louis, who was wounded in the face by a charge from a shotgun fired into a roadhouse at Fifty-ninth street and Lake Drive early today. Witnesses told police the shot was fired through a window of the roadhouse by one of two men standing outside. It is believed the attack was directed against a man seated near Mrs. Carey.

DR. ELIOT AT 92 THINKS DRY LAW MIGHT PERMIT BEER

President Emeritus of Harvard Says Modern Youth Is Up to Past Average.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Dr. Charles W. Eliot, 92-year-old president emeritus of Harvard University, in a "final message to the young people of America," in the current issue of Collier's Weekly, expresses the opinion that their morals are no worse than those of their predecessors.

Regarding capital and labor, he says: "I believe the era of struggle between capital and labor is drawing to a close, because it is so well known that this struggle is unprofitable for both."

Dr. Eliot says he believes it would be dangerous to go beyond very slight modification of the prohibition act, but thinks some change may be advisable.

"We have in alcoholism a major evil which must be fought," he says. "I drank moderately—beer and wine—until I was past 80, becoming teetotaler at the time of the war and remaining so ever since. I see distinct advantages for our country in prohibition if it can be thoroughly enforced, and I think it can. It may be advisable to amend the Volstead law slightly to permit the manufacture and sale of light beer, but beyond that it would be dangerous to go."

ADMITS RAILROAD EMPLOYES WERE SOLD WORTHLESS STOCK

President of Western Maryland Tells Senate Committee He Stopped Oil Deal.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The management of the Western Maryland Railroad, on which labor trouble has existed since last October, was assailed and defended before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

At a hearing on the Shipstead resolution directing a Federal investigation of the controversy, described by the railroad as "strike" and as a "lockout" by the employes, the committee was told that employes had been coerced in 1920 and 1921 by two officials into purchasing stock in an oil company, which subsequently proved to be fictitious.

M. C. Byers, president of the road, said that he had stopped the stock-selling scheme as soon as he had learned of it in 1921. He said that the two officials concerned—A. Williamson, superintendent of the Cumberland Division, and his chief clerk, F. M. Bottner, president and treasurer, respectively, of the Maryland Oil Co.—are still in the employ of the railroad company.

ESSEN FOR H. F. NIEDRINGHAUS

Latter Favored for Nomination to Succeed Congressman Newton.

Several members of the Republican Congressional Committee of the Tenth District favor H. F. Niedringhaus, former manager of the National Enameling and Stamping Co., for the nomination to succeed Congressman Cleveland A. Newton, who will not be a candidate for re-election.

It now appears that the Essen influence in St. Louis County, which is an important factor in the district, will be thrown to Niedringhaus. Other candidates are Rowland L. Johnson, Joseph C. Schroeder and Walter F. Schlep, who have filed; and Richard Bartholdt and Henry A. Kersting, who have made announcements without filing thus far.

OZARK TOUR NEXT WEEK

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ELLINGTON, Mo., May 25.—change in the schedule of the Missouri Ozarks Chamber of Commerce Good-Will Tour was announced today by the secretary, Anthony A. Buford. The change was made on account of the late strawberry season in Southwest Missouri. The Ozark Boosters want to visit that section during the height of the picking season and for that reason it was thought advisable by the officers of the Ozark Fruit Growers' Association to delay the tour until May 31.

About 150 men and women from all over "the Big Springs country" will start from Van Buren.

ATTEMPT TO BURN BUILDING

Furniture Store Threatened Twice in Two Days by Incendiary.

A second attempt within two days to set fire to the four-story brick building at 1117 Locust street occupied by Lucks-Orwig-Le Roi, furniture dealers, was frustrated at 9:30 o'clock last night when Patrolman Claggett found a can of flaming liquid set against the rear wall of the building and kicked it into the alley. He made a similar discovery Saturday night. J. C. R. Settlage, secretary, could not account for the attempts to fire the building.

GERMANY WANTS LEAGUE STRONGER THAN ANY MEMBER

Bernstorff at Geneva Conference Urges Disarmament With That Purpose in Mind.

PUBLICITY ENLISTED TO PROMOTE PEACE

Commission Votes to Lay Bare Potential Horrors of War With Modern Lethal Weapons.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, May 25.—Germany intervened sensationally at today's meeting of the Preparatory Disarmament Commission when Count von Bernstorff, former Ambassador to the United States, made sharp allusion to the fact that Germany's neighbors were not yet disarmed.

He insisted that the measures proposed by France to strengthen the League of Nations covenant and speed assistance to any attacked nation should be based not on the present excessive armaments of Europe but on the reduced scale of armaments which everybody hoped the eventual international conference would bring to the world.

Count von Bernstorff emphasized that, although Germany is regarded "morally as a member of the League," she cannot yet have a voice in the League Council to which Paul Boncour's project for reinforcng the covenant has been referred.

Wants League Armies Paramount.

Hence, the German spokesman said, he wanted to register the opinion now that future disarmament should be of such nature as to prevent any one nation possessing military strength greater than that at the disposal of the League of Nations.

"Each of the States," he said, "should have sufficient forces so that the League will be able at all times to impose its will."

To strike at war and strike hard as it will not have the slightest chance of getting very far, determination which markedly underlies the preliminary disarmament studies.

France failed to induce the commission to make the project for strengthening the League covenant an integral part of a future disarmament conference, but succeeded in getting through a strong recommendation urging the Council of the League to give immediate consideration to the plan proposed by Boncour.

Outline of Boncour,

In submitting the plan the French express the conviction that only quick action by the League Council in last winter's Greco-Bulgarian dispute prevented a war. The plan invites the Council to frame regulations that will, first facilitate a meeting of the Council with the briefest notice in case of war or threat of war; second, enable the Council to take decisions to enforce obligation of the covenant as swiftly as possible; third, permit rapid drafting of recommendations for military assistance to an attacked State once the Council shall have decided to make such recommendations; fourth, permit the imposing of an armistice on belligerents; fifth, arrange improvement of telephonic and telegraphic services of the various countries with the League, so that the organization can be informed instantaneously of war danger anywhere, and sixth, perfect a system that will isure rapid economic and financial help to an attacked nation.

Mr. Debrouckere of Belgium is still arguing for pitiless publicity for everything appertaining to war. He obtained the adoption of a proposal whereby the experts would be asked to consider the advisability from a military viewpoint of organizing at Geneva a permanent service for the collection of information received from the various governments concerning their scale of armaments, military, naval and air programs, and the condition of their industries adaptable to war purposes. The exchange of information on the subject is already made obligatory by the London covenant.

War's Improved Horrors.

M. Debrouckere also pushed through a demand for investigating the wisdom of concluding an international convention making it compulsory to publish all inventions which can be utilized in poison gas, microbe or other forms of warfare condemned by civilized opinion.

On the suggestion of Viscount Cecil of Great Britain, the commission decided to lay bare the potential horrors of gas warfare so the world may know what may be expected in future wars, and by universal demand force all nations to abolish it forever.

Repeated affirmations here that great cities like New York, London and Paris, could be annihilated by aerial gas bombs have given new vigor to the crusade against this special form of warfare.

Club Women to Eliminate Friction.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 25.—Friction, which may have existed between the National Council of Women and the General Federation of Women's Clubs, now in biennial session here, will be eliminated, it is believed, as a result of a report received today by the General Federation directorate. It was to the effect that pursuant to action taken by the directorate of the National Council in New York, in February, that body would hereafter serve as a clearing house for actions initiated by its subsidiary organizations. No action will be taken by the National Council which will conflict with the policies or purposes of its auxiliaries.

Dr. Luther to Visit America.

ESSEN, Germany, May 25.—Dr. Hans Luther, former Chancellor, is making plans for a trip to the United States in June. The trip will be incidental to a tour of the world.

The Political Undertow

Coolidge Loyalty Issue Begins to Irk President

Chief Executive Lectures Callers on Fact That Men and Measures Should Stand on Merits Regardless of His Approval—Support or Non-Support Doesn't Count in Off-Years Anyway and Only Makes Grief.

By CHARLES MICHELSON.

WASHINGTON, May 25. — This business of making subservience to the President the sole issue of campaigns, particularly of primary campaigns, is productive of more disappointments in an off year than anything else on the political chart.

There has been a lot of it this year, and nobody is happy. Each candidate who fails to ride to victory on the President's coat tails, like Senator McKinley of Illinois, is resentful that Mr. Coolidge did not reward his faithfulness by positive manifestation of his favor. Each candidate who invokes his unquestioning fealty to the President, and is licked in spite of it, adds to the annoyance of the President by giving his adversaries the opportunity to point to the outcome as evidence that the Coolidge popularity is waning.

The President has been treating some of his recent visitors to a lecture on the subject that shows how the fashion is irking him.

Should Stand on Merits.

"The whole thing," says the President, in effect, for this, of course, is not a literal transcript of his sermon, "is contrary to the principles of our Government, which assumes independence of the three branches of the Government. That is the theory on which provision was made for vetoes by the executive and for the overriding of the veto when two-thirds of the Congress so determine. The merits or demerits of a measure should be the determining factor in its passage or rejection and not the attitude of the President."

Of course, this President, like every other President, assumes he is right and Congress wrong whenever there is a difference in policy. The distinction drawn by Mr. Coolidge, while incontrovertible in logic, does not affect the total of presidential approval and resentment at congressional votes. The Congressman who votes to sustain the President is actuated by a high sense of public duty, while the fellow who votes the other way is motivated by a low demagogic desire for political advantage.

This is the presidential attitude whether the moot question is of the confirmation of a Sugar Trust promoter to be Attorney-General or soldier, or farm bonus.

It is something like the Coolidge stand on state's rights which has formed the thesis of his recent discourses. The President insists the states should exercise their high prerogative of sovereignty—except where they want to do something the Federal Government does not want them to do, in which case the exercise of their sacred sovereignty becomes mere willfulness to be highly reprobated.

Congressmen Expect Aid.

The Congressmen, fighting for their political lives, in many cases with the handicap of supporting the President in cases where their own constituents demanded contrary action, think the least the President could do would be to give them encouraging word against rival candidates, while the President does not see why he should butt in where the fight is close and risk the loss of prestige involved in participation in failure.

In an off year there is little of direct advantage to the President in the selection of one Republican over another. Frank Smith of Illinois would no more be an administration traitor than was McKinley, who never departed by a hair's breadth from the course marked out by the President.

For that matter the President could depend on Vare of Pennsylvania as completely as on George Wharton Pepper. When a political boss gets to the Senate he is the last man to countenance, much less commit, breaches of discipline. Penrose, whose vacant throne Vare is ambitious to occupy, despite his despotism at home, was as amenable to the White House as Hale of Maine or Gillett of Massachusetts.

There might enter into the question the matter of gratitude, but a President soon succumbs to the atmosphere of adulation that envelopes all rulers, which makes him immune to such softnesses.

Excellent Alibi Anyway.

Moreover, the promulgation of the doctrine of the purpose of the Constitution in guarding the independence of the three branches of the Government, and the assumption that the President is supported because of the virtue of his policies and not because of personal loyalty, is an excellent alibi against the charge of selfishness.

Of course, where the President has an interest the rule on noninterference in factional fights does not obtain. It was all right to send Cabinet members to Pennsylvania to help Pepper, for Secretary of the Treasurer Mellon is in a position to command presidential support.

It was all right to connive at putting Attorney-General Sargents law partner into the fight to take away the senatorship from Porter Dale of Vermont, for Vermont is the President's native state, and he has always been identified with the Sargent faction as against the Dale faction of Republicanism.

It was quite safe to attempt to punish Dale for leaving the reservation on the soldier bonus and the postal pay raise, which Mr. Coolidge vetoed unsuccessfully. No stretch of the imagination can conceive of Vermont going otherwise than Republican—or Pennsylvania, either—hence it is perfectly safe for the President to intervene there, and forget his wrath at the other Republicans who made up the two-thirds of the Senate and voted, as Dale did, to override the vetoes.

From this time on we will hear less and less the "stand-by-the-President" slogan. Actually, it never was such a vote-getter. In elections where a President is to be chosen the candidate pulls the Senators and Congressmen through, as Coolidge pulled Gillett through. That was a narrow squeak.

Does No Good, Does No Harm.

In off years, such as this one, nobody pays much attention to the Shibboleth. It did McKinley no good and Watson of Indiana no harm.

Actually it is only invoked where the candidate has nothing to recommend him as against any other reptualbe contender. It is the feebler ones of the Senate who shout it most fervently. The strong political figures do not bother about it. Borah in Idaho and Norris in Nebraska are against the President more often than they are with him, and are renominated and elected wherever they run. Watson, with the most perfect political machine in the United States, made the opposition of the administration ridiculous in its inadequacy.

It is a funny thing about Watson. He is as flagrant a trimmer as Pepper, but while Pepper is resented both in the Senate and at home, Watson's unashamed trafficking with every side on every question that involves votes merely provokes an appreciative grin. In this way he gets the Ku Klux and the Negro vote, votes dry and is favored by the wets.

Perhaps the reason is that Pepper does his shifting with a pious genuflection, while Watson does his work with a wink.

KANSAS CITY WILLIAMS CLUB

Jackson County Organization Lines Up Behind Senator.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, May 25.—That Senator George H. Williams will have the support of the Jackson County Republican organization almost to a man was demonstrated last night at a meeting, at which the "Williams-for-Senator" Club was formed. Every chair in Drexel Hall was filled and more than 200 stood up. In the crowd were more than 400 Republican leaders and workers in all factions and from every ward and township in the county. It was in reality a meeting of the Republican county organization pledging its support to Missouri's junior Senator.

Mayor Beach, R. R. Brewster, Roy Monier, Fred A. Richardson and Mrs. Agnes Herndon were among the speakers. Herman M. Langworthy was elected president of the club.

RIFF REBELLION NEARLY CRUSHED, FRANCE BELIEVES

Abd-el-Krim Is in Flight and Tribes Are Submitting, War Minister Painleve Tells Cabinet.

REQUEST FOR TERMS CONSIDERED A RUSE

Premier Briand Thinks Chieftain Merely Wants to Gain Time to Fortify His Position.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 25.—Abd-el-Krim's letter—reputed to ask for an armistice—taken out of the Riff yesterday by a member of the French medical mission, makes no change in the Moroccan situation, in the view of the French Cabinet. After its meeting this morning it was stated that the letter contained nothing definite and offered no guarantee or proof of authority.

Premier Briand said the letter was evidently a maneuver of the Riffian chief to gain time in which to fortify his position and continue his resistance against the advancing French and Spanish troops.

War Minister Painleve declared that all was over with Krim, who had fled and was now seeking refuge. "He no longer represents anything," the Minister said.

Tribes Reported to Be Yielding.

Both the Premier and the War Minister informed the Cabinet that the submission of the tribes was proceeding rapidly and the termination of the operations might be expected soon. This impression, they said, was confirmed by the latest act of Krim, who was believed to be fleeing north.

The French losses continue very light, according to military advices, and an "active, efficient, generous policy of reconciliation with the tribes" is pursued. Any break in the operations at the present moment, it is held, would delay the pacification of Morocco and make it costlier in the end.

The cabinet unanimously asked War Minister Painleve to send congratulations to the troops and the friendly chiefs for the humane and rapid manner in which the operations have been conducted.

Krim Said to Ask Armistice.

The newspaper L' Information says it understands on good authority that Krim's letter asked for an armistice rather than outright peace. The letter was transmitted by telegraph from Fez last evening and was immediately communicated to Premier Briand.

The general belief in French circles is that the French and Spanish Governments will require Krim's unconditional capitulation. Even should the French desire to snow him leniency, it is pointed out, the Spanish Government has to be reckoned with, and Spain has not the ame reasons as the French for considering any compromise.

Le Matin quotes an official as declaring:

"All that was said at Oujda at the recent peace conference has no longer any meaning today. As a result of the exploits of our troops, Abd-el-Krim is done for. That is why the Riffian affair must be liquidated at our advanced posts. It stands to reason that a truce cannot be granted the Riffians unless they completely submit and Krim presents himself in person to our generals. He can count upon the traditional hospitality of France.

"As to the tribes, we will make them understand, without inflicting the slightest reprisals, that it is entirely to their interest to live in peace with us. Before answering Krim, the French Government will consult the Madrid Cabinet, for it is fully understood that France and Spain must act in perfect agreement."

U. S. WOMEN VOTERS IN PARIS

Delegation Visits Five Hotels Before Finding Accommodations.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 25.—Twenty-four delegates of the National League of Women Voters of America, headed by Miss Belle Sherman, president of the league, arrived in Paris late last night to attend the International Suffrage Alliance Congress, which opens next Sunday.

The members of the delegation were forced to visit five hotels before they could find accommodations, owing to the congestion of tourists and the other participants in the congress.

COUNTY MEMBERS MAY END TIEUP OF FREEHOLDERS

Last Minute Change of Front on Annexation Question Considered, to Put Issue Before Voters.

DEFEAT SCHEME AT POLLS, THEIR HOPE

Motive Would Be to End Talk of Merger Into City —Board Meets but Takes No Action.

A last-minute change of front of St. Louis County members of the Board of Freeholders to enable submission to the voters of the city members' proposal for annexation of the county is under consideration, it was learned at last night's meeting of the board.

Nothing, however, was said about this during the session of the board, which is deadlocked and is marking time. The nine City Freeholders are united on a proposal which would make the county part of an enlarged municipality. Seven of the nine County Freeholders recently signed a document setting forth their refusal to join in such a plan. At least 10 of the county members must sign any plan laid before the voters.

The belief now is that leaders of the county delegation may induce some of their colleagues to abandon their opposition and make possible a popular vote on the question. Since all the county freeholders have been opposed to annexation, the only motive apparent would be the hope that the voters would defeat the scheme and thereby end annexation talk.

Until one or more county freeholders sign the city proposal, however, the outcome is problematical. City freeholders have been successful in keeping the board alive until its year of legal authority expires. There was discussion as to the exact time at which this year ends, at last night's meeting. Chairman Henry S. Caulfield expressed the opinion afterward that next Tuesday would be the last day. The board adjourned till Saturday night, after defeating a motion by Frederick W. Lehmann (city) to consider the city scheme article by article. Several suggestions to adjourn sine die were ignored.

Joseph C. McAtee (county) who had intended to submit a resolution asking the board to scrap other efforts an dprepare a constitutional amendment making a metropolitan area form of control effective, abandoned the idea as a useless effort within the board. Meanwhile, the St. Louis County Annexation League is starting circulation of initiative petitions calling for an election in the State to put the city freeholders' proposal into effect. In spite of this, should the board adjourn without submitting a plan, a call for appointment of a new board to take up the matter again is likely.

100 BODIES TAKEN FROM MUD FLOW OF JAPANESE VOLCANO

Sulphur Crater in Hokkaido Region Devastates 10,000 Acres of Rice Fields — 1000 Farmers Missing.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, May 25.—One hundred dead and more than 200 injured have been removed from the mass of mud, lava and rocks precipitated by yesterday's eruption of a volcano in Tokachi Province, Hokkaido Island, the Governor of the island announced in a telegram today. How many of the 1000 farmers missing were buried alive in the lake of mud which covered the district could not be guessed.

Two hundred doctors and nurses aided by 800 relief workers of the Young Men's Association, are attending the peasants.

The lake in the crater of Mount Tokachi, released by the eruption, poured through the sides of the mountain, inundated several villages. Many were drowned and the waters, mingling with lava and earth loosened by the eruption, covered rice fields and houses with mud. Landslides occurred on the steep slopes.

The volcano, supposed to be extinct, began rumbling May 4. Many inhabitants, warned of the impending catastrophe fled from the district.

The first warning came with three explosions yesterday, each carrying huge quantities of rocks and lava, and causing numerous landslides. One village, it is assumed, Biyei was virtually wiped out, 200 inhabitants being buried.

Two miles of railway near the volcano has been destroyed. Ten thousand acres of rice fields were devastated by floods and landslides.

DIVORCE PERCENTAGE RECORD FOR FRANCE HELD BY AMIENS

Decrees in Proportion to Marriages There 1 to 9; in Paris They Are 1 to 10.

By the Associated Press.

AMIENS, May 24.—This proud though war-battered city, the capital of Picardy, has gone its big sister Paris one better. For the proportion of divorces to marriages here is greater even than in the metropolis.

Last year there were granted in Amiens one divorce to nine marriages. Paris, even with the aid of numerous wedlock weary Americans and a host of lawyers specialized in untieing knots, could only boast one out of 10.

Up to the present Amiens holds the all-French record for divorces.

JAPANESE REFORMER MEETS USUAL FATE OF HIS KIND

Viscount Goto Solidifies the Opposition and Loses Support of His Own Group.

Special Radio to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.

TOKIO, Japan, May 25.—Viscount Shimpei Goto, whose recent venture upon the political stage was heralded a few months ago as that of a leader of a "cleaner politics and better municipal government" movement coupled with an educational campaign among the 10,000,000 recently enfranchised Japanese youth, appears to have incurred the enmity of professional politicians of all parties, cliques and factions.

These politicians have been so unanimously vociferous that the supporters of Viscount Goto assert municipal manipulators are endeavoring to conceal even more serious scandals than developed during the recent muckraking session of the Diet. However, Goto's reform movement has solidified the professional leaders while his former popularity among the younger element and also with the newspapers is waning rapidly.

MORO OUTLAWS ROUTED AND FORTS DESTROYED

Philippine Constabulary Begins War of Extermination Against Band.

By the Associated Press.

MANILA, May 25.—Official advices from Lanao district say 200 constabulary troops today engaged a band of Moro outlaws, demolishing two forts. Two constabulary soldiers were killed and eight wounded. Col. Luther H. Stevens, who led the constabulary, telegraphed that the exact number of Moros killed was uncertain but private advices place the number at forty.

The constabulary was continuing its attack on outlaw cottas (forts) for the purpose of exterminating the band which has been terrorizing Lanao Province for several months. Three of these forts are still to be destroyed. After repeated efforts to induce the outlaws to surrender, the constabulary, under orders from Governor-General Wood, started a campaign to destroy them.

BUCHAREST, May 25. — The newspapers announce that Clarence Streit, correspondent of the New York Times, has been ordered by the Government to leave Rumania within 24 hours. The press announcement alleges that Streit wrote for his newspaper a series of articles which were considered insulting to the Crown and Government.

This is the first time the Rumanian Government has taken such action against a foreign correspondent.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Times printed five articles by Streit. He wrote that King Ferdinand accepted the abdication of Prince Carol against advice and the gravest reasons of state, using his power neither as a prudent King nor as a normal father, because the monarch already was unpopular and was jeopardized by his action.

COOLIDGE SIGNS BILL FOR PROPOSED ALTON BRIDGE

Projects Sponsored by State Senator McCawley Still in Promotion Stage.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—President Coolidge yesterday signed a bill introduced by Representative Clarence Cannon of the Ninth Missouri District, authorizing State Senator A. L. McCawley of Carthage, Mo., to construct highway bridges over the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers above St. Louis.

One project is for a bridge from Alton to West Alton; the other would connect with State Highway No. 2 at Bellefontaine.

These projects have not passed the promotion stage. Recently in St. Louis, Senator McCawley expressed confidence of financing. He said that one result would be shortening the distance from Sixth and Olive street, St. Louis, to Alton, from 27.4 to 18.5 miles.

PILSUDSKI PLANS DICTATORSHIP OF YEAR AT LEAST

Provisional Government in Poland Guarantees Fair Election of President; to Dissolve Parliament.

CITE DEMAND OF PUBLIC OPINION

Official Pronouncement Says It Is Impossible to Pass Reform Measures as Diet Is Constituted Now.

By the Associated Press.

WARSAW, May 25.—The dissolution of parliament and a dictatorship for at least a year apparently are the chief plans for the provisional Polish Government, which took office when Marshal Pilsudski, by a coup d'etat, overthrew the regime of President Wojciechowski.

A pronouncement of the Government guarantees the fair election of a president at a session of the General Assembly called for next Monday, but adds that public opinion urgently demands dissolution of parliament.

It says that changes in the constitution are necessary, particularly with regard to empowering the president to dissolve parliament.

"As it is impossible to pass such resolutions in the diet as constitued at present," says the statement, "it is indispensible to invest the President in the interim between the two parliaments, with special powers to clean up the administrative apparatus, promulgate a new electoral law, unify the courts and reorganize the civil and military bodies."

Reforms Proposed.

The reforms, it is announced, are to become operative within a year. Generally, while considered in some quarters as a trifle vague, the pronouncement is considered as indicating that the Government plan means, first, the election of a president next Monday; second, enactment of special emergency legislation; third, dissolution of parliament, leaving the President to govern Poland for a year without cooperation of the Diet and Senate, and, fourth, new elections, unless it is deemed advisable to extend the President's dictatorial powers from year to year.

Advices from Posen are that the Right parties there, which are anti-Pilsudski, are willing to accept a presidential candidate, even though he may not be a member of the Right, in order to avoid dissolution of the National Assembly. If Pilsudski is nominated, however, it is stated the opposition forces will decline to attend the National Assembly as they cannot be parties to a plan to "place a rebel in the highest office."

Conference of Candidates.

Pilsudski would like to have all the presidential condidates gather at his home before the election next month for a brotherly conference.

The Marshal demands of all presidential candidates an unequivocal pledge that they will make no pre-election agreement with any of the factions of the Diet, any financial corporation or group or any other private interest.

Such a pledge, the Marshal contends, would constitute a protest against the old Polish custom whereby elector Kings were tied by promises to the powerful aristocracy. A modern President, the Marshal feels might find himself obligated to political factions or to the "newly rich." The President of new Poland, he asserts, must represent the entire national outlook—all factions and all social classes.

Pilsudski Receives Correspondents at His Home Near Warsaw.

WARSAW, May 25.—At the door of the modest little house in Coutrew, 20 miles from Warsaw, which Marshal Pilsudski left ten days ago to force the resignation of the Warsaw Government, he received foreign correspondents yesterday, a littel child clinging to each of his legs.

He ushered the small crowd of us into his study, with the greeting:

"Well, gentlemen, here I am. I have avoided seeing you until now that you come to make me a visit in my home I can hardly be so inhospitable as not to invite you in. But I do not wish to say much, because I have promised to make a complete report of my position tomorrow. So please do not ask me to tell you in advance what I will say.

"But for you to see me will at least show you that there is nothing in the tales printed all over the world of how I have lost my mind, how my health has broken down, how my nerves have gone back on me.

"You do not have to be told after looking at me that I am in excellent health and I hope you can see for yourselves that I am not a victim of a nervous breakdown."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Vare's Victory.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THERE is cause for rejoicing everywhere among liberals in the result of the Pennsylvania primary. Mr. Vare's clean-cut and overwhelming victory has sounded the death-knell of prohibition in America. It is the culmination of a long succession of wet triumphs in the past two years, the most notable being the election of A. Harry Moore to the governorship of New Jersey, Brennan's success in Illinois, and, of course, the record wet vote in Pennsylvania. What makes the wet landslide in Pennsylvania the more significant is the fact that tens of thousands of wet votes were alienated from Vare in the mining district by reason of Pinchot's popularity among the miners, and tens of thousands more by reason of Mr. Mellon's slogan, "Stand behind the Republican President," which is a tremendously potent argument in a state where people take their Republicanism with deadly seriousness.

One thing you have to give the drys credit for; they do not dissipate their strength as the wets all too frequently are in the habit of doing. But the wets are learning. Little by little they are acquiring the same ruthlessness of political purpose that has heretofore been the chief asset of the drys. Encouraged by the result in Pennsylvania they should henceforth adopt as their war-cry, "Whenever you see a head, hit it"—always providing that the head is a dry one. Until the curse of prohibition—the monstrosity wh[illegible] has undermined our national [illegible] ruined countless homes, deb[illegible] our youth and demoralized our p[illegible]e—is abolished, let no wet voter consider whether a man's politics be Republican or Democratic, or anything else; let him consider only whether he stands for the return of sanity and personal liberty, or whether he responds to the commands of the fanatics and bigots; if he is of the latter type, crush him. "Whenever you see a dry head, smash it."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WE HAVE watched with great interest your vigorous fight against the perversion of justice in our courts. Your persistence through your news columns, editorial page and cartoons in keeping this problem before the public should be cordially commended. There are some causes of crime which do not require any considerable investigation in order to establish their identity. You are on the right track in respect to these and anything that you can do to improve our own local situation so as to make the wheels of justice operate more effectively will be of tremendous service to the city and the larger community.

Placing the Blame.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE blame for the shocking slaying of Walter Sisler by Policeman Gerdes should be placed where it properly belongs—upon the Police Board itself. Here rests the blame for this outrageous deed, and the record of this board in similar cases of police-madness proves this declaration. Let this be said now: If Officer Gerdes had killed the man at whom he shot, there is not an observant citizen who believes that this board would have dismissed him from the force for his act of sheer madness. Proof? Chief Gerk's letter pertaining to the outrage states "he pondered over the affair in order not to do an injustice to this probationary." Gerk "ponders" over an act of infamous madness which strikes an honorable citizen dumb with horror! His solicitude is for an officer who deserves naught but instant denunciation, and severe punishment!

Officer Gerdes had every reason to believe, based upon the board's record in similar cases, that his gun play would find favor before the board. In his defense, on the charge of homicide, he should ask acquittal on the grounds that other officers were not even dismissed for the shooting of inoffensive citizens.

Zones of Quiet?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

PERMIT me to use your valuable space and column to call attention to the utter disregard of the city ordinance which provides that undue noises are prohibited in the block surrounding all hospitals, especially along Delmar boulevard from Union boulevard to Clara avenue, where there are two hospitals and the Masonic Home. At all times of day or night, truck drivers and motorists, instead of silencing their sirens, seem to see how loud and often they can use them. If these shrill blasts grate on the nerves of healthy people, what must the poor sick suffer, needlessly?

It is time the police department put a stop to this nuisance.

HUMANITARIAN.

COOLIDGE'S WEASEL WORDS.

It was on May 8 that Mr. Coolidge signed the executive order which authorizes the appointment of state, county and municipal officers as Federal prohibition agents, and thus makes a sweeping Federal incursion into local self-government. Just a week later, on May 15, he made a speech at Williamsburg, Va., against the extension of Federal authority and in favor of the full exercise of the rights of local self-government.

The contradiction between the President's words and his action in signing the executive order is obvious and, in the slashing attack upon the order in the Senate, his words were recalled to illustrate what Senator Bruce called the hypocrisy of his position. At Williamsburg the President said that liberty cannot be divorced from local self-government and "no plan of centralization has ever been adopted which did not result in bureaucracy, tyranny, inflexibility, reaction and decline."

In a striking comparison of Federal and state governments the President said:

> If the Federal Government should go out of existence, the common run of people would not detect the difference in the affairs of their daily life for a considerable length of time. But if the authority of the states were struck down disorder approaching chaos would be upon us within 24 hours.

Yet, a week before these words were uttered, the President had issued an order which would convert all state, county and municipal officers, including city policemen, except where such conversion is expressly forbidden by law, into potential Federal constables, snoopers and spies. He had extended the Federal police power, which now transcends state lines, into the very rosters of officials who are paid, elected and appointed by the people of the various states to enforce local laws.

The Williamsburg speech was not the only utterance of the President in praise of local government as against usurping Federal authority. On last Memiral Day, he spoke thus eloquently on the subject:

> What we need is not more Federal government, but better local government. Our country was conceived in the theory of local self-government. It has been dedicated by long practice to that wise and beneficent policy. It is the foundation principle of our system of liberty. It makes the largest promise to the freedom and development of the individual. Its preservation is worth all the effort and all the sacrifice that it may cost.

Coming from a Republican President, these words, embodying the essence of Jeffersonianism, were inspiring. Throughout the country the President was praised for the wisdom which lay in this speech. But there is a difference between the making of gaudy phrases on the lecture platform and the exigencies of practical politics. As a theorist, Mr. Coolidge may speak for the integrity of local government. As President, and as the signer of an imperialistic ukase, he belies his words.

BY BABBITT OUT OF BABSON.

A new plan of dramatic criticism has been adopted by Arnold Strode-Jackson, who writes for the Louisville Courier-Journal. Mr. Strode-Jackson argues that, since statistics regulate America's work, sleep, diet and nearly every other human activity, a system of percentages might be applied to the drama as a test of its excellence.

Accordingly, he separates every dramatic performance into four elements, namely, the play, the actors, the interpretation and the set, perfection in each of these netting 25 per cent. Then this ruthless man goes to the theater and mathematizes. His first vivisection was on a stock company, which, fortunately, is inured to all sorts of hardships.

A performance of "The Lion and the Mouse" scored 81 per cent, and one of "Seventh Heaven" 89 per cent. The first was judged a perfect play, while the second was given only 17 per cent. Perfection in the second was achieved only by the set, but the actors nearly scored a bull's-eye with 24 per cent to keep up the average.

We do not know the genealogy of this idea, but a fair guess is that it is by Babbitt out of Babson. It is also an even-money chance that it is making William Winter squirm in his grave, while old Thespis, as he struts through the fields of asphodel, is no doubt rending the air with many a fervent curse. In its centuries of parlous existence the theater has withstood many assaults, but we tremble at what will happen should it come to be judged by the principles of the counting room.

SOMETHING RATTLES.

From time immemorial babies have been amused with rattles, in which bits of metal or tiny bells made a more or less pleasing sound. Now Mother Science invites its children, all of us, to stop and listen to the sound of the atoms—or shall we say electrons—rattling as they bombard the infinite, propelled by invisible and imponderable energy.

They do it with that old-fashioned scientific toy, the Leyden jar, invented as long ago as 1754 by Von Kleist of Leyden. But it is helped out by very modern electrical accessories, including radioactive substances. And the rattling is sometimes continuous, sounding a musical note, and at other times broken, so that it is said you can count the number of collisions of the atoms during a second.

The broadcaster-scientist who gave the news of this wonder informed his audience that if a single crystal of sugar were divided into a billion parts, and this billionth were again divided into a billion parts, the fraction would be 20 times as large as the atom of helium used.

Now you know all about it. Something rattles, but it is an invisible something so infinitesimal in size as to be like the Euclidian point, which "hath no parts or magnitude."

It would not take much of a prophet in modern science to tell us that, in due time, we shall hear our brains rattle as we think. Even now occasionally one hears the rattling of brains.

A CONFESSION OF FAILURE.

President Coolidge's ukase, providing that state and municipal officers of the law may be appointed Federal prohibition officers for the enforcement of both state and Federal laws, has met with such violent opposition, not only from antiprohibitionists but from prohibitionists who retain a spark of regard for American institutions and traditions, that it is not likely to be carried out. There is widespread recognition of its impropriety and its vicious effect.

State officers of the law, clothed with Federal authority, would have divided responsibility, divided duty, different laws, and two masters. Such a plan, if successful, would result in a combination of tyranny and chaos.

The main point about the order is the confession of utter failure of Federal prohibition it embodies. The Federal Government has bitten off more than it can chew. Having seized the police power of the states, it finds itself unable to exercise it. It is incapable of enforcing its own laws designed to control the conduct of citizens. It is helpless to use its usurped power.

A SOUL FOR A JOB.

To paraphrase a Kipling aphorism, W. S. Culbertson has saved his job and sold his soul. The story as told in the Sunday Post-Dispatch is really tragic.

Mr. Culbertson, appointed to the Tariff Commission by President Wilson, was one of the liberal members of that board. When the character of the commission was changed by the Harding appointments the liberals found the going rough. But they were resolute, forthright men. They fought high-heartedly, with the courage of their convictions. Culbertson, an especially troublesome factor to the extreme protectionists, was finally disposed of by promotion to the diplomatic service as Minister to Rumania.

He has recently appeared before the Senate committee investigating the Tariff Commission. His stultification as a witness was pathetic. Instead of standing by his old fellow-liberal, Costigan, Culbertson strove desperately to paint Mr. Coolidge's unhappy attitude towards the commission in bright, heroic colors. He failed. He succeeded only in humiliating himself. Indeed, he fairly well discredited himself as a witness by this letter on his official stationery:

> It's not much of a compliment to me that Brossard is selected to fill my place. If this appointment is to be regarded as a revelation of the President's policy, I feel fully justified in leaving the commission. * * * I didn't suppose that Coolidge would do a thing so rawly, if he did it at all. * * * Evidently Brossard has been playing with the sugar lobby and now he has his reward. * * * If they (the Senate) can defeat Warren, this raw case should be easy.
> "Did you write that letter?" asked a Senator.
> "I did."

Were Culbertson a lame duck his zealous loyalty to the man who gave him his present place could be understood. But until he appeared before the investigation he was anything but a lame duck. He is a talented person. He is a writer and lecturer on economic subjects, with several books to his credit. He is a Ph. D. and LL. D. In his brief year at Bucharest he has made an excellent record. And he is only 41 years old.

Why should a man of such attainments and possibilities abandon his faith and desert his former comrades? It is unexplainable. Does a political job, like conscience, make cowards of them all? It seems to have done so in the case of young Mr. Culbertson.

BRIAND'S TRAINING FOR MATRIMONY.

Well, suppose Aristide Briand is going to be married. What of it? What fills his friends with such trepidation? He is old enough, being 65, and most eligible, being famous and well-loved, if not prosperous. Besides, what man has had a better apprenticeship than he for the terrors of matrimony? To begin with, as an orator for many years he has demonstrated his ability to out-talk any woman living. As a diplomat, he has matched guile with guile, ruse with ruse, subtlety with subtlety. As a 10-time Premier of France he has numberless times braved the rages and the hysterics of a whole houseful of legislators.

We see no reason why Aristide Briand, with such training as he has had, should not become the world's champion husband.

AUBREY BOYLES.

To Aubrey Boyles of Mobile, Ala., the liquor question was a kind of mania. He pursued bootleggers with a furious intensity, and with such success that he became in four years the champion dry prosecutor of the United States. When the question of his reappointment arose, Boyles found himself condemned by his associates, denounced by members of his profession, deserted by former friends—a lonely, savage figure. Even the influence of the Antisaloon League and the Ku Klux Klan, whose spirit he typified, failed to save his job as District Attorney. The Senate refused to confirm his reappointment by the vote of 52 to 22.

Since Boyles is obsessed on the prohibition question, he probably never will understand why he was kicked out of office after making a brilliant record as a prosecutor. He left all the other work of the District Attorneyship to assistants, and did nothing but fight liquor cases, which was logical, because he thought prohibition was the most important thing in life. He encouraged a hanger-on to solicit bribes from bootleggers and to pocket the money, that he might prosecute them, but he thought anything was fair in a war so holy as the one which he led. Like other fanatics, he sacrificed all principles, ethical standards, decency and common sense to the pursuit of prohibition.

Boyles was intolerable in public office, just as any madman would be. His case is not an isolated one, though he was endowed with a greater frenzy than most of his kind. Many other men, in public office or in a semi-public position, have gone loco since the eighteenth amendment was passed. If they dared, they would resort to bloodshed to wipe liquor off the earth. Supremely confident of their own righteousness, they would welcome a reign of terror and a government by maniacs to enforce the dry laws.

WHINE OF A RABID BABBIT.

I'll ever root for dear St. Lou,
And praise her to the skies;
I cannot think of her but that
The tears stream from my eyes.
Yet when the Browns keep losing games,
It makes my hard-boiled collar wilt;
I'd leave the old burg flat, but stay!
A reptile house is being built.

Smoke and soot—it's everywhere,
The sun can't pierce the murk;
The laundries run on double shifts
And still are swamped with work.
Yet all of this I tolerate.
Why be a yowling, whining pup?
Here's honey for a soot-filled throat:
A reptile house is going up.

Our thoroughfares are full of holes;
It makes a driver tremble,
To turn into some boulevards
That washboards do resemble:
I don't complain about the ruts,
My Ford don't realize them—
But think of how that reptile house
Of ours will paralyze them!

The plaza plans have gone to seed
And nothing's being done,
To curb the doings of the birds
Who sling a wicked gun.
The air mail, too, we stand to lose,
And things seem pretty blue;
But wait until they open up

KRAZY DOINGS ON CHOUTEAU AVENUE

The spirit of Krazy Kat walks in the land, as witness the following little drama:

Scene: White Castle Hamburger Shop, 1124 Chouteau avenue.

Time: 10:20 p. m.

Characters:

Krazy Kat, played by Harry Geluck, 21 years old.

Ignatz, played by Ray J. Foster, a dwarf.

Offissa Pup, hamburger munchers, cooks, waiters, etc.

Enter Krazy, with a pistol in his hand, and predatory ideas in his mind. Exit little Ignatz, quietly and without attracting any notice.

Hands up!

Mrs. Anna Molz, 1015 Twelfth boulevard, relinquished a purse containing $2.28. Krazy, becoming frightened, decides to make his exit and does.

As he backs through the door—Pow!

Ignatz socks him with a brick.

Stunned, Krazy runs into the arms of Offissa Pup, played by Patrolman Henry Gierse of the Central District.

Geluck, or Krazy, is now housed in the klink.

Curtain, with appropriate bows from Ignatz Foster.

Justice may be blind, but a good reporter can see all right.

WHY WE CAN'T HAVE THE TRUTH.

The one consistently effective lubricant of the wheels of civilization, the guardian angel of polite society, the mother of harmony, is the conventional lie. It is the salient phenomenon which differentiates the Tartars from the Christian Endeavor sociable of Waco, Tex., the playful butchery of the robber barons from the social slaughter of an afternoon tea. Under its magic touch, the impossible situation blossoms into a charming event, an unspeakable crudity into a delightful eccentricity.

In the judgment of every-day life justice has spoken. The white samite so generally affected by the saintly marauders of the round table is none too pure to clothe its graceful form. It is the alchemist of society. Science and the occult alike grow pale and tremble before those tasks which the conventional lie will scarcely stoop to dignify. It is the fairy of all facilities, the genius of expediency. It waves its wand and lo! the puppy and the diplomat consume cigars together, the devil and angel play at cards, the cad escorts the debutante to dinner.

To what defeats and routs it ever puts that ancient and historic blunderer, truth. If truth should win the day in the smallest skirmish, what horrors would ensue! The droning quiet of an examination room would flash into the uproar of a baseball victory. The suavity and grace of the formal reception where the white lie holds undisputed sway would quickly shame in violence and terror the flight of the Kurdish tribes.

Picture to yourself the incidents of a single hour unadorned by the magic touch of the conventional lie, unrelieved of the asperities of truth. A mutual friend presents to you a clever man known to yourself by common report as the shrewdest thief in the business world. Do you cry out, "Sir, I know you for a rascal!" and call for the police and the Circuit Attorney to the grave discomfiture of all concerned? Do you not rather murmur politely your delight at this unexpected privilege? Did not your heart and his warm pleasantly within by reason of your grace of manner, and do you not repair forthwith to the nighest hostelry the best of friends? Thus life continues on its pleasant decorous way, hand in hand with the conventional lie—that delightful, nay indispensable, fellow traveler on the high road of the days, while gaunt, unlovely truth flies howling to its hideous caverns, seeking a fit asylum in the cellars of the City Hall, where strange unheard-of creatures cringe and creep, unhampered by the light of day. LORD HOWE DUMB.

COME OFF THE FENCE.

From the New York World.

THE revolt against prohibition has no reached the point where it decides ele tions in great populous states. There is n reason to doubt that this revulsion of feel ing will grow, for every day adds new evi dence of the gigantic failure of prohibitio and devastating corruption. The Anti loon League has exhausted its ammunitio and used up all its reserves. It can h only to delay, but not to prevent the mod cation of the Volstead act. There are new converts to prohibition in sight. A the converts from now on are bound to b away from prohibition.

If the sincere prohibitionists were stat manlike, and if they could free themselv from the fanatical politicians of the Ant saloon League, they would begin now t study plans for the modification of the Vo stead act. They might well hope to obtai agreement to try a modified prohibition which beer and wines were legalized und careful regulation. Under some such pl they might attain not only more real prob bition of hard liquor than there is tod but also save their cause from the smashi discredit toward which it is now drifti
To the prohibitionist who can read the si of the times it must be plain that on issue of strict enforcement of the Volste act he can look forward only to feat.

Now that modification has become th dominant political issue in the Unite States, political candidates can no longe be allowed to dodge it. It is not enough fo them to say that they favor enforcement of the law and that the people can change th law. It is not enough for them to leave it to a referendum, useful as it is to have a referendum. They must say where they per sonally stand on the question and how they personally as Representatives will vote on it. Nor is that all. The time has come wh the parties as parties must face their re sponsibility and declare that they are fo maintenance of the Volstead act or fo modification.

IRISES IN BLOOM AT SHAW'S GARDEN

Thousands, in Open-Air Display, Form Beautiful Banks of Myriad Shades.

Huge beds of irises filling the whole section of Shaw's Garden near the Linnaean House, north of the entrance, beside the first peonies in St. Louis to bloom this season, have made this "Iris and Peony Week" at the garden.

Last year hundreds of irises, cut and arranged artificially, were displayed indoors. Literally thousands of the plants are blooming for the year's exhibition and they are growing naturally, outdoors, in beds where the whole display house could be set down, with room to spare.

The irises represent 250 distinct hybrids gathered from all parts of the world in five years by Directer Moore, and comprise the best display of the flowers the garden has ever had. They prove the assertion that in 10 years of popularity this new aristocrat of flowers has come to rival the orchid in variety of tint and form.

Magnitude a Bit Bewildering.

The magnitude of the bright clouds of color given off by the blooms—they attract the eye halfway across the garden—and their myriad shades melting into one another, are just a bit bewildering. The visitors usually are halted in amazement by the magnificent beauty. East of the Linnaean House, for instance, displayed in a simple bed of peonies, white and pink, surrounded by irises in yellow, lavenders deepening to purple, and mauve deepening to dusky wine-red.

The display of peonies includes more than 100 varieties. All have been plainly labeled, so visitors can see that a snowy one is aptly called la Neige, while a huge white fellow is the Festiva Maxima, and a deep red one is the Grover Cleveland. These are all "double" varieties. Then there is a "single" variety, the Mikado, with crimson outer rows of petals leaving its golden center open, while near it is a red "semi-double," the William Turner, with its center showing through partly developed inner rows of petals. The varieties were developed in the United States, France, England and Belgium.

English Flags Prominent.

Not a bit over-shadowed by their aristocratic sisters are the brilliantly yellow English flags, late of the back yard, from which the sought-after irises of the gardens were developed. The common English flag, in fact, may in its new eminence adopt its less common scientific name, Iris Pseudocorus.

Among the aristocratic irises are the Ambassador, with three erect petals (standards) in light mauve, deepening in the three drooping petals (falls) to midnight wine-color; the Queen Caterina, with standards and falls of light lavender blue; the Mlle. Cherau, of white with lavender borders; the huge Alcazar, with deep lavender standards and plum-colored falls; the small purple Iris Siberica and Perry's Blue, and the Tectorum, which visitors to Japan may have seen growing on the roofs, with slender lavender standards and falls of the same color, flecked with a darker shade.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

TWO interesting visitors, both former St. Louis young women, are giving impetus to spring entertaining.

Mrs. James Mortimer Duval Jr. of New York arrived Sunday night to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Tansey of 226 North Newstead avenue, and is having a number of parties given for her. Today Mrs. Alfred H. Murphy will have a luncheon for her at the St. Louis Country Club, and tomorrow Mrs. Claude Levering Matthews will have a similar affair at the same club. Mrs. Duval was Miss Martha Pittman until her marriage a year ago. She and Mr. Duval have just returned from a 15 months' trip abroad.

Mrs. Ellanore Scott Van Riper of California is visiting her mother, Mrs. Charles Wiggins, of Portland place, and is being much feted. Mrs. Wiggins will give a large luncheon for her tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas B. Houser of 6470 Eleenwood avenue, have leased the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Fallon Delany of Lindell boulevard, at Douglas, Mich., and with their children will take possession in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Delany will take a smaller cottage at Douglas if Mr. Delany's health permits.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Compton of 18 Kingsbury place and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Turner Clarkson, will spend the summer at Harbor Point Club House, Harbor Point, Mich. They will depart July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leavitt Brown of the St. Regis apartments and their son, F. A. Drew Brown, will spend the summer in Rye Beach, N. H., as is their annual custom. They will leave St. Louis in July.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Burgoyne Wilson of 11 Vandeventer place, will leave St. Louis the latter part of June to spend the summer in La Jolla, Cal.

Miss Millie and Miss Lala Garesche of 3622 West Pine boulevard, will depart by motor June 10 with Mrs. Ella Watt and her daughter, Miss Winnetta Watt, for Douglas, Mich., where the Misses Garesche have a cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Danforth of 17 Kingsbury place will sail June 24 for a summer's visit in Europe. According to present plans their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Compton of Scarsdale, N. Y., will join them.

Mrs. DeWitt N. Pogers of the University apartments will depart June 2 for Washington, D. C., to attend the wedding of her niece Miss Eleanor Metz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Metz, to Howard Shaw of New York, which will take place the evening of June 5. Miss Metz is a graduate of George Washington and Goucher Colleges. Mr. Shaw is a graduate of Harvard University and is an attorney in New York City.

Two of the St. Louis young women to spend the summer at Camp Cohechee, near Portland, Me., are Miss Jacquelin Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin G. Chapman Jr. of 58 Kingsbury place, and Miss Marian Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Duke Thompson of 5045 Lindell Boulevard. They will depart for the East early in July.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will remain in St. Louis for the summer, as will Mr. and Mrs. Chapman. Miss Alice Chapman will sail for Europe June 26 with a group of young women chaperoned by Mrs. Atwell Lincoln.

Invitations are out for a tea Friday afternoon, which Mrs. J. Herndon Smith will give at her home, 6500 Ellenwood avenue in honor of her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Herndon Smith, whose marriage took place a few weeks ago.

Saturday night Miss Marion Stoner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stoner of 4346 Westminster place, will be honor guest at a dinner at the St. Louis Country Club given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brookings Wallace of the St. Louis Country Club grounds.

The St. Louisans at Lake Lugano in Italy include Mr. and Mrs. Frank Low and Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Gould of 4540 Lindell boulevard. They have been visiting in the Swiss resorts. Mr. and Mrs. Gould will sail for home on the Olympic June 9.

The engagement of Miss Marian Ogle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Ogle of 7050 Washington boulevard, and Edward G. Gereke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Gereke, of 7114 Waterman avenue, was announced today at a luncheon given by Mrs. Ogle for her daughter. The wedding date has not been announced. Miss Ogle attended Lindenwood College and Washington University, and has served as a maid of honor at the Veiled Prophet ball. There were 15 guests at the party.

Patrons for the garden party to be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Fordyce on the Brown road, from 4 to 7 p. m. Thursday, for the benefit of the St. Louis University School of Medicine, announced by Mrs. James M. Franciscus, chairman of the committee in charge, include the following:

Miss Elizabeth Scudder, daughter of Mr. Charles Scudder of McPherson avenue, will accompany her aunt, Miss Mary Scudder, to Tepee Lodge, Wyo., ofr the summer. They will leave St. Louis July 4. Miss Scudder will make her formal bow to St. Louis society next fall.

Mrs. Clarkson Carpenter has issued invitations for a field meet to be given at her country home on the Florissant road, May 21 at 4 p. m., for her debutante niece, Miss Dorcas Carr Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lackland Taylor of 4607 Maryland avenue. The invitation list is made up of the younger members of society. Prizes will be given the winners of athletic events. Supper will be served out of doors.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Jamison, who have recently moved into their new home, 6105 Lindell boulevard, entertained a hundred guests Saturday evening with a dance. The rooms were decorated in a profusion of roses and spring flowers. At midnight a buffet supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Jamison were assisted in receiving their friends by their guest, Mrs. T. H. Goddard of Chicago.

The marriage of Miss Aimee Hynes and Benjamin L. Frederick will take place at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hynes, of 4116 Flora place, the Rev. Father Hedderman officiating. The guests will include only members of the families and a small reception will follow.

Mrs. J. C. Steinberg of 5667 Waterman avenue, will give a reception June 4 for her daughter, Miss Jane Fay Steinberg, who is a member of the graduating class of Hosmer Hall.

Lenox Hall has issued cards for commencement week, May 24 to 26. A recital was given last evening by the pupils of the expression department, of which Mrs. Mary Manning Nelson is director, and Field day will be celebrated today with demonstrations by the physical education department, under the supervision of Miss Lois Tolleson. The pupils of piano, under the direction of Miss Ida Missildine, assisted by Miss Julia Ghilione, will present a recital at Lenox Hall this evening. Wednesday evening three plays, "Wonder Hat," "Captaib Joe" and "Fourteen" will be given by the seniors. Commencement exercises will be held on the lawn of Lenox Hall, Thursday, at 9:30 a. m. The Rev. Francis J. Bloy will deliver the commencement address.

The members of the graduating class are: Natalie Currier, Minnie S. Frankel, Beatrice Slade Hawkins, Mary Dallas Hines, Elsa Leonore Helfensteller, Josephine Winslow Johnson, Gertrude Lorraine Kassing, Erma Ruth Moritz, Helen Markham, Margaret Bascom Perkins, Mildred Hortense Potlitzer, Mildred Carolyn Saenger, Martha Elizabeth Stroh, Selma Louise Tober, Loretta Virginia Wayne, Eleanore Grassall Wilson.

ILLINOIS BANKER HELD IN AUTO THEFT RING

Garage Owner, Salesman and Two Otherss Indicted by Federal Grand Jury.

Five men — a confessed auto thief, a local used car dealer, one of his salesmen, an Edwardsville garageman and a Dorchester (Ill.) banker—were indicted last Friday by the Federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy and interstate transportation of stolen automobiles, it was learned yesterday when three of them were arrested.

The defendants are: Thornton Lancaster, president of the State Bank of Dorchester, a Macoupin County village, the head of an auto agency and county Supervisor; Clyde Harwood, proprietor of an Edwardsville garage; William Schreiber of 3537A Juniata street, president of the St. Louis Auto Sales Co., 3032 Locust boulevard; Dale E. Wilson of 7139 Lanham avenue, one of his salesmen, and the auto thief, now in jail, whose name is withheld.

Schreiber, Harwood and Wilson were arrested yesterday by detectives and a Department of Justice agent, who already have recovered 14 Fords stolen here by the auto thief and alleged to have been turned over by Wilson and Schreiber for sale by Harwood and Lancaster.

As was told in the Post-Dispatch a month ago, the thief revealed his operations after he had been arrested here for stealing an auto. Lancaster has declared he did not know the cars he handled were stolen and has asisted detectives to recover most of them. The others have also declared they were innocent. A Federal capias issued under the indictment probably will be served on Lancaster today. Bond for the defendants is set at $5000 each.

A New Discovery
in Eye Glasses

Old Lens
Ordinary glasses give perfect vision only in the central part of the lens.

Zeiss Punktal Lens
Zeiss Punktal Lenses give perfect vision to the extreme edge of the glass.

This is of tremendous importance to your eyes. The marginal blur in other glasses, which gradually causes eye-strain and fatigue, has been entirely eliminated, giving to the eyes greater comfort and freedom from nervous strain.

Better Vision

Zeiss Punktal Lenses can be ground to your prescription and fitted into your present frames, assuring you of clear vision to the very rim. These lenses, being entirely free from any distortion, give the utmost comfort, prevent nervous strain and conserve the strength of your eyes.

Putterer?

Do you spend your spare hours in the basement? Nursing the fire? Cleaning up its dirt and ashes?

How much better you could use the time, of course! Even if you enjoy "puttering around," how much pleasanter to be out in the garden, or working on the car, or doing the odd jobs around the house!

Kleen-Heet will free you from the basement. You can clean it out once for all—tear out the coal bin—add an extra room (clean, quiet, comfortable) to the house.

Upstairs, the same miracle will be taking place. A new sort of comfort—unfailing, never-varying—always just the temperature you want! Clean draperies, clean walls! A more livable home—and a more healthful one! Your wife, like you, free from any worry about the heating!

All this you can be sure of, when your home is Kleen-Heet-ed with oil. Because of the recognized engineering superiority of the Kleen-Heet burner. And its remarkable six-year record of performance—in homes of every size.

FINE IMPOSED BY JUDGE ENGLISH IN 1924 IS JUST PAID

PENALTY WAS $5000 ON LIQUOR CHARGE

No Record That Albrecht & Co. Were Levied on as Law Requires When They Failed to Pay.

Another case not disposed of in Federal Judge English's Court at East St. Louis was disclosed yesterday with the payment of a $5000 fine by H. Albrecht & Co., a corporation of former liquor dealers, of East St. Louis, of which Henry Albrecht Sr. and Henry Albrecht Jr. were individual members. Costs accrued amounted to $466.

The fine was assessed Nov. 10, 1924, by Judge English on a plea of guilty by the corporation to violating the prohibition law on nine counts, one of which charged maintenance of a common nuisance and the others sale and possession of illicit liquor.

The records show that Deputy Marshal R. O. Shepherd of East St. Louis had served the writ of execution on the defendants at the time the fine was imposed. It was not paid until yesterday.

Last month a second execution signed by Federal Judge Lindley, who is presiding pending the impeachment trial of Judge English in the Senate, was delivered to U. S. Marshal James White and served by Deputy Marshal Shepherd.

The statute provides that a defendant in default of payment of judgment must list his assets within 10 days after service of writ, and should he fail to do so, the Marshal must seize his property within 90 days.

The records fail to show that the defendant listed his assets or that the United States Marshal took any steps to seize the property.

The fine paid yesterday was assessed for a second offense by the corporation, a previous fine having been paid in September, 1923. In April, 1924, the Albrechts, as individuals, were fined $3500 and sentenced to six months in jail by Judge Lindley at Danville, who spoke of them then as "undesirable citizens who had flaunted the law deliberately" and rebuked them severely for repeated violations of the law. This case is now before the United States Supreme Court on appeal.

Last week Judge Lindley ordered the United States Marshal to arrest A. M. Bell, a bootlegger, to serve a 60-day sentence which had been suspended three times by Federal Judge English. Bell was sentenced May 9, 1922.

At the same time District Attorney Potter called Judge Lindley's attention to the case of Abe Hicks, Herrin Police Magistrate, and Sam Childers, former Deputy Constable of Herrin, convicted of conspiracy to personate a Government officer in November, 1925. Judge English had not passed on a motion for a new trial argued last December.

An order was entered for the arrest of Ralph Lewis, former railroad switchman of Mounds, Ill., who failed to appear in court May 3, when the term of a suspended sentence for six months had expired. He was indicted in 1921 for violation of the prohibition law.

MOTORISTS SUPPORT FAMILY WHOSE FATHER THHEY KILLED

Sentence for Manslaughter on Eight Men Suspended Pending Outcome of Experiment.

By the Associated Press.

SHICKSHINNY, Pa., May 25.—Eight young men, riding in an automobile which ran down and killed Augustus Spayder, father of nine children, have chosen to maintain the family as a partial means of retribution.

In the meantime, charges of manslaughter, pending against the eight, have been suspended pending the outcome of the experiment.

The father was killed while walking along the highway after obtaining medicine for a sick child, which later died. The motorists failed to stop after hitting Spayder but later were apprehended. When arraigned in court no defense was entered and no jury trial was asked. Counsel explained his clients had moved the widow and eight children here, that they might be more easily cared for, and that they planned to erect and furnish a home for the family at a cost of about $5000. Court suspended sentence to see how the experiment worked out.

Zerozone also comes in a complete unit including refrigerator, specially designed for small apartments.

A size to fit your icebox;—easily and quickly installed.

The last ice you need buy

No more ice tickets. No iceman mussing up the entryway. No drip pan to watch. Nothing to refill, or get out of order. Operated from any light socket.

Right into the ice compartment of your present refrigerator goes Zerozone, and you have colder-than-ice refrigeration, every hour of the day and night, automatic and continuous.

In an ordinary ice box, as ice melts, the temperature rises above the line of safety, endangering food.

Zerozone Safeguards Health

Dr. J. B. Williams, Rochester, N. Y., stated before the American Medical Association, 1925:

"A refrigerator which is not kept at refrigeration temperature is a good incubator for bacteria. It furnishes food, humidity, darkness, and still air—just the conditions required for healthy bacterial growth."

With Zerozone, temperature remains always below the line of safety.

Keeps food fresh

No spoiled meat; no wilted vegetables; no soured milk. There is no waste. Forget all about your icebox. You know your food will be as good when you take it out, as when you put it in.

Ice cubes for table use

Neat Zerozone cubes for the cooling drink, made between meals, by the trayful. Frozen salad and desserts—only possible through electrical refrigeration. "The New Art in Iced Foods" tells you how to make them. Ask us for a free copy.

Cheaper than ice

Zerozone refrigeration which saves worry and housework and safeguards health, actually costs less than ice. Ask us to prove this to you. Attractive terms if desired.

LIVE STOCK MEN ARGUE FOR RATE CUT

I. C. C. Asked to Consider Southwestern Charges Apart From Other Schedules.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Freight rates in general and livestock charges in particular drew the fire of those appearing for oral arguments yesterday in the Interstate Commerce Commission's Western rate inquiry. Involved in the livestock cases are petitions by the railroads for a 20 per cent increase in rates and applications by the shippers for a blanket reduction.

S. H. Cowan of Texas, representing the American National Livestock Association, opened arguments for the shippers in opposition to an increase, declaring the livestock industry already was overburdened with freight rates.

Complaints filed by Texas and Oklahoma livestock markets against the present rates were argued by H. D. Driscol of Oklahoma City. The Southwest, he said, had suffered from reductions in long haul rates without similar reductions in short haul charges. He added that the situation could not be cured by any uniform increase or reduction because there still would be local rates higher than combinations of local rates, but that if the commission saw fit, it would readjust the Southwest charges.

E. C. Carman, Assistant Attorney-General of Minnesota, representing Northwestern state utilities commissions, opposed establishment in the Southwest of a separate rate group, declaring the purpose of the transportation act was to keep together such groups as the Northwest and Southwest.

TWO TEACHERS SAY THEY LOST JOBS BECAUSE OF EVOLUTION

Paducah (Ky.) Women Deny They Gave Instructions in Darwinism; Demand Trial.

By the Associated Press.

PADUCAH, Ky., May 25.—Demands for trial to give them opportunity to defend themselves against charges of having taught evolution to their pupils, are being made by Miss Esther Smith, biology instructor, and Mrs. Aimee Buchanan, head of the English department of Tilghman High School here. They say they were not re-elected by the Paducah Board of Education because of complaints that they had taught evolution.

Both women deny teaching evolution, but admit having answered questions asked by pupils following a lecture by Dr. Arthur I. Brown, of Vancouver, B. C. During the lecture Dr. Brown assailed the theory of evolution.

Southern Presbyterians Allow Sex Freedom in Other Fields.

By the Associated Press.

PENSACOLA, Fla., May 25.—While women of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern), will not be permitted to preach, the General Assembly in session here voted yesterday to leave their other activities to the "discretion of the sessions and the consciences of consecrated Christian women."

Church leaders said this action would greatly enlarge the possible scope of activities of the women in the denomination.

Amazing New Liquid Hardens Soft Gums

No more soft, spongy, bleeding gums! No more raw places where dental plates chafe against tender flesh! OIL-of-SALT, the amazing new antiseptic, banishes mouth troubles by hardening too-soft tissues and destroying insidious bacteria that cause pyorrhea, ulcers, etc. Even in advanced cases of pyorrhea where gums have receded from the teeth, OIL-of-SALT penetrates to the root of the evil and speedily checks infection.

This amazing healant is not unpleasant to the taste nor is it irritating in the slightest degree. Its action is gentle and soothing. Just rub OIL-of-SALT over the gums night and morning. In a surprisingly short time you'll find that soreness and bleeding have vanished. Pressure with your finger will show you that spongy places have become hard and firm—all infection gone and in its place the coral glow of health.

OIL-of-SALT is a new discovery for pyorrhea and gum soreness but good druggists everywhere now have it. Ask for a 65c handy-size bottle today. If you aren't completely satisfied with your improvement after a 15-day test, your money will be gladly refunded.

Golden Rule Policy

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has tested, and found practical, a policy that may seem visionary to people who think of any business organization as a machine.

This policy is the application of the Golden Rule on the large scale of big business.

It is manifested outwardly, in the ever-increasing service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to the thirty million people of the Middle West, and inwardly, in the helpful attitude of the management towards the employes of the Company.

Concrete illustrations of the internal application of the Golden Rule are the Employes Stock Purchasing Plans.

The first was formulated five years ago and met such enthusiastic response that a second Employes Stock Purchasing Plan is now offered to all members of the organization.

By means of the first plan (which provided that for each $1.00 subscribed by the employes the Company would contribute 50 cents) the employes made themselves one of the largest stockholding influences in the Company.

The results of the first plan are far-reaching. It has enabled the employe to become a partner in the business, and he has given to his work keener interest and greater effort, knowing that he will participate in every saving he effects.

As a result of this policy, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is remarkable for the compactness and harmony of its working force. And ultimately the general public benefits from the increased efficiency.

This one illustration is a concrete proof that the Golden Rule in business is practical. Theoretically, also, it appears to be a sound business principle.

The individual who forgets his profit in the joy of doing his particular work well, usually enjoys the largest compensation; so in big business the organization that considers the service of the community first makes greater profits in the end.

Such a logical explanation of the practical working of the Golden Rule in business subtracts perhaps from the glory of its unselfishness, but it evidences the plausibility of its everyday application in the world of big business.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) carries the Golden Rule policy further, in its Industrial Relation Plan and in its Annuity Plan, which emphasizes the conviction of the management, that the Golden Rule is a practical business maxim, in harmony with economic laws—and that its benefits accrue directly, to the consuming public in superior quality, low prices and maximum service.

Four Records

in Paid Advertising in Four Months

The Post-Dispatch, during the first four months of 1926, established a new high total paid advertising record for each month and for the four months combined.

January, February, March and April, each compared with the best corresponding month in previous years, shows a handsome gain for the Post-Dispatch.

Concentration!

During April the Post-Dispatch alone carried more paid advertising than ALL THREE other St. Louis newspapers COMBINED. The comparative figures for April follow:

POST-DISPATCH . .	2,374,120 Lines
Globe-Democrat	1,284,900 Lines
The Star (No Sunday)	639,900 Lines
The Times (No Sunday)	390,900 Lines

The Post-Dispatch GAIN over April, 1925, was 130,760 lines. The Globe-Democrat LOSS was 67,800 lines. The Star LOSS was 144,000 lines. The Times gain was 19,500 lines.

The Post-Dispatch is the highest ranking P-D-C newspaper of "The BILLIONAREA"—the Greater St. Louis Market—reaching more People with more Dollars with a greater Coverage than any other newspaper. The Post-Dispatch coverage is so complete that this one newspaper alone taps the unusual buying power of practically every home in Greater St. Louis—that is why advertisers recognize the wisdom of concentrating their sales messages in this one newspaper.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

ST. LOUIS' ONE BIG NEWSPAPER

The BILLIONAREA

— the GREATER ST. LOUIS MARKET

Greater St. Louis is probably the most talked of major market in America today—and it deserves to be. Trade statistics show that the Metropolitan area of St. Louis has an annual Purchasing Power of more than a Billion Dollars. It is a veritable "BILLIONAREA."

P+D+C

The Advertiser's Micrometer of a Newspaper

The very principles that have been long recognized as fundamental in the analysis of any market are, for exactly the same reasons, fundamental in the analysis of a newspaper's market. Those principles are the relation of Population

Dollars (or Purchasing Power)
Coverage

For the convenience of national advertisers, the St. Louis Post Dispatch has published a P+D+C Manual which describes the fundamental principles of measuring a market from the standpoint of newspaper advertising by identically the same accepted standards that have long been used in measuring a market from the standpoint of selling.

The Post-Dispatch has also just completed a Book of Information About St. Louis and "The BILLIONAREA"—the Greater St. Louis Market, that will be of inestimable value to any advertiser.

TRAINER FEARS CARLARIS CAN'T BE READY FOR FAIRMOUNT DERBY

AT LEAST SIX WEEKS NEEDED, KRAFT STATES

Coffroth Handicap Winner Not Overweight and Leg Infection Has Healed Up Entirely.

By Dent McSkimming.

Doubt as to the possibility of starting Carlaris, the "wonder colt," in the Fairmount Derby, was aroused yesterday when Fred Kraft, trainer of W. T. Anderson's Chula Vista Stable, stated that, in his opinion, the horse could not be put in first-class condition within a month and a half.

"The infection in his right hind leg is thoroughly healed," said Kraft, after housing his string of 14 horses in their stalls at Fairmount Park. "But the horse has not had hard work for at least five weeks, since the running of the Coffroth Handicap. It will take at least a month and a half to put him in condition where we would feel justified in starting him against horses of the highest class, such as are entered in the Fairmount Derby. I will be able to tell more about him as soon as we have had a few workouts over this track."

Carlaris Not Much Overweight.

Carlaris, on his arrival at the East Side track yesterday from Louisville, appeared to be in excellent condition. There is only a slight scar on the right hind leg where the infection was lanced. The colt has not taken on an excessive amount of weight.

"He needs all the weight I can put on him," said Kraft. "That's the trouble with him. I had a hard time making him eat enough to put more flesh on his ribs."

W. T. Anderson, owner of Carlaris, approved the judgment of Trainer Kraft but declined to make a positive statement regarding his plans. Much depends upon the appearance of the colt after a week's steady work at Fairmount. The Derby will be run June 19.

The probability of a meeting between Carlaris and Bubbling Over, winners of the two great turf classics of the year, has brought especial attention to the Fairmount Derby. Carlaris, after winning the Coffroth Handicap, was scratched from the Kentucky Derby because of the leg infection and the race was won by Bubbling Over.

In the Chula Vista Stable, which arrived yesterday, there were in addition to Carlaris, the following horses: By Gosh, Ruth Gold, Bird Millman, Artilleryman, Sweep Over, Golden Laura, Rosey Stark, Golden Sunset, Fletching, Rosey Tint, Appearance, Alma Mater and Beauty Star.

Other stables which arrived yesterday are: J. B. Partridge with seven horses; E. L. Fitzgerald, with seven, and J. H. Limbird with seven, all from Churchill Downs.

The Fairmount meeting opens Saturday. The feature race of the day will be the Collinsville Handicap.

CLEVELAND WINS FIGHT TO BAR PUBLICATION OF RACING ODDS AND TIPS

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., May 25.—The city won its fight in Common Pleas Court yesterday to enforce a new ordinance prohibiting the sale of publications containing race track odds and tips.

An injunction sought by the Solomon News Co. to restrain enforcement of the ordinance was denied, the court holding that such publications encourage gambling.

The complaining company immediately appealed and obtained from the County Appellate Court a temporary restraining order, pending final decision.

Lonesome	104	7	2	5^{1}	7^{1}	9	9	9	Chalmers	10-1

Little Dave improved his position steadily under hard urging, won going away. Coolagh Boy on the outside all the way, outgamed Brush By in the final drive. The latter went into a long lead the first six furlongs, but tired badly the final furlong. Voshell retired after entering the stretch. Velero had no excuse.

Odds—Little Dave, place 10 to 1, show, 5 to 1; Coolagh Boy, place, 8 to 5; show, 4 to 5. Brush By, show, even.

SECOND RACE—$1200, The Daisy, Conditions, fillies, 2-year-olds, four and one-half furlongs, Widener course—Start good; won easily; place driving. Went to post 3:01. Off at 3:03. Winner, H. P. Whitney's bf. 2, by Chicle-Pantalette. Trainer, James Rowe. Time, :55. Value $900, $200, $100.

HORSE.	WT.	PP.	ST.	¼	Str.	Fin.	Jockey.	Betting Odds

Marka	110	5	7	6^{4}	6^{3}	6^{2}	Hebert	30-1
Fable	113	7	6	7	7	7	Turner	30-1

Pantella took command at once and rated in front won with speed in reserve. No Regrets, hard urged all the way, held Accomplish safe the final drive. The latter well up the early running, weakened through the stretch. Acquittal raced evenly.

Odds—Pantella place 2 to 5, show 1 to 6; No Regrets place 7 to 5, show 2 to 5; Accomplish show, out.

THIRD RACE—One mile:

OMAHA PLAYER BEANED, HIS CONDITION SERIOUS

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., May 25.—Happy Hollahan, Omaha second baseman, who was struck on the head by a pitched ball in the game at Lincoln yesterday afternoon, suffered a fractured skull, physicians at St. Joseph's Hospital announced last night. His condition was pronounced serious. Marty was pitching for Lincoln when Hollahan was hit.

Lewis Rolls Munn.

By the Associated Press.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 25.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, wrestler, threw Wayne "Big" Munn in straight falls here last night. Both came through Lewis' famous headlock, the first in 49m 18s and the second in 22m 54s. Munn weighed 260, Lewis 235½ pounds.

Once Munn got Lewis with his own crotch hold and floored him via the air route, and once he worried Lewis with the Strangler's own headlock, but both times Lewis slipped away to safety.

Spurgeon of Indians Weds.

CLEVELAND, O., May 25.—Freddie Spurgeon, Kalamazoo, second baseman for the Cleveland Indians, was secretly married yesterday to Miss Dorothy Heider, Cleveland. The wedding was the culmination of a romance which began here after Spurgeon was drafted from the New Orleans club late in 1924.

ATHLETES' POWER OF RESISTANCE GREATER THAN AVERAGE MAN'S

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, May 25. — Experiments conducted on Clarence De Mar, marathon runner, indicate that the trained athlete possesses power of resistance greater to a striking degree than the average man. This was made known today at Massachusetts General Hospital, where Dr. A. V. Bock is carrying on tests on the runner.

Each day De Mar, on his way to work at a Cambridge printing establishment, stops off at Dr. Bock's laboratory for half an hour of labor in the cause of science. With nose clamped, he breathes into a rubber tube while driving the pedals of a testing machine. The resistance of the machine has been increased each day. Blood and breath analyses are made frequently. The scientific findings will be made known only when the series of tests is complete, but already Dr. Bock describes them as "remarkable."

The tests are being made to learn what exercise will enable a man to do more than those who take only the normal exercise can do.

WISCONSIN ATHLETES TO TEST SKILL FRIDAY

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., May 25. — Wisconsin high school athletes of the cinder path, tennis court and tank face the supreme test of the year when they bid for state honors here Friday and Saturday.

Eight hundred athletes from more than 75 cities and towns are expected to invade Madison for the annual state championship meet held jointly under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin and the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association.

The swimming meet will be Friday, with the two day tennis tournament opening the same day on the varsity courts. The track meet will be decided in an all-day session Saturday.

There are 572 athletes from 66 Wisconsin high schools entered in the track meet, which will be the climax of one of the greatest seasons for track ever experienced in the Badger State. More than 40 interscholastic meets have been held with the sanction of the W. I. A. A. governing body for state high school athletes.

Curtain Raisers For Dempsey Go Being Arranged

Harry Cook Seeking Opponents for Pivac, Steadman and Sansone.

Jack Dempsey's engagement on the inaugural outdoor boxing program at the St. Louis University Athletic Field Thursday night, June 3, will be supported by three 10-round contests, according to Harry Cook, vice president of the Business Men's A. C., who stated today that the club plans to feature local talent in the preliminary attractions.

Cook announced that he was seeking opponents for Tom Pivac, Paul Steadman and Mike Sansone on the Dempsey card. Pivac's victorious drive during the past winter made him a prime favorite with the fans, and he is now considered a promising candidate for light heavyweight laurels.

Steadman also boasts an uninterrupted string of triumphs, while Sansone has made an impressive comeback by winning three successive starts since his defeat on points by Lew Perfetti, several weeks ago.

Babe McCorgary, the Tulsa battler, who gave a good account of himself in several bouts at the New Coliseum last winter, and Frank Burman, a Cleveland mauler, who stopped three out of four opponents in prelim events at the Armory and Odeon, are the fighters Cook is considering for a 10-rounder with Pivac.

Peewee Back in Form.

Steadman may be matched with either Johnny "Peewee" Kaiser of this city or Harold Smith of Chicago. Kaiser's impressive showings against Morris King and Denver Kid in bouts at the New Coliseum within the last few months have helped him regain his old-time favor with the fans. The fact that he lost a popular decision to Steadman in an exhibition bout at the Racquet Club several months ago, should prove an incentive for "Peewee" to put forth his best efforts if they are rematched.

Dempsey to Give Exhibit.

Dempsey's engagement on the local card will be an exhibition event and not a 10-round no-decision bout, as originally planned by the promoters. An announcement to this effect was made by Cook today, following his receipt of a telegram from the champion.

The selection of Dempsey's opponent will be made by Matchmaker Frank Britton, who is accompanying the St. Louis Boxing Commission on a tour of the East. Britton is scheduled to reach New York today, where he is expected to complete arrangements for the local fistic headliner.

CARDS SCORE 11 RUNS IN LAST 3 INNINGS AND BEAT CINCINNATI, 11 TO 6

VICTORY CUTS REDS' LEAD TO SIX GAMES

Vic Keen Will Try for His Seventh Triumph Today in Second Game of Series With League Leaders.

By J. Roy Stockton.

Victor Keen, who has lived up to his name in six of his seven starts as a Cardinal pitcher, will try to make it seven, another winner, this afternoon, when he pitches against the tough and league leading Cincinnati Reds in the second game of the series of three. Keen probably will draw Adolfo Luque, the Cuban blunt, as his twirling opponent.

Thanks to that rousing victory yesterday afternoon, the Cardinals are back at the .500 mark. And the pleasant feature of these victories over the Reds—let's hope the plural can be used—is that each one slices the distance between Hornsby's men and first place. This morning the Cardinals are only six games behind the league leaders and if they can knock over Hendricks' men again today and the third time tomorrow—and the chances are bright with Keen and Rhem ready to hurl—they will close their stand at home only four games behind the leaders. That will be a good strategic position. If Hornsby can keep his men in striking distance of the top of the league, with only three consistently winning pitchers, the only thing necessary to transform the club into a real flag contender, will be the development of one more twirler with the stuff that wins.

Our Second String.

Hornsby experimented yesterday afternoon. He had contemplated starting Sylvester Johnson against the Reds, but it was decided to give Allan Sothoron a chance to show that he was earning his wheat cakes. Allan didn't retire a man. He was lambasted for two singles and a double and Bill Hallahan was called in. Bill was cold and before he could warm up the Reds had pressed their advantage and taken a six-run lead in three innings.

That looked like a defeat. Eppa Jeptha Rixey usually is good for a victory if his team can get him three or four runs and here they had piled up six for him. And for five innings the big string bean of a left-hander mowed down the Cards as though he wanted a no-hit game. For five innings, not a Cardinal reached base.

Rixey started the sixth by striking out Bob O'Farrell, slipping over a called third strike. Then came the first break. Thevenow sent a grounder to Emmer and the shortstop fumbled and Tommy was safe. Ernie Vick was rushed in to bat for Hallahan and the former Michigan football star delivered with the first hit off Rixey, a stinging line drive to right. Even on this hit, which gave the Cards [illegible] with only one out, the [illegible] from the stands was half-[illegible], being mostly a celebration that Rixey's no-hit game had been [illegible]. As far as winning this game—perish the thought, if any.

Poison in Puny Roller.

But Ray Blades waited and watched up there at the plate and Rixey walked him. There was a groan when Douthit sent a dinky roller toward first base, but there was poison in that grounder. It confounded Pipp. Wallie tried to grasp it, but he couldn't and Douthit was safe. Thevenow scored and the bases were still filled. Hornsby sent a fly to Roush near the flag pole in center and Vick scored.

Still the Cards were four runs behind and Rixey still looked like a million dollars worth of sure thing. But sure things go up the alley, in the parlance of the bookmaker's meal ticket, and that's what happened to Rixey.

Mueller started another attack in the seventh with a single and raced to third when Roush failed to stop the hit. Lester Bell looked bad on two swings, but his third was mighty. He drove the ball into the upper rows of seats in the left field seats and now the Cards were only two runs behind.

They Hate to Beat Mays.

Rixey still looked like a good pitcher. He still had a two-run lead, but Jack Hendricks ignored the fact that only four hits had been made off him, and called in Carl Mays. That was the mistake. Mays' submarine delivery fooled the boys for the three outs needed to end the seventh, but in the eighth he was all but knocked out of the park.

It was the grandest rally that a St. Louis team had enjoyed since the good old days, when the Cardinals were wont to spot the Giants 10 runs in the first inning and then, lashed and driven by Roger Bresnahan, nose out the hated New Yorkers, 12 to 11.

Taylor Douthit started the bombardment. Here's the way the shots were fired: Douthit singled to center. Hornsby walked and so did Bottomley, filling the bases. Mueller tripled to left center, scoring Douthit, Hornsby and Bottomley. Lester Bell struck out. Toporcer batted for Haines and tripled to right, scoring Mueller. Thevenow doubled to center, scoring Toporcer. Vick popped to Pipp. Blades doubled to center, scoring Thevenow. Somebody aroused Jack Hendricks and told him Mays had been clouted and Jakie May went to the rescue, too late, too late. Douthit, up for the second time, greeted May with a single to right, scoring Blades. Douthit died stealing. Seven runs, six hits, no errors.

Thus was a game, apparently hopelessly lost, changed into a glorious victory.

Haines, who received credit for the victory, pitched the eighth inning. Jess owes thanks to Johnson, who hurled the seventh; Herman Bell, who hurled the ninth, and Hallahan, who held the Reds helpless in the second, fourth, fifth and sixth.

Thanks, also, to Pete McLaughlin. He made a decision at first that gave the Cards a double play. O'Farrell, taking a throw at the plate, relayed to Bottomley, whose foot was a yard off the bag when he made the catch. But McLaughlin was watching the ball and thinking of some new poses and gave a grand gesture. The man was out.

McLaughlin made a decision at the plate in a game at Brooklyn last year which beat Duster Mails out of a victory over Vance the day Dazzy Vance struck out 15 men in nine innings and 17 in 10 innings.

Yanks Running Wild With 13 Consecutive Victories

Athletics Only Club Able to S tand Off the Wild Men of Huggins—Percentage of .750 Sure to Shrink as Season Advances, John B. Foster Writes.

By John B. Foster.

(Copyright, 1926.)

NEW YORK, May 25.—The New York Yankees, having carried their winning streak to 13 straight games, made by subduing the Boston Red Sox, it begins to look as though nothing short of an earthquake would stop them.

The Yanks last won a pennant in 1923. In that year they also captured the world series from the Giants. And carried away by the success of this year's team, a biffing, slapstick knock 'em down team, some declare that the Yanks today never have been equaled on their own playground or by playmates of other years. And the .750 which decorates the percentage scheme of the Yanks is said to be the topmost record to be reached on a May date.

On 1923 which is not very far back, dating back to the days of Rameses II, the Yanks had a percentage standing of .744, which really was a better standing than the present one, since it was further along toward the goal of world series high financing.

The Yanks won their pennant in 1923 with a percentage of .649. Cleveland was second with .531 and Detroit third. The gap between New York and Cleveland was wide and deep. The Yanks won 96 games and Cleveland 77, while Detroit, with 77 victories also, was thrashed two more games than Cleveland when the whistle blew and the boys laid down their bats.

Home Grounds Help.

The folks who are predicting a .700 triumph for the Yanks on the face of what they have shown to date are going too strong. It isn't in the wood. Any team that can stand .700 in May is lucky to end at .650 in October. The Yanks have been able to win on their home grounds by a combination of fair pitching and whirlwind batting may not be so easy to win on other fields.

The significant feature of the May playing of the Yanks is that they are running much as they did in 1923, and if the Senators and the Athletics don't gather their girdles around their loins and dig their cleats into the mud they will meet about the same fate as Cleveland and Detroit met in 1923. The world series would then have the Yanks as party of the first part, the other party being all guess work now.

High School Nine Hits So Hard That Other Teams Quit

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., May 25.

ROYAL OAK has such a hard hitting high school team that at least one opponent has forfeited the game because of inability to retire the side.

Royal Oak was leading Mt. Clemens, 23 to 2, in a recent game when the Mt. Clemens coach conceded the defeat because his team could not get three men out in the seventh inning.

The Royal Oak team batting average is .492. The leading hitter's average is .609 and there are four others who bat better than .500. The team has scored 108 runs in 37 innings of play in the Southeastern Michigan High School League.

Prep Trackmen Meet Thursday

Codasco, Western and Billiken Juniors Are Favorites to Win Event.

On Thursday of this week all the prep league schools will send their track athletes to Francis Field for the culmination of the season. The meet starts promptly at 1 o'clock. Western, although recently defeated by the strong Principia team, has some very good men, among whom are Poos and Jenovsky, 880-yard runner.

Country Day, winners over McBride by an overwhelming score, has such stars as the Putney brothers, Terry and Ehrenfest.

McBride has had a very unsuccessful year, losing to Codasco and University City, the latter by a small margin. C. B. C. has had no large track meets this year, and will, with Chaminade, be the dark horse of the meet.

St. Louis U. High is expected to enter a formidable team to cope with Western and Codasco. Torres of Western is a good discus man, and will furnish competition to Putney and McNary. The principal competition will be between C. D. S., Western and St. Louis.

Ames to Face Champion.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., May 25.—Willie Ames, Akron featherweight, will oppose bantamweight champion Charliey (Phil) Rosenberg at the Olympic Arena here Thursday night. Ames will substitute for Benny Gersha, who was forced to back out when a Youngstown promoter refused to release him from an engagement with Jimmy Mendo, May 31.

Dog Days at Hand.

GREYHOUND racing under more alluring auspices than that which was introduced to this vicinity at St. Clair Park a year or more ago, will be resumed across the river June 3.

The Madison Kennel Club, promoting the coming meet, is a member of the International Greyhound Racing Association, the name of which is longer than its pedigree.

That's because mechanical rabbit pursuit racing is only two or three years old, as an organized proposition. Nevertheless, it has progressed to a degree that will quite astonish many persons.

The International will hold a meeting at the Jefferson Hotel, Thursday. Delegates from 10 tracks in America and two in England will attend.

Besides this organization's interests there are plenty of other tracks not affiliating with the International, such as the one operated at Sarasota by John McGraw, and the one at Tampa.

The profits of these concerns are enormous, under the certificate betting plan. No percentage goes to the State and there is said to be no supervision of the pay-off, which is in the track management's hands. The "take out" before tickets are figured, is a matter determined by the promoters.

Florida promtoers are said to have been paid Alladin's lamp dividends for moderate investments. Which may explain the meteoric development of this new sport industry.

Read It and Weep.

ABOUT 20 years ago Missouri passed a law to wipe out betting. But if the lawmakers are living today they will read it and weep. It is true the law wiped out the bookmaker's slate, the bookmaker's sheet and the bookmaker's livelihood; but the betting—today, there's nothing like it in history.

Where there were TWENTY tracks in the United States before the reform, there are FIFTY today; for ONE handbook then there are TWENTY today—and that's not exaggeration.

Since last year in this city, in the face of the efforts to enforce the anti-betting law, the speculative end of racing has practically doubled.

The writer has this information from two of the leading "big store" operators of the community. And, both added, the increase was in the face of a large increase in competition.

To cap it all, we are now to have night dog-racing, so that what the horses leave you in the afternoon, the dogs will get at night.

But it's good sport—if you can afford it.

Our Amateurs.

A GOLFER of wide renown and of great tournament ability joined a country club some time ago. And it's not cheap to belong to the cheapest country golfing organization, today.

"What does it cost you to belong to that club?" the player was asked.

"Why, I really don't know what they charge," was the answer.

Oh, yes, he was an amateur in good standing.

A Real Fight.

GEORGE BUTCH has passed up a third opportunity to fight Paul Steadman, the improving young local boxer.

Twice Butch has been matched with Paul and twice he was excused by the commission, with the proviso that he must meet Steadman before he can fight in this city again.

Butch was offered a place on the program of the Dempsey show, June 3. He declined.

This match is talked of downtown as few events have been discussed locally. Steadman is coming fast, can hit hard, is game and can take it.

Butch is an experienced campaigner. Although he passes up Steadman, it cannot be said that fear is the reason. Butch will fight a buzz saw. Perhaps his manager, a rival promoter to the Cook-Britton combination, could explain the reason.

Kansas Defeats Oklahoma, Takes Lead in Valley

Jayhawkers' Four-Run Rally in the Ninth Causes Downfall of Sooners.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NORMAN, Ok., May 25.—Scoring four runs in a spectacular ninth inning rally, Kansas defeated the Sooners 9 to 6 and took the lead in the Missouri Valley conference baseball race here yesterday afternoon.

With two down in the last frame Ogden, pinch hitter for the visitors, delivered a single, scoring Hill and Halpin with the deciding runs. Kramer, next up, poled out a home run.

Stony Wall, Kansas City right fielder, put his team within winning distance in the third inning when he hit for three bases with the sacks loaded and stole home a minute later.

The Sooners have a chance to win the conference flag if they win over the Jayhawkers this afternoon in the final game of the schedule.

Oklahoma has lost four games and won seven, while Kansas has lost five and won nine.

FRENCH TENNIS TEAM BEATS CZECHO-SLOVAKIA

By the Associated Press.

PRAGUE, May 25. — France won two tennis matches against Czecho-Slovakia in the Davis Cup elimination contests yesterday. Rene Lacoste defeated Zokelu, 7—5, 5—7, 6—3, 6—8, 6—3. Henri Cochet beat Macenauer, 6—3, 6—4, 6—3.

The matches were to have been played Sunday, but had to be postponed on account of rain.

STARS AGAIN BEAT CUBAN TEAM, 11-4

The St. Louis Stars in the Negro National Baseball League were victorious over the Cuban Stars in yesterday's game at the Stars' park, 11 to 4. Although Davis allowed the visitors 15 hits, he was very effective in the pinches. Suttles, J. Russell, Creacy and B. Russell each hit a home run for the Stars. The fourth game of the series will be played this afternoon.

BOBBY JONES WINS MATCH IN BRITISH TOURNEY; GARDNER DEFEATE

CHAMPION OF AMERICA PLAYS ERRATIC GOLF

Atlanta Youth Takes 42 for First Nine, but Is Steadier on Homeward Journey and Is Victor, 3 and 2.

By the Associated Press.

MUIFRIELD, Scotland, May 25.—America's hopes for the British amateur golf championship received a setback this morning when Robert A. Gardner, captain of the Walker Cup team, was defeated, 3 and 2, by H. M. Dickson, of Glasgow. Dickson caught the Chicagoan completely off his game and made the best of every opportunity.

Another Walker Cup man, Bobby Jones, the American champion, pulled through to victory, 3 and 2, after sixteen holes of unconvincing golf against Major C. B. Ormerod, former British army champion.

In addition to Gardner, two other Chicago entries were eliminated when E. Hoover Bankard was beaten, 4 and 3, by R. G. Henderson, local East Lothian star, and J. B. Ryerson scratched.

Gardner Off His Game.

Gardner's game was at sixes and sevens all the way around. He fought hard to recover after the ninth, where he was 4 down, but a dead stymie on the sixteenth green sealed his fate.

Although the day was sultry with hardly a breeze stirring, the Americans could not get going. Bobby Jones was saved by the weakness of Major Ormerod, who was continually digging the ball out of the bunker defenses surrounding the greens. Both the American and the Englishman picked up on several holes. The Atlantan was never in actual danger, and it appeared that the lack of intensive competition was responsible in part for the looseness of his playing.

Jones Picks Up at No. 4.

Jones lost the 179-yard fourth in a manner astonishing to the gallery. Neither tee shot landed on the green, but the major pitched his second successfully. Bobby studied its shot lengthily from 15 yards to the left and below the green. He finally attempted a run-up shot, but the ball caught in the bunker. Two swings with a niblick failed to extricate it, and he picked up in disgust.

On the long sixth (458 yards) the American had a perfect drive, but sent his second soaring over a wall into a woods at the left and had to retrace his steps and take the penalty of stroke and distance. He finally escaped with a half in sixes.

Jones was playing erratic golf and took 42 for the first nine holes. The two players went to the eighth tee all square, and as word went around that the American star was having difficulty with the former British army champion, crowds flocked to follow the match.

Bobby, however, took the eighth and ninth with 4s, putting him 2 up at the turn.

Ormond ....464 466 275—44

Jones pulled himself together on the homeward journey, but Major Ormerod continued to visit the bunkers and the match ended on the sixteenth green, with a half in fours.

The cards for the second nine holes:

Ormerod ....455 454 4xx—31

Sir Ernest Holderness, former British champion, defeated Allan J. Graham of the Royal Liverpool Club, 5 and 4.

Lawrence M. Lloyd of Greenwich defeated W. MacCallum 1 up.

Roger Wethered, former champion, joined Tolley and Major C. O. Hezlet on the sidelines when he was defeated by Robert Scott Jr., 3 and 2.

HOW AMERICANS FARED IN TODAY'S MATCHES

H. M. Dickson, Glasgow, eliminated Robert A. Gardner, America's cup team captain, 3 up and 2 to play.

Bobby Jones defeated Maj. C. B. Ormerod of Mid Surrey Club, 3 up and 2 to play.

E. Hoover Bankard of Chicago was eliminated, 4 up and 3 to go, by R. G. Henderson of Gullane, Scotland.

J. B. Ryerson, Chicago, scratched out of the tourney.

Douglas Grant, Californian, who has long lived in England, playing as a member of the Royal St. George's Club, defeated W. A. Powell of Addington, 4 and 3.

Watts Gunn, Atlanta, defeated F. C. Stone, England, 2 up.

Grant A. Peacock, Garden City, N. Y., defeated James Brock of Prestwick, St. Nicholas, 6 and 4.

D. H. Kyle of Roehampton defeated Roland MacKenzie of Washington, D. C., 1 up.

Jess Sweetser defeated George Renwick of Northumberland, 6 and 4.

Francis Ouimet of Boston, former American amateur and open champion, eliminated George Von Elm of Los Angeles, 3 and 2.

HORNSBY'S ANSWERS

(1) One or more men on base. Batter flies to infield. Is batter automatically out? (2) Base runner is hit by batted ball. What is the ruling?—C. P.

(1) If less than two are out and either first and second bases or first, second and third are occupied, the batter is automatically out. This is the "infield fly" rule. Under any other conditions the batter becomes a base runner.

(2) If he is hit by the ball before it is touched by a fielder, he is out.

(1) Fielder catches fly and collides with another player and falls to the ground but retains his grasp on the ball. The ball, however, is touching the ground. Is the batter out? (2) Pitcher is taken out with score 5-0 against him, three on base and none out. Relief pitcher allows two runs to score and his side loses, 7 to 6. Who is the losing pitcher?—UNSIGNED.

(1) Batter is out.

(2) The first pitcher is the losing pitcher.

32 Colleges in I.C.A.A.A.A. Meet

Golden Jubilee Event for I. C. A. A. A. A. Takes Place Friday and Saturday.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 25.—The golden jubilee of American track and field competition, the forthcoming I. C. A. A. A. A. meet, will bring 860 athletes from 32 colleges to toss the cinders from their fleet heels in the Harvard stadium Friday and Saturday.

Founded in 1876, when the first meet was run off at Saratoga, the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America has grown rapidly.

This year's meet, in addition to its anniversary flavor, is likely to be one of the greatest in years.

The Pacific Coast trio, California, Stanford and Southern California, bring East a galaxy of stars who expect to place their colleges among the first eight in the final computation of points.

Southern California, last year's winner, expects to repeat, but is considered to have formidable competition in Stanford, Yale, Harvard and Penn. Some coaches think that only 15 colleges have scoring chances, due to the fact that only the super-athletes survive the first day's trials. Besides the prospective leaders, the scorers, in the opinion of these coaches, will be California, Princeton, Syracuse, Georgetown, Cornell, Penn State, Boston College, Columbia, M. I. T. and Dartmouth.

Best Season, Says Heydler.

PEORIA MANAGER FINED FIRST TIME IN 17 YEARS OF BASEBALL CAREER

By the Associated Press.

PEORIA, Ill., May 25.—Manager (Wild Bill) Rodgers of the Peoria Tractors had his first fine during his 17 years in baseball yesterday. Rodgers protested a ruling Umpire Rife made on a hit into the record Sunday crowd at Sunday's Peoria-Springfield game and was ousted by Rife. During 15 years of his career Rodgers has served as manager and captain of clubs in the Coast, Eastern, Western and Three-I Leagues.

Teams to Meet In Practice Polo Game Tomorrow

St. Louis County Club Squad Preparing for Memphis Contest Saturday.

Members of the St. Louis Country Club polo squad will meet in a practice contest tomorrow afternoon in preparation for the engagements Saturday and Sunday with the Memphis Hunt and Polo Club.

The squad has been divided into two teams, the Reds and the Whites. The White team represents the players who will meet Memphis. Among the members is I. E. Wight Jr., member of the varsity football and baseball teams at Yale, who was graduated last year. Fred Gardner, Mahlon Wallace Jr. and Hayward Neidringhaus are others on the team. Those on the squad are: George Scott, Festus J. Wade Jr., Alex Primm Jr., E. H. Simmons, E. F. Williams, John T. Davis, Calvin Latch, Harry Papin and Harry Knight. Sam C. Davis, one of the members of the team, will be out of the line-up Saturday because of injuries.

Engagements with the Louisville and Kansas City County clubs in June and July are to follow. For 30 years the St. Louis club has been playing polo. The present playing field is at Price and Ladue roads.

Twelve broncho ponies from a Texas ranch have been brought to the city by W. P. Meadows of San Antonio, and from these have been selected the country club mounts.

No admission will be charged for the Memphis games.

Go ahead and roll 'em—with P.A.

IF YOU'VE never rolled a cigarette with Prince Albert, you're like a fellow standing in line on pay-day. You've got something good coming to you! Good? Well, that word's hardly strong enough. You've got more downright roll-your-own pleasure coming to you than you ever thought possible.

Because, P. A. makes the best little home-rolled cigarette ever. No better cigarette tobacco than Prince Albert ever curled up in a paper. It's crimp-cut and stays put. Doesn't flutter to the floor as you roll it. This is just a detai', of course. The taste is the big thing.

Cigarettes made with Prince Albert taste great. They smoke so cool and sweet, you'll want to make one right after the other. They're fragrant as honeysuckle. Never bite the tongue or parch the throat. The Prince Albert process attended to that little item right at the beginning.

Get a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of P. A. today. Make yourself some wonderful cigarettes. For variety, try a load or two of this same, wonderful tobacco in the bowl of your old jimmy-pipe. No matter how you smoke it or where, Prince Albert is a grand little pal.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

LIONS OF MISSOURI GIVE AID TO THE BLIND

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SIKESTON, Mo., May 25.—With more than 500 delegates assembled here for the fourth annual convention of the Missouri district, the Lions yesterday officially established the Missouri Lions Home Institute. This institute will be for the instructions of teachers of the blind and will be opened June 7 at the Missouri School for the Blind at St. Louis.

It is said the institute will be the only one of its kind in the country. Its establishment by the Lions is the outgrowth of a proposition made by Hal Lynch, district governor of the Lions, to the Missouri Commission for the Blind.

Supt. S. M. Green of the school at St. Louis will be in charge of the institute and courses of both technical and vocational value will be offered, each course being presented by some expert in that particular subject.

Are you trying to determine the nature of your future activities, seeking a dignified profession that requires no capital; merely a desire to work and ability to be your own boss. Part or full time; men earn from $200 to $1000 monthly. Also 10 annual renewal commissions.

National Savings Life Insurance Co., 1072 Arcade Bldg. (c62)

A SINCERE SALESMAN

We have no $25,000 jobs for salesmen.

No salesman can become one of our executives in a month.

We are not looking for the quick, slick, clean-up salesman.

We do have average salesmen earning $8000.

We do promote salesmen with sales records to executives.

We have completed our coast-to-coast territorial assignments, except a few nearby fields, and are now ready to train four salesmen, having past active sales records, to enter our work for Memphis, Little Rock, Jefferson City and St. Louis territories.

I will interview, privately, employ and train here in St. Louis, so do not consider this unless you are prepared to start AT ONCE, should a connection be agreed upon.

Let's get down to "brass tacks." We only want to interview sales men who are sincere in their desire to make a permanent connection. Remember, no quick clean-up here, but an opportunty which you will immediately recognize after talking it over with me.

Telephone or write,
W. E. BLACKSHAW,
Hotel Statler.

Yahlem's WONDERFUL CARS
ALL LATE MODELS

What Do You Want?
Truth or Bunk—Quality or Junk—

Every car sold by Yahlem is sold on the basis of TRUTH PLUS QUALITY

Yahlem Cars are actually rebuilt in their own modern plant. They are refinished in their own lacquer paint shops. In fact, they are completely renewed and backed by a guarantee.

34 genuine Yahlem values will be sold at prices that challenge competition. The prices are lower than you would expect to pay for inferior cars offered by other dealers.

Read This List:

Moon Coupe, 4-passenger. A most perfect car. Cost new $1800. Quiet motor, all tuned up. Disc wheels. Almost new. Worth every cent of $800. This is the biggest value of the season. Yahlem's big slash price for a quick sale, $550.

Buick "6" Coupe, 1924. The master 6 model. Looks and runs like a brand-new car. Has 4-wheel brakes and full equipment. Chauffeur driven and has had the best of care. Cost new $2350, and worth easy $1495. Yahlem sells, price no object. Can be bought today for $1050. Hurry for this.

Buick Sedan, 1924. Here is truly a rare offering. A 4-door sedan with 4-wheel brakes and fully equipped. Cost new $1595. Here's the big special and is marked to sell today for $650. Don't delay.

Marmon Sedan, 1925 model. Anyone contemplating the purchase of an almost new brougham will find in this car all the desired opportunity to purchase and save more than the first year's depreciation and wear. Was formerly owned by a wealthy stock broker and was sold to settle an estate. Chauffeur driven and only used as a town car, driven 4850 miles. Has many extras, and the complete car shows not a sign of use. Is ready now for any test of demonstration. Take it to the Marmon people and let them pass their judgment on it. Can be bought at a big saving if sold this week. See it, drive and you'll buy it.

Hupmobile Coupe, 1925. The best buy in town, bar none. Balloons, full equipment, and driven only 3000 miles in perfect condition throughout. Looks and runs brand new, having had the best of care. Worth every cent of $1175. Here's a Yahlem knockout for $895.

Overland Sedan, 1925, 6-cylinder model. This car is almost new in every respect. The prettiest car on the streets today. Run 4500 miles, but you'd never know it. Finished in beautiful two-tone shades. Fully equipped with balloons, 4-wheel brakes, bumpers, etc. Cost new $1250. If you want the biggest auto value of the season, hurry! Yahlem's price today is $695.

Cleveland Sport Touring, 1925, De Luxe model. Snappiest job in the country, but not too loud. Just sporty enough; 4-wheel brakes, balloons, one-shot lubrication, cozy wings, bumpers, etc. Driven only 5500 miles. Just broken in. Cost new $1200, and worth easy $950. Yahlem leads the world in price, and here's the kind that makes him a leader. Buy this car today for $675.

Velie "6" Sport Touring, 1925. Here's another De Luxe beauty. Just repainted in the beautiful green shade that all the girls are wearing this season, and nickel radiator and trimmings. The motor is so quiet you can only hear the hiss of the gas coming from the carburetor. Has 4-wheel brakes and balloons. Cost new $1595, and not worth a cent less than $1000. They can't beat Big Boy on this one. Priced for quick sale at $695.

Oakland Sedan. Here's an almost new car, in as pretty condition as any on the market, at half the cost. Has 4-wheel brakes, and run only 900 miles. Worth easily $1050. First comes, first gets at this slashed price today of $750.

Hudson Coach being given away during Yahlem's stock-moving sale. This is a feature to draw the crowds to see Yahlem's beautiful array of automobiles. This car is perfect throughout, and looks almost new. Worth every cent of $800. You can buy this car today if you hurry for $395.

Cleveland Coach, late 1924 model. Run very little, and can hardly be told from new. Has been thoroughly tested by our expert mechanics and repainted to win the heart of any fair maid. Tires are in splendid condition, and you will certainly get service out of this. Worth easily $800. Buy it today at the remarkably low price of $595.

Essex Coach. Almost new, and runs like a watch. Condition is perfect. Every detail will please the most particular persons. This same car is selling elsewhere for more than $600. Yahlem leads the world in price and quality, and here is one of his leaders. Special price during this great event, $495.

H. C. S. Jazz, De Luxe model Sport Touring. Late model, and cannot be told from new. Here's a baby you absolutely can't wear out. All we say will not do this beauty justice. If you want the hottest job in town at the best price, hurry! This $3000 car will be sold this week as a Yahlem special for $550.

Templar Sport Touring. Another red-hot buy. See this baby. Man alive, she's sure worth the money. Just think, a sport touring with plenty of power and swell looks. Runs perfect. Buy it, mister, buy it. $295. Hurry!

Chrysler De Luxe Sport Touring. You know what a Chrysler is for performance. This is a late model, and all tuned up ready to go any speed you want it. Has 4-wheel brakes, balloons and the same old snappy appearance. Worth today $1150. See it and you'll buy it for $850.

Jewett Roadster. A $1200 car at remarkable price. Another Yahlem feature to draw the crowds. Motor thoroughly gone over and not a flaw to be found. Runs like a top. You can buy this car if you hurry for $350.

THE MONTH OF MAY

This month promises to shatter all our past records in Used Car sales, and it looks as if we are about to set another high record for St. Louis.

The only contributing factor to this tremendous response by St. Louisans is the fact that every Used Car we offer for sale is

WEBER-PLEDGED!

More and more, the public is realizing that

"Weber-Pledged Used Cars"

Are Better Than Cheap New Cars

And furthermore, no other Used Cars are quite as good.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls, or answers by mail, cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

F. B.—Santi Raphael (called by the Italians Raffaelle and Raffaello, but generally in his own writings and the signing of his pictures Raphael), the Italian painter, was born in Urbino, Umbria, March 28, 1483, and died in Rome April 6, 1520. The earliest painting which can be ascribed to Raphael with some certainty is the Marriage or Betrothal of the Virgin (called "Lo Sposalizio"), at the Brera Gallery in Milan. This picture shows the Umbrian feeling, and has many resemblances to the full manner of Perugino, Raphael's master; but it is significant that no serious attempt has been made to dispute the ascription of it to Raphael himself, so great is the resemblance in the peculiar grace of its composition to the more mature works of the younger man. The most important record we have of his earliest stay in Florence, ending with his twenty-fifth year, is the Madonna with Saints in the "Ansidei Madonna," which, however, is thought to have been painted during a visit which he made to Perugia; and another Madonna, with the Goldfinch in the Uffizi; as well as a picture in the Louvre Museum at Paris, called "La Belle Jardiniere." The Madonna di San Sisto is now in the royal collection at Dresden and the Transfiguration left unfinished at his death is in the picture gallery of the Vatican. You can obtain biographies at the Public Library.

GRATEFUL STUDENT.—Venus of Milo, the most celebrated and beautiful of surviving statues of the Greek goddess Aphrodite, and perhaps the most priceless treasure of the Louvre. It is named from the Isle of Melos in the Aegean Sea, where it was found by accident in 1820. Near it was discovered the piece of the upper left arm, probably belonging to the statue, and a hand with an apple, of inferior workmanship, and an inscription with the artist's name, now lost. The statue was purchased by the Marquis de Riviere, French ambassador to Constantinople, and presented to Louis XVIII, who gave it to the Louvre. It has suffered much from time and rough treatment. Both arms are gone and the body, which is nude to the waist, and the draperies, are much battered. But so chaste and noble is the ideal and so wonderful the technical execution that the effect is incomparable to anything else in art. She is at the same time a woman of indescribable youth and beauty and the majestic incarnation of all-powerful love. The position of the goddess and the date of the origin of the statue are matters of dispute. The most likely explanation seems to be Furtwangler's that the advanced left foot rested upon a helmet and the goddess regarded herself in a shield supported on the left thigh. The statue was formerly ascribed to the age of Praxiteles, but the prevailing opinion now is that it belongs to the Hellenistic period, to the last half of the second or to the first century B. C. The sculptor has changed the type of the Aphrodite by Scopas to resemble the Melian Tyche, but under direct inspiration of the Phidian epoch. Numerous monographs and articles have been written on the subject but the best discussion is by Furtwangler.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

I. P. S.—Apply or write to the Civil Service office, room 302 Old Custom House, Third and Olive streets, regarding the position as postman. They will put your name on the list for the next examination. You would have to start at 65c an hour. They close at 1 o'clock on Saturdays.

A READER.—An officer at common law has the right to arrest without a warrant one whom he finds attempting to commit, or committing, or who has committed a felony; he can likewise arrest without a warrant for the purpose of preventing the commission of a felony; and he likewise has the right to arrest, without a warrant, one whom he has reasonable or probable grounds to suspect of having committed a felony, even though the person suspected is innocent and, generally, even though no felony has in fact been committed by anyone. The general common law rule is that, in order that an officer may be justified in making an arrest without a warrant for an offense not committed, the crime must be at least technically a felony, and the officer making the arrest must have reasonable ground for believing that the person arrested committed it. In Missouri the courts have extended the above rule, which was the common law, and have held that under Section 8953, R. S. Mo. 1919, the police of the City of St. Louis are authorized to arrest without warrant for a misdemeanor theretofore committed, although not in their presence, if the officer has reasonable grounds to suspect the person arrested as the perpetrator of the offense. See Weymeyer vs. Mulvihill, 130 S. W. 681; see also Hanser vs. Bieber, 271 Mo. 326, 197 S. W. 68.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

WORRIED.—Among the symptoms of cancer of the stomach are: Indigestion, vomiting after meals, pain in the region of the stomach, anemia and emaciation. Also the spitting up of blood usually altered into a grumous mass by the action on the blood of the gastric (stomach) juice.

WORRIED. — There are two kinds of measles, one known as morbilli ruberola or free measles. The other is known as German measles or roethelen or false measles. One attack of either of these usually immunizes, although a second and in rare instances a third attack may occur. This is especially true of German or false measles. A second attack of scarlet fever is also possible but very rare.

C. H. B.—After the initial stage, made known by a local lesion (sore) called a "chancre," the general system is involved, which of course includes the blood. If properly treated and the subject is in fairly good physical condition, syphilis is thoroughly amenable to treatment and permanent cure in the early stages. The remedies employed are for the most part a solution known as 606 separately or in conjunction with iodides and mercurials. All such cases should be cared for and treated by a physician experienced in such work, home treatment being in no way possible.

RUSSELL SCOTT BACK IN JAIL

Murderer Facing Gallows Handed Over by Asylum Officer.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Russell T. Scott today was received into the custody of Cook County courts where a sentence of death awaits him for the murder of Joseph Maurer, drug clerk, in a holdup. Dr. F. A. Stubblefield, superintendent of the Chester (Ill.) Hospital for Criminal Insane, surrendered him to the Sheriff.

Scott told Judge Brothers he had no attorney. The Judge named William Scott Stewart, who previously defended the prisoner. Scott maintained his innocence and indicated that the truth would be known when his brother, Robert, held for the same murder, is brought to trial. Russell indicated that a prominent real estate man would be a witness and would "tell the truth."

Kidnaped, Shot, Robbed of $600.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Joseph Ginsburg, professional bondsman, kidnaped from in front of his home early today, was robbed of $600, shot twice and pushed from his abductors' automobile on a deserted road near Lyons. A chest wound is regarded as serious.

Hillsboro, Mo., Man Sought Here.

Charles Clemens, who left Hillsboro, Mo., Aug. 25, last, is being sought in St. Louis by policewomen at request of James Berkley, prosecuting attorney of Hillsboro to settle an estate. At one time Clemens was supposed to live in the vicinity of Vandeventer and Forest Park avenues.

TENDER, ACHING, FEET

THE minute you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath you feel pain being drawn out and comfort just soaking in. How good your tired, swollen, burning feet feel. "Tiz" draws out the poisons that cause tender, aching feet.

"Tiz" takes all the soreness out of corns and callouses. Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store for a few cents.

End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and comfortable.

Sleeping Sickness Kills 4000.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 25.—Four thousand deaths from an epidemic of slepeing sickness has explained an apparent retardation in the growth of Corisco Presbytery in Africa. An investigation by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in America to convene here this week, has disclosed 2000 deaths of Presbyterian communicants in Elat, which supports the largest Presbyterian church in the world, and 2000 more deaths in Corisco outside of Elat. In addition to the 4000 deaths, 5000 patients are in the Elat hospitals. The communicants in Corisco Presbytery number 15,000.

Tonight

SEVERAL episodes—wholly unrelated—ranging from a special raidaptation of Schubert's "Erlkoenig" to the rollicking jollities of The Record Boys, a trio added to the Eveready Hour group for the night. Including also a treatment of A. A. Milne's fanciful picture, "A King's Breakfast" . . . Fraser-Simson's music arranged for orchestra and voices.

NET CHANGES FRACTIONAL ON CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 25.—May wheat dragged today, while deferred futures, although easy in tone, quickly bounced back from the declines. The trade has its eye on the May delivery. Small supplies and a fairly large short interest lay the way for possible fireworks before the end of the month. A short was said to have covered a sizeable line early today but found little difficulty getting the wheat. Shorts today were gathering wheat from all sources, and Kansas City was drawn upon for 40,000 bushels of No. 2 hard at May price delivered.

While these developments were going on in May, commission houses sold the deferred futures because of failure of Liverpool to respond fully to our Monday advance. On the dip there was buying stimulated by dry weather reports from the Northwest.

Cash wheat here was ⅛c to ¾c lower, with sales of No. 2 hard and No. 2 red at ¼c over new May. Foreigners were reported to be cancelling purchases of both Manitobas and hard winters. Rain was reported from North Dakota and Montana, but it was still dry in other sections.

Corn met with local pressure and stop loss selling early, causing a setback which carried July to new low ground for the season. Buying against indemnities checked the decline and caused a little recovery later. Shipping demand continued slow.

Oats were little changed. Commission houses bought deferred futures and cash houses bought the May and sold July.

Provisions were up on buying by packers. Lard was 5c to 10c higher, bellies 2½c up.

Short covering caused a late rally in wheat prices. The market became oversold on selling by locals due to reports of good rains over North Dakota. Even new May tightened at the finish when shorts tried to cover. Last prices were 1⅜c higher to ⅜c lower. New May $1.64¾ to $1.65, old $1.60; July $1.38⅝ to $1.38½, September $1.33⅝ to $1.33¾. Corn closed ⅛c to ⅜c lower. May 68⅜c, July 72⅝c to 72¾c, September 76⅜c to 76¾c. Oats were unchanged to ¼c higher. May 39¼c to 39⅜c, July 40⅜c, September 40⅜c. Lard closed 5c to 7½c higher, bellies 2½c up.

Local cash sales were 5000 bushels of wheat, 84,000 of corn, 65,000 of oats, 9000 of barley.

The seaboard reported 3000 bushels of wheat, 100,000 of rye taken for export. St. Louis sold 10,000 bushels of No. 2 red to come to Chicago.

St. Louis Hay Market.

There is little change in the timothy hay market. The demand is for the better grades, which are selling readily, and also a fair outlet for the medium grades for reshipment. Light clover mixed steady. Heavy clover mixed quiet but steady. Pure clover quiet. Alfalfa situation steady on good to choice. Prairie scarce.

Hay quotations: No. 1 timothy, $27 to $28; standard timothy, $25 to $26; No. 2 timothy, $22 to $24; No. 1 light clover mixed hay, $25 to $26; No. 2 light clover mixed hay, $23 to $24; No. 1 heavy clover mixed hay, $23 to $24; No. 2 heavy clover mixed hay, $21 to $22; No. 1 pure clover mixed hay, $23 to $24; No. 2 pure clover mixed hay, $30 to $21; choice alfalfa, $29 to $30; No. 1 alfalfa, $26 to $28; standard alfalfa, $24 to $25; No. 2 alfalfa, $21 to $22; choice prairie, $21 to $22; No. 1 prairie, $20 to $21; No. 2 prairie, $18 to $19.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, May 25.—May wheat closed 2c lower, July a fraction off and September unchanged. Corn closed lower. Comparative weakness of Liverpool and report of rain in parts of North Dakota exerted influence. There was covering after decline.

In the local cash grain market soft red wheat was 1c lower. Demand was light for selections. Ordinary qualities were dull. Hard was nominally lower. Corn was steady to 1c lower. Demand was slow. Oats were steady to ¼c lower. Demand was fair.

Fractional price declines were shown by wheat at the opening and July sold off a full point, but recovered part of it later. Liverpool closed ; to ½d higher than Friday, there having been no sessions Saturday or Monday. Winnipeg was ¼c lower to ⅛c up early. An increase of 4,600,000 bushels in wheat on ocean passage was reported. Improvement in Euro weather was reported.

May wheat opened at $1.53⅝; July wheat $1.35¼; Sept. wheat $1.32¼; July corn 72c and Sept. corn 75⅝c.

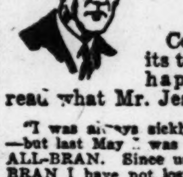
"I WAS SICKLY AND COULDN'T EAT"

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought permanent relief



Constipation takes its toll in health and happiness — but read what Mr. Jessup has to say:

"I was always sickly and could not eat —but last May I was told about Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN I have not lost a day's work. In May I weighed 109 pounds. I now weigh 135 pounds, and it's all due to eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."

J. E. Jessup, East St. Louis, Ill.

Don't let constipation sap your health, undermine your strength. It can cause over forty serious ailments! Blotchy skin, sick headaches, nervousness, anemia — are but a few of the symptoms. Beware!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve the most chronic constipation if eaten regularly. Because Kellogg's is ALL BRAN — a 100% bran product — 100% effective.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk, cream and fruit. Use it in cooking too. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan, and sold by all grocers. Served in all restaurants.

Oils and Railroad Shares Prominent in Day's Activities—More Interest in Industrials Late—Foreign Exchange Irregular.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today says:

"Continued firmness in stocks, greater irregularity in foreign exchanges, and a steadier tone in commodity prices, characterized moderately active trading in financial markets today. Signs of increased speculative interest were evident in the stock market in an expansion in the volume of sales and a substantially firmer undertone. As a result, operations for the rise were conducted with greater degree of confidence. In the bond market dealings slackened to some extent and prices eased off a trifle in some of the Government issues and in foreign bonds. Traction securities and other public utilities were in good demand, however, several reaching new peaks for the year. Rail issues also were well supported.

Wider Group Active.

"Activity spread over a wider group of securities when it became apparent that support was being maintained in usual parts of the list. Oils and rails again displayed the greatest degree of consistency, while tractions continued to demand attention. Pan-American shares, General Asphalt, Texas Co. and other independents were in good demand, but the Standard Oil issues were sluggish. Atlantic Refining showed a tendency to settle back on profit-taking. Marland and Houston were other independents that were pushed forward. The rail group was buoyed by further earnings statements, Lehigh Valley and Union Pacific statements receiving favorable attention. Lehigh reported the largest April gross receipts and net income in its history, while Union Pacific reported an increase of 24 per cent in net over last year, chiefly as the result of a substantial gain in freight traffic.

Signs of Life in Specialties.

"In response to the improved outlook Atlantic Coast Line, Nickel Plate, Delaware & Hudson, Atchison, New York Central and Louisville & Nashville worked to higher levels. Renewed activity developed in several of the recently neglected specialties, Freeport Texas, International Harvester, Postum Cereal and United Cigar Stores being more active at higher levels. Activity in Cigar Stores was attributed to buying in expectation of an extra cash dividend later in the year in a capital readjustment to give effect to increased values of realty holdings. Standard industrials were well supported. Steel and equipment shares were stronger, including Baldwin, American Car and Foundry and others. Motors were quieter and virtually free from selling pressure. Most of the active favorites moved within narrow limits.

Reaction in French Francs.

"With the reopening of European markets after the Whitsuntide recess today, trading in foreign exchanges expanded to some extent. French francs turned reactionary, falling again below 3¼c. Belgian francs eased off somewhat, while Scandinavians were a trifle lower. Sterling held steady, while Spanish rates were strong at a new high for the year in response to further progress in peace negotiations in the Riffian situation.

Commodities Irregular.

"Price fluctuations in the principal commodity markets were narrow and irregular. Corn continued to sag, losing a fraction at the close. Cotton displayed greater resistance to selling pressure, but showed litle tendency to recover lost ground, prices moving forward slightly in the afternoon."

MANY ISSUES ACTIVE AND STRONG ON CURB

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Activity and strength was shown today in many issues on the Curb Exchange. The scope of bullish activities broadened to a substantial extent and many groups that had lagged or been heavy up to the present period were established at higher levels.

The oil stocks were features in this respect. Standard Oil issues like Indiana and New York shares had a moderately higher range, although movements of those issues lately had been slow and the improvement was of a gradual character. Other oil stocks, including Mountain Producers, were in demand at around recently prevailing prices, buyers pursuing the same policy of waiting for stocks to come on the market instead of bidding higher prices in order to fill their requirements. It was suggested in one quarter that estate holdings, including large lines of Standard Oil issues, have been in process of liquidation for some time. Humble Oil was fairly active, moving up ½ and then reacting. Vacuum Oil rose a point, being one of the strongest features.

Industrials generally were in scant supply, many of them making good gains on a small volume of business. The Baking preferred stocks that had been under pressure during the periods of weakness were among the strong features. Continental A moved up about 2 points and General Baking A made a gain of over a point, while the B stocks of both companies were inactive. Goodyear Tire dropped ¾ at the start, but this loss was quickly turned into a gain. [illegible] was fairly active and there was a good volume of business in General Electric without much change in its trading position.

Several of the utility issues were improved in their position. Southeastern Power advanced nearly 2 points and a substantial gain was made in United Gas Improvement. Electric Investors and American Light and Traction also were in demand at advances.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The raw sugar market was firmer early today and while spot prices were unchanged at 4.14 shipment sugars were higher. The only sale reported was 18,000 bags of Cuban to a New Orleans refiner for early June shipment at 4.18 duty paid.

The steadier tone to the spot market led to increased covering and renewed outside buying in raw sugar futures, with prices at midday one to 2 points net higher.

Refined sugar was unchanged to 5 points higher, list quotations now ranging from 5.40 to 5.60 for fine granulated. There was no improvement in demand.

Turpentine, Flax, Linseed

Linseed oil quotations in one to four barrel lots now 12.8c per lb. for raw and 13.2c for boiled.

Chicago Stock Sales

NEW YORK, May 25.—Following is a report of today's sales, high, low and closing [illegible] Chicago Stock Exchange:

UTILITIES PROMINENT IN THE BOND MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A moderate increase in activity marked today's bond dealings but buying interest remained at a low ebb. Accumulation of high-grade railroad and other issues for investment purposes was promoted by the improvement in stock prices and the relative ease of time money rates, but this type of buying failed to lift the market out of the rut in which it had been drifting.

Public Utilities made the best showing of corporation bonds. Northern Ohio Traction and Light 6s were the feature of this group, spurting up 1½ points to a new high level at 99 on heavy buying. Local traction issues held firm around yesterday's top prices.

The revival of interest in oil company securities, following the latest advances in prices of crude and refined products, extended to the bond market, where Skelly 6½s resumed their advance with a jump of almost 2 points to 128½.

Little interest was shown in either foreign or U. S. Government obligations and prices of these issues failed to develop a definite trend.

Among the day's bond offerings was a $5,000,000 issue of Indiana Limestone Co. 10-year 7 per cent debentures, which were sold at 99.

Fidelity Settles the Question of Safety

Four years ago Fidelity First Mortgage Real Estate Gold Bonds were issued on the Gatesworth Apartment, St. Louis, for $850,000—just 58% of our appraised value. Last month these bonds were recalled at 103 and the property refinanced by another house for $1,050,000! Despite four years of depreciation, the loan value of this property has increased 25%.

Now, even the most inexperienced investor will understand how thoroughly, conservative financing protects the holder of Fidelity Bonds.

Less cautious, less conservative, Fidelity could have greatly increased loan on the Gatesworth four years ago; but our reputation and the safety of your investment are prime considerations. Both must be unassailable. Knowing these facts, can you be satisfied with securities less safe?

Keep in mind, too, that in addition to a margin of safety seldom equalled by any other form of investment, the Fidelity Bond and Mortgage Co. unconditionally guarantees the payment of principal and interest of every Fidelity Bond.

In our booklet, "Your Money—Its Safe Investment" all of the steps of preparing and issuing Fidelity Bonds are clearly explained. Shall we send you a copy?

LIBERTY CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY, ST. LOUIS, TRUSTEE

For detailed information in regard to these bonds attention is directed to a letter from Mr. Wiley F. Corl, President of the Company, which is available on request and which he has summarized substantially as follows:

Business: Louisiana Ice & Utilities, Inc., was recently incorporated under the laws of Louisiana, to purchase and consolidate under one management ice and utilities properties located in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Texas. The Company is primarily engaged in the manufacture and sale of artificial ice. Most of the products are distributed through its own delivery system, which serves 25 communities, having an urban population in excess of 200,000, with ice at retail. It also does considerable icing or reicing of cars for the following railroads: Missouri Pacific, Texas & Pacific, Gulf Coast Lines, and the American Refrigerator Transit Company. It operates electric light and power plants in three communities.

Security: Upon completion of this financing, the Company will own and operate 18 ice manufacturing plants, having a daily capacity of approximately 1100 tons, with ice storage capacity of 20,000 tons and refrigeration warehouse capacity of 710,000 cu. ft.

These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of Counsel, by a direct first mortgage on all the fixed assets of the Company, now owned and to be acquired by this financing, and will be the Company's only funded debt. All fixed assets hereafter acquired will, as provided in the mortgage, be subjected to the lien thereof. According to an appraisal as of January 31, 1926, by Stone & Webster, Inc., the depreciated replacement value of the mortgaged property is $5,357,800, equivalent to $2678 per $1000 bond.

Earnings: The net sales and net earnings before depreciation and interest of properties now owned and to be acquired by this financing, as certified to by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Company were as follows:

	Net Sales	Net Earnings
Year ending January 31, 1925	$1,541,979	$355,875
Year ending January 31, 1926	1,899.104	484,348

As shown above, net earnings for the year ended January 31, 1926, were $484,348, or in excess of 4 times annual interest requirements on this issue.

Conversion Privilege: The Company has entered into an agreement with the Commonwealth Utilities Corporation, incorporated under the laws of Delaware, whereby bonds of the Convertible 6% Series A will be convertible at the holders' option into Class A Common Stock of the Commonwealth Utilities Corporation, on the following basis: Up to December 31, 1926, 24 shares of stock for each $1000 principal amount of bonds; up to December 31, 1927, 20 shares of stock for each $1000 principal amount of bonds; and up to December 31, 1936, 16 shares of stock for each $1000 principal amount of bonds.

Sinking Fund: A sinking fund beginning April 1, 1929, will retire approximately 40% of this issue before maturity. Bonds retired through the sinking fund will be cancelled.

Legal details subject to the approval of Messrs. Fisher, Boyden, Kales and Bell of Chicago, and Messrs. Fordyce, Holliday and White of St. Louis. Offered on, when, as and if issued and accepted basis.

These Bonds are listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange

Price 97½ and accrued interest, to yield about 6.25%.

Full information respecting this offering is given in a circular which will be forwarded on request.

WILD GEESE

SYNOPSIS.

Lind Archer, the new schoolteacher, arrives at the farm home of the Gares, where she is to board.

She finds a family cruelly domineered over by the close fisted farmer Caleb Gare, wealthy and ruthless in all his dealings.

(Copyright, 1926.)

CHAPTER TWO.

FAR out across the prairie a lantern was swinging low along the earth, and dimly visible was the squat, top-heavy form of a man. It was Caleb Gare. He walked like a man leaning forward against a strong wind. He frequently went out alone so, with a lantern; no one knew where, nor why; no one asked. Judith had once told Amelia scornfully that it was to assure himself that his land was still all there . . . .

Caleb pressed on through the half-dark, leaning forward as if against some invisible obstacle. Presently he came to a ridge from which he could look east and west, north and south, up the land that was his; the two tame hayfields, separated from each other by a neck of timber belonging to Fusi Aronson (it would be well to own that timber, a fine stand it was); the dark, newly plowed furrows where in another five months the oats would again be stirring like a tawny sea under the sun; the acres where barley and rye would be sown for cattle feed, vanishing into the blue night toward the south; the small rectangle of wheat that he raised for chicken feed; the acres of narrow woodland stretching northward like a dark mane upon the earth; and the good, flat grazing land with two bluffs, that might have extended farther westward had it not encountered the holdings of that miser, Thorvald Thorvaldson; and, beyond the muskeg and a dried lake-bottom, his cherished field of flax.

Southeast, under the ridge, bottomless and foul, lay the muskeg, the sore to Caleb's eye. In the heat of summer it gave up sickly vapors in which clouds of mosquitoes rose. Cattle and horses, breaking through the pasture fence and heading for the hayfield, had disappeared beneath its spongy surface. South of it lay his flax field, the most precious part of all his land. To get rid of the useless land and buy in its place the neck of timber held by Fusi Aronson: that was an honest ambition and one to be achieved. That Fusi Aronson would part with his right hand rather than sell him a square inch of ground, Caleb knew all too well. But many a better man had been glad to part with a right hand in certain exigencies. There was the little matter of Bjorn Aronson's slight dishonesty, for instance, that was not generally known in the community—that little discrepancy in Bjorn's moral balance that hurt Fusi more than any other thing on earth. What a comfort it was to Fusi that Bjorn was now one of the trustees of the Yellow Post church fund, a connection that would surely brace his manhood and beat into him a true metal. Caleb smiled as he thought of the trusting Fusi. Something might come up that could be used to good advantage. Somehow he would use brother against brother . . . he would wait.

Caleb felt a glow of satisfaction as he stood there on the ridge peering out over his land until the last light had gone. He could hold all this, and more—add to it year after year—add to his herd of pure-bred Holsteins and his drove of horses—raise more sheep—experiment with turkey and goose for the winter markets in the south—all this as long as he held the whip-hand over Amelia. Amelia's word would start the children, then it would be all over—the results of his labor would be swept from these fields like chaff from a barn floor. He was too old to carry on alone. Hired help was worse than none—lazy, treacherous, rapacious. As long as he kept track of the outcome of that little folly of hers. . . . And, so far, he had managed very well. True, he might at any time lose that little contact—the boy, good Lord! he must be a man now—might even die. He had come out of the war safely, in spite of Amelia's praying. . . . oh, no doubt the woman had prayed that he would die! But it was an uncertain world. Amelia, she was a soft fool, thank God! Not many women would be so conveniently sentimental and self-sacrificing for the sake of a son born out of wedlock—and that son a man grown, and a stranger to his own mother. Well, if she was loth to have Mark Jordan learn of his parentage, Caleb Gare would not reveal it to him—providing that Amelia kept her place and did not force him to. . . . Mark Jordan was a fine young fellow, too, according to Bart Nugent. Bart had kept track of him very well, in the town where Caleb was unable to do his own spying. The good fathers in the mission had taken Amelia's story for truth, and Mark had grown up with the solid idea that he was the last of a family of saints. There was a joke for you! The war had saved the boy from the priesthood, Bart Nugent had thought, and it had also radically altered his philosophy. He had always been interested in architecture, and had gone into it seriously after the war. Bart had written that a nervous disorder had lately developed in Mark Jordan from over-work, and that he might take to farming for a spell. Perhaps—the coincidence was not beyond thought. . . . It might not be well, however. . . . Amelia might weaken if she saw him. There was no guessing what a woman's reactions might be. Amelia had loved the boy's father, that he knew. The knowledge had eaten bitterly into his being when he was a younger man and had sought to possess Amelia in a manner different from the way in which he possessed her now. In that earlier passion of the blood he had found himself eternally frustrated. The man who had been gored to death by a bull on his own farm in the distant south had taken Amelia's soul with him, and had unwittingly left her bearing in her body the weapon which Caleb now so adroitly used against her. His control over her, being one of the brain only, although it achieved his ends, also at moments galled him with the reminder that the spirit of her had ever eluded him.

Caleb lifted the lantern and examined the wick. Things would turn out to his liking. He would hold the whip hand. Judith, yes, she was a problem. She had some of his own will, and she hated the soil . . . was beginning to think she was meant for other things. . . . getting high notions, was Judith. She would have to be broken. She owed him something . . . owed the soil something. The twins, they would stay—no fear of their deserting. Martin and Ellen would not dare to leave; there was no other place for them. And Amelia, she was easy . . . yes, she was easy. Amelia was!

Caleb glanced again at the coveted bit of woodland, and crossed the ridge toward home. After he had crawled through the barbed wire fence that surrounded the second hayfield he turned down the wick and blew out the flame in the lantern. No need of wasting oil. . . .

Lind woke to the comfortable drowsiness of farmhouse lofts and piece quilts, and the inarticulate outdoor sounds of early spring mornings. Something had wakened her. She did not know then that it was the three knocks of the broom handle upon the ceiling of the room below, which was nothing else but the planks of the loft floor.

She lifted herself upon her elbow and looked down upon the dusky rose cheek of the girl beside her. Judith was more than three years younger than Lind, but somehow there was a wisdom that Lind did not share in the bountiful, relaxed beauty of her body as she lay asleep. An intangible fragrance rose from her, like warmth. Like the warmth of milk, or newly mown hay. Lind touched her lightly to waken her. Jude's eyes slowly opened, veiled like a waking child's. She yawned and stretched her round, strong arms above her head. Then she turned over on her stomach and lay for a few moments without speaking. Lind got out of bed and prepared to wash.

'I hate to get up," Jude declared from the pillows. "Some day I'm going to have a silk bed and lie in it forever, and hear cows bellowing right at my elbow and know I don't have to get up to water 'em."

Lind laughed at the absurd picture, while she saw the pathos in it. Three more knocks sounded peremptorily against the floor, and the teacher turned questioningly toward Jude.

Judith drew herself lazily out of bed and began to pull on her stockings under her nightgown.

"You'd better hurry," she said to Lind. "There goes Ellen down."

Lind wrinkled her brows. "You don't mean that I must hurry?"

"He won't let breakfast be kept for anybody," Jude told her briefly.

Lind was thoroughly amazed. "But it must be only 5 o'clock! Whatever shall I do every morning until nine?" she exclaimed.

"Hm-p!" Jude retorted, relishing the perverse contempt she felt for the teacher together with her admiration and envy. "You might milk a cow or two or chase skunks. There's lots of 'em in the bush. That's Pete after one now. Hear him barkin'? The smell ain't bad—isn't bad—when you get used to it."

The teacher shook herself free from the annoyance she felt at Caleb's rigor, and resolved to make the best of it. After all, it was rather amusing.

Breakfast, it turned out, was a meal eaten in almost complete silence. It was a fixed duty discharged without zest. Except Judde, the children did not seem half awake. The toil of the day before hung about them still like a tedious dream.

"Guess we'll plow up that fallow field over east, after all, Martin," Caleb said, settling back in his chair while he wiped his moustache with his hand. "Jude can start it all right this morning, eh, Martin?"

Martin continued eating his porridge. He was a slow eater, as he was a thinker. He could not quite appraise the meaning of his father's words. It was folly to seed the worn-out east field this spring. And as for Jude's plowing it—it was a heavy field, full of stones, difficult enough for a man. And hadn't there been talk of Jude continuing morning school as she had done last year, so that she might write her entrance examinations?

"Well—" Martin began solemnly. His face reddened as he found himself unable to protest. "Guess I could do it. Kind o' tough for Jude."

"Tough for Jude? Pshaw! Hear that, Jude? He says you can't do it! Guess there ain't a field that'd stump you, eh, Jude? Some girl, that, Miss Archer. Look at the arm on her! Bigger'n mine. Heh! Heh!"

It was the first time he had addressed Lind that morning. The teacher shrank from the tyranny so thinly veiled behind his jocularity. She ventured to smile at Judith who appeared not to have heard her father's sally.

After breakfast, Judith went out to milk, and Lind accompanied her. The cow pen was overhung at one end by weeping willows, which were putting forth tiny buds. Judith led her cow to that extremity of the pen.

"It's a little prettier over here," she explained.

The cattle sheds and the shelters for the other animals were all of gray logs, the low roofs sodded and showing faintly green now, although it was still cold and raw. The ruts of the cow pen, since there had been no rain or snow for weeks, were hard as cement, and reminded Lind of the relief maps children made at school. The deep tracks of the cattle were almost indistinguishable from the human tracks intermingled with them. The cold of winter had fixed them there and only the rains of spring would wash them away.

"When did you stop school, Judie?" Lind asked. She had seated herself on a stone near the girl, and was watching the straight white stearm of milk striking the bottom of the pail with a thin churring round. The cow's flanks wese satiny. The animal looked over her shoulder with a round, vague inquiry, and went on chewing her cud.

"Went half a day last year—every morning. Guess I won't go at all this year. He hasn't said lately. He talked some about it during the freeze-up and it sort of cheered me up then. But I guess he didn't mean anything by it."

Lind felt her indignation mounting once more against Caleb. This was criminal, denying the girl what education was at hand.

"Oh, my dear, hasn't your mother a thing to say about it? Do you want to go?"

"Wantin' and goin' is two different things," she replied, looking into the pail between her knees.

"But, Judith," Lind said earnestly, bending toward her, "is there no way to arrange for your going—can he not do without you here?"

"He can, but he won't. There is no use talkin'." Judith shifted her great body on the milk stool. She seemed to have grown suddenly shy, with this talk that lay so close to her inmost desires.

Lind rose and touched Jude's shoulder. As she did so Caleb appeared from the end of the barn. He glanced sharply toward the girls once, then looked studiously away.

"You'd best go. He ain't likin' you being here," said Judith.

Feeling helplessly a culprit, Lind picked her way back across the rutted ground. She decided to go early to the school house and air the place thoroughly before the children came. It would give her something to do.

Remoulade Sauce.

This is a good sauce to use for a fish salad. Mash the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs smooth, then add the yolk of a raw egg to them. Add salt, pepper and a level teaspoonful of mustard, when mixed work in slowly a half cupful of olive oil. Set the bowl in a pan of cracked ice for the mixing. Stir until smooth, then add a tablespoonful of taragon vinegar, then a quarter cupful more oil and then two tablespoonfuls of cider vinegar. Continue to stir, finally adding the chopped whites of the eggs and a minced gherkin pickle. Keep the sauce cold until used.

Three-Minute Journeys

By Temple Manning

WHERE WOMEN TATTOO THEIR BODIES.

THE custom of tattooing the body is common to almost all primitive tribes. But usually the custom is limited to the male members.

Among the Fellaheen of Egypt, the women tattoo their bodies, too. It is part of an elaborate system of decoration. They blacken their eyelids with antimony and decorate their bodies with paint as well as the tattooing. The hair is braided and bound, some of the braids covering the sides of the head and the rest hanging freely down the back. Golden pins and combs, fringed with rows of ducats, tiny bells and gold flakes fasten the hair. Cords of silk, decorated with spangles and gold coins, tie the ends of the tresses.

A loose white robe, extending from the shoulders to the feet, is the chief article of clothing; but the effect of the whole is most decorative and elaborate.

The harem is still an essential part of life among the Fellaheen. Polygamy is allowed and divorce is very easy. But the women in their harems do not live lives of slavery nor of indolence. They have their duties and they have their pleasures. It is true that they can only walk abroad when they are veiled or under a canopy, but they have great wide court yards in which they can parade at will.

They have the household work to do, the cooking, washing and sewing. During the morning they call on each other, talk, sing, smoke and drink coffee. Their lives are pleasant, if they are uneventful.

Marriage is still a matter of parental arrangement to a great extent. The boys are usually about 15 or 16 when they get married and the girls from 12 to 14. Even though the bride and groom never see each other until just before the ceremony that is to unite them, they have the privilege then of calling off the entire match.

The father of the groom presents the father of the bride with a sum of money at the time of a marriage, but the money is used to furnish the bride's trousseau, so that there is no question of marriage by purchase.

Altogether it is doubtful whether the women of the Fellaheen feel that they are much abused by the restrictions which are placed upon them.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

IN TRIAL.

SO MANY, many little things fill up each busy day, the hours hasten as on wings with stress of work and play. So much of loveliness to grace the journey that we make, so much of beauty's self to trace in every road we take. So many thoughts of pride and gain crowd closely round us here that few the hours which remain for ones we hold most dear. And thus it goes from day to day in tranquil times of life when all our bright, accustomed way is free from care or strife; but with the trials life must bring to all the human race these lesser joys and hopes take wing and love gains rightful place. For then we seek the well loved few to ease our woe and pain, we turn to friendships old and true, we need old faiths again.

The firefly only shines when on the wing. So it is with man; when once we rest, we darken.—Bailey.

Steady Casters.

Casters that are always falling out of a piece of furniture when it is moved are a nuisance. But they can be put in to stay a while by first removing the caster, then pouring melted paraffin into the opening, and, as it starts to set, force in the caster, adjusting it in place. Allow it to harden well before placing furniture back on its feet.

Sheer coats of georgette trimmed with feathers or ribbon promise to be much worn this summer.

Coats of wool velour, broadcloth, quilted charmelaine or black satin are shown by one shop. These coats are cut very straight, and have not a particle of trimming.

Tulle trimmed with ruchings of the same color or of contrasting shades of the same color, fashions a group of very delicate summer dance frocks.

There are nearly as many women druggists as men in Berlin and the indications are that the time is ont far distant when the feminine sex in this profession will outnumber the men.

Start now to improve your skin

Try cleansing once a day at least with the new Armand Eau de Cologne Cleansing Cream. See how fresh and clear your complexion will become. Even for blackheads and skin troubles, specialists advise, along with corrective diet and health measures, strictest skin cleanliness. This cream—safe and pure—will be a help. It combines eau de cologne and light, medicinal oils, making an entirely new cream with wonderful cleansing properties and a refreshing, delightful fragrance. At leading drug stores, 50c and $1.00 per jar, or write Armand Co., Des Moines, for free trial sample, enclosing 2-cent stamp.

SECRETS OF HEALT AND SUCCES

BY CHARLES A. L. REED, M.D.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASS

IF OUR child is unduly troublesome it may be a moral delinquent.

The existing system for reforming wrongdoers leaves a great deal to be desired.

Wrongdoing is largely bound up with morbid conditions of mind and body.

An important percentage of delinquents are mentally defective, and hence as a rule morally defective.

But probably a still larger number suffer from functional nervous disorders.

Psychological treatment will do much to improve these, especially where the moral instability is bound up with a nervous constitution.

These children are often sensitive to good influence and docile if properly treated.

Physical disorder can also produce moral delinquency. Thus a well behaved and tractable child may develop alarming moral behavior after an attack of sleeping sickness. Tuberculosis and heart disease can also cause a moral upheaval leading to vice and immorality. The toxic results of influenza and other infections may produce a form of insanity where the social tendencies are inhibited and the primitive instincts have full play.

Many children who are blamed at school for fidgets, restlessness and inattention are suffering from minor nervous disorders. Teachers can often testify to the improvement that follows removal or cure of diseased tonsils or the correction of defective vision and hearing.

Many young people commit serious and repeated offenses, but are, fortunately, never brought before a court, either because they escape detection through cunning or their parents are reluctant to expose them.

An urgent necessity for cases of this kind is a psychological clinic to which parents can apply for advice under the protection of strict confidence. This would enable nervous disorders to be treated in their earliest stages and save considerable pain and trouble in later years.

The attempt to cure children of nervousness and other peculiar weaknesses by shouting or laughing at them and making them foolish cannot be sufficient cated. Kind treatment and thetic help is the only trea any value.

Strict and narrow may cramp a child's na stincts and force it into h pocrisy, stealing and bad and so to open rebellion.

Wrongdoing is a sympt ease and not in itself hered children of bad stock likely to prove criminal th of healthy parentage.

Improvement in the life in towns will do more thing else to turn the children away from healthy channels.

Education of the parent child in the problems and of life is also an essential health. Spoiling and pamp the only child, or the eld or the youngest child, or child, causes nervous dis that shows itself in dis bad temper, conceit and sel

LEMON JUICE WHITENS THE SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It cannot irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It cannot be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

MEDITATIONS —OF A— MARRIED WOMAN

By HELEN ROWLAND

HUSBANDS—AND MONEY

NINE-TENTHS of the divorces are founded right on the dollar-bill.

A man will tell the woman he loves all about his past, his religion, his sufferings, his digestion, and his sins—but he will never tell her anything about his BUSINESS or his money.

There seem to be just three kinds of husbands in the world.

Those who hand over their weekly salary check to the "Little Woman," keep their bank accounts in "the Wife's name—and then have to beg for car fare.

Those who regard a wife as a bond servant, squeeze a quarter until it hurts, and dole out the pennies like radium.

And those who "throw money around like a Prince," no matter WHOSE money it is, and have to rob the baby's bank every Tuesday.

The wives of the first love them—and boss them.

The wives of the second hate them—and cheat them.

The wives of the third nag them, weep over them—and finally divorce them.

Any man who hands over his last cent to his wife, hands over his freedom, and makes her his "keeper," his guardian, and his jailor. The hand that holds the purse strings is the hand that rules the family! And no matter how much a woman may love a man who puts himself in her power, she can't help subconsciously losing a little of her respect for him.

* * *

But the "pinchpenny" husband is not merely despised, he is hated. Hating a pinchpenny husband becomes an obsession after a few years; and a woman will take time off from her housework to do it. It's the only real pleasure she has!

* * *

All that a woman asks of the man she loves is that he will SHARE things with her. But, that is the last thing a man ever thinks of doing. He would rather play "Santa Claus," and "give" her things that he can't afford, than to share his business secrets with her.

* * *

The only way the average wife ever finds out anything about her husband's business is by worming it out of his stenographer; and the only way she ever discovers his real income, his real thoughts, and his real secrets, is by going through his safety vault—after he is dead.

* * *

That is why so many wives are afflicted with the "gimmes." A man may look upon his wife as a "pet," a luxury, a liability or a household utensil; as a cherished possession or a bitter dispensation—but never as a PARTNER.

* * *

No matter how much money a woman may be able to MAKE, or to save, you never can convince a man that she "knows how to handle it."

* * *

Yet no man and woman can really know each other until they have had to SHARE the same dollar bill! That's why so many husbands and wives live and die, total strangers!

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

Johnny Meets Old Jed Thumper

Knowledge is from others gained,
And thus may wisdom be attained.
—Johnny Chuck.

JOHNNY CHUCK decided to go back to the hole he had dug under some rocks over in the Old Pasture and call it a day. He had met Old Man Coyote, he had met Reddy Fox and he had met Jimmy Skunk. The result was that Johnny's nerves were a little shaken. He felt that he didn't want to meet any more that day. So, after parting from Jimmy Skunk, Johnny went back to that hole he had dug and sat down on the little heap of sand which formed his doorstep. It was sunny there and Johnny likes the sun.

"I don't think the Old Pasture's a very safe place," muttered Johnny to himself. "I don't think I care to stay here. I think the sooner I get back on the Green Meadows the sooner I will feel really comfortable. I wonder if Polly Chuck has missed me. I wonder what she thinks has become of me. I wonder if she's been out looking for me. It must be a long way back to the Old Orchard. I suppose that if I want to see the Old Pasture now is the time to do it, because I don't suppose I'll ever get back here again. I must say I like to be able to look around me. I don't like being shut in where I can't see in all directions. How any one can feel at all safe in such a place as this I don't understand, but I suppose there are those who do. I suppose there are those who think the Old Pasture really is a safe place."

"The safest place in the world," said a voice behind Johnny, and then there was a thump that made Johnny almost turn a back somersault in order to get inside his hole. Never had he been more startled. It was some minutes before he even dared poke his nose outside that he might look around and see who had frightened him so. When at length he did look out, there was no one to be seen excepting a big gray old Rabbit sitting up at the edge of a tangle of brambles a few feet away.

"Where did you come from?" he demanded at length

Johnny stared most impolitely at the gray old Rabbit. "Where did you come from?" he demanded at length.

"That isn't the question at all," retorted the gray old Rabbit. "I belong here. The question is, where did you come from?"

"That's my business," growled Johnny Chuck. "Were you the one who said that this is the safest place in the world? Because if you did, you don't know what you are talking about."

"How long have you been here?" inquired the gray old Rabbit.

"Not long, but long enough," retorted Johnny Chuck.

The gray old Rabbit grinned. "I've lived here all my life," said he. "So you must admit that I ought to know. If it were not a safe place, I wouldn't have been alive long enough to grow old and gray. When a Rabbit can live to be old and gray he must be living in a safe place. If you don't like it up here, what did you come for?"

"I didn't come," replied Johnny. "I was brought up here." Then, because he really wanted to talk to some one, he told the story of how he had been caught in the trap by Farmer Brown's Boy over in the Old Orchard and set free in the Old Pasture.

The old gray Rabbit listened attentively. Finally, he asked a question.

"Do you know Peter Rabbit?" he inquired. Of course, Johnny replied that he did. "Do you know Mrs. Peter?" was the next question. Again Johnny nodded and said that he did. "Well," said the old gray Rabbit, "I'm Mrs. Peter's father."

"Oh!" exclaimed Johnny, "then you must be Old Jed Thumper. I've heard Peter and Mrs. Peter tell about you."

"Yes," replied the old gray Rabbit, "I'm Jed Thumper."

Anchovy Butter Sauce.

Melt a cupful of butter over a basin of hot water; when melted, skim and strain through a damp piece of cheesecloth. Reheat and add to the butter a teaspoonful of anchovy essence, and a little cayenne pepper. The sauce must be served as soon as possible after making and in a hot, covered boat. This is very good served with broiled fish.

Fish Stock Sauce.

Melt a heaping tablespoonful of butter and stir into it a tablespoonful of flour. Cook gently for three minutes, then put in a cupful of hot fish stock, when smooth, pour in a cupful of hot milk, stir until smooth and the right thickness, then add a tablespoonful of washed and drained capers. Serve in a hot sauce boat. Suitable for any of the boiled white fishes.
